RESERVE STRENGTH

A Banking Institution consistently builds up a healthy reserve.

The same should apply to business concerns and to individuals. You should make it your duty to put away a certain sum regularly as a cash reserve against future need.

Cash in the bank is not only a defence in emergency, but an index of strength of character. The longer you save, the greater your self-confidence and self-reliance.

It will prove profitable and wise to begin building a reserve by opening a Savings Account in this institution.

DR. PELOUBET DEAD

Noted Religious Author passes away at Auburndale

Rev. Francis N. Peloubet, D.D., who died at his home in Auburndale, on March 27th has been prominent in Sunday School work for nearly 50 years. From the beginning of his work as a pastor he was especially interested in the young people of his parishes, helping them not only in their religious life but also assisting them in their education and entering into all their activities. Perhaps it was as an outgrowth of this interest that he began the work that finally gave him an international reputation.

Dr. Peloubet was born in New York City on Dec. 2, 1831, of French descent, and was the oldest son, one of nine children, of Chabrier and Harriet (Hanks) Peloubet. In the early days of his boyhood the family moved to Bloomfield, N. J., where he attended school, preparing for college in the Bloomfield Academy. He was one of the fortunate men whose college course at Williams was under the presidency of Dr. Mark Hopkins. Graduating with honors in 1853, receiving later Phi Beta Kappa, he afterward entered Bangor Theological Seminary and was ordained into the Congregational Ministry in 1857. The University of Tennessee honored him with the degree of D.D. in 1884, and in 1913, when he returned to celebrate

GIRL SCOUTS

Give an Enjoyable Exhibition at Waban Neighborhood Club

It was a happy crowd that left the clubhouse in Waban last Friday evening after a most enjoyable evening with the Scouts. The entertainment consisted of four numbers: First, a semaphore flag drill in which eight scouts with a color-bearer and two drummers marched on to the stage and signalled "The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag"; Second, "The Frog Who Would A-Wooing Go", managed by Lieutenant Burnham. The part of the frog was admirably done by Scout Esma Brown and others who took part were Scouts Beatrice Piser, Harriet Bond, Emily Piser, Catherine Chamber and Elizabeth Parker;

LABOR UNREST

Discussed at Eliot Church Forum by Mrs. Davis R. Dewey

Labor unrest with its causes was the topic discussed by Mrs. Davis R. Dewey, formerly member of the State Board of Labor and Industries, at the Eliot Church Forum last Sunday.

Mrs. Dewey stated that in her opinion, the unrest in industry following the war, and the great problem of readjustment must be settled by the thinking people who belong neither to capital nor to labor, but for an intermediate class. She said that what we must strive for is "the square deal" not only for labor, as is frequently meant by that expression, but for capital also.

MRS. MITCHELL DEAD

Mr. Angelina G. Mitchell, widow of Rev. Seth K. Mitchell, died Saturday morning at the home of her son-in-law, William H. Breed, 952 Beacon street, Newton Centre. She had been ill for a month. Mrs. Mitchell was born in Bradford and lived many years in Haverhill, where her husband was a manufacturer, who, late in life, was ordained to the Baptist ministry. At one time he was chaplain of all the hospitals in Boston. For fifteen years Mrs. Mitchell had made her home in Newton. Besides her daughter, she leaves four sons, Herbert V. Mitchell and Walter K. Mitchell, both of Roxbury; Robert H. Mitchell, of Haverhill, and Howard A. Mitchell, of Swampscott.

Funeral services were held at her late residence on Monday at 2 P. M., the Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle, officiating. Miss Isabelle C. Melville, contralto at the First Baptist Church sang. The burial was at Haverhill, Mass.

DEATH OF MRS. HEAD

Mrs. Helen W. G. Head, wife of Mr. Alden F. Head, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin W. Gansse died on Tuesday at the Newton Hospital.

Mrs. Head was well known in Newton having graduated with a brilliant record from the Newton High School, and later from Smith College. In college she was a remarkable student, and was particularly interested in dramatics, taking part in the Senior Dramatics in 1916.

After her graduation, she taught for two years in Miss Haskell's School. Two years ago, she married Mr. Alden F. Head, a graduate of Bowdoin College and a prominent merchant of Bangor, Me.

Mrs. Head took part in many of the plays given by "The Players" and by the "Lend-A-Hand Society." One of her best known parts was "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Last year she took the part of the Prince and the Pauper in the play of that name given in Jordan Hall for the benefit of Smith College.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the Newton Cemetery Chapel at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of the Harvard Congregational Church officiating.

Of Indian Origin.

The powerful political organization "Tammany" was named after the Indian chief "Tamanand" of the Delaware tribe, who was famous for his virtues and wisdom. The Tammany society was founded in New York city May 12, 1782, and became identified with the Republican, now the Democratic party.

The annual gymnastic exhibition of the physical department of the Newton Y. M. C. A. will be held in the gymnasium Thursday night, April 8, at 8.00.

An all-round program by all classes will be given including fancy marching, gymnastic dancing, apparatus work, races, and games. Some of the special features will be a volley ball game by the Business Men's class, Newton vs. Watertown, game of cage ball by the senior class, pyramid building, apparatus work, and tumbling by a special group of seniors, clown stunts, an exhibition of the many art of self-defense by two clever boxers, a highly trained bear and elephant of human intelligence. These animals are inclined to act rather wild at times but management assures the public that their capable trainers will hold them in check and prevent any serious casualties.

During the intermission athletic certificates will be presented to members of the A class who have shown ability in an all-round test. A shield will be presented the class B team having scored the greatest total points in all-round competition.

NEWTON COMMUNITY CLUB

Community Club! Community Club! Born out of chaos, close to the Hub. What's on your escutcheon, is it the dove?

Soaring towards Heaven in peace, hope and love?

Or is it the lamb? that wins not through strife; But calmly appeases, when the world seems rife

With hatred and envy, malice and spite, Yet God in His goodness guides all things right.

Community Club! Community Club! Born in the Garden City of love, The flower of womanhood, blossom and bud, Radiating sunshine, and hope from above.

Theirs, to redeem the world, onward they press, Lightening the burdens of those in distress, Singing to weary hearts, cheering the oppressed, Community Club, must be forever blessed.

AGNES ELEANOR WHEELER, Newton, Mass.

DEATH OF MISS SHERMAN

Miss Ethel Sherman of 472 Walnut street, Newtonville, who died at the Massachusetts General Hospital on Sunday was the daughter of the late Austin G. and Rebecca (Briggs) Sherman. She was born in Newtonville, July 9, 1890. She prepared for college in the Newton public schools, graduating from Vassar College in 1912, and two years later she took the course at the Boston School of Social Work. After her graduation in 1915 Miss Sherman devoted practically all her time to social service work. She was interested in the various social agencies in Newton but gave her greatest effort towards furthering the work of the Newton Welfare Bureau. For three years she was a full time volunteer for that organization, and, later, over a period of several months assumed the responsibilities of general secretary. She became a director of the Bureau in 1918, and continued to give freely of her time and strength to its work. She was a member of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, and was closely identified with all its activities.

Miss Sherman had been ill with influenza and pneumonia for six weeks but her condition had not been considered serious. She is survived by three sisters, Miss Louise Sherman, and Miss Marian Sherman of Newtonville, Mrs. Arthur Blake of Portland, and Mr. Harold Sherman of Newtonville. Her oldest sister, Miss Louise Sherman is at Tripoli, Syria, where, since the spring of 1919 she has had charge of relief work under the American committee for Relief in the Near East.

The funeral services were held in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Lichter conducted the services. The interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

NEW PASTOR

Rev. W. Braseres, for the last four years pastor of the School Street Methodist Church in Gorham, Me., has accepted a call to the Methodist Church in Newton, Mass. He will succeed the Rev. Henry H. Crane, whom he also succeeded in Gorham. Mr. Braseres was born in Ohio and was graduated from the Wesleyan University in the state and the Boston University Theological School. He also took a special course at Harvard. He has served churches in Delaware, Ohio, and Boston.

COPELEY THEATRE.—G. Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" will be the next play to be presented by Henry Jewett's company at the Copley Theatre. The comedy will be given with the same cast as before, barring one or two characters. "Pygmalion" is one of those plays that tests the resources of the Copley stage, but Mr. Jewett, it will be recalled, gave it such an adequate production on its previous presentation that scenically, as well as in the general manner of interpretation, it called forth the heartiest approval from everybody.

TOE NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday, March 24, the three upper classes were present at the presentation of the two awards made to pupils in the Classical High, who won prizes in the Thrift Contest. Mr. Adams opened the morning by speaking on the great value of saving, how it helps to cultivate the best habit one may acquire and breeds the idea of thrift, which is so necessary for those who are in high school. Mr. Richardson, who made the presentation in behalf of the Newton Trust Co., added a few words along this line and explained how the prizes were awarded, two to each of the three high schools and the largest to one of these schools. This grand prize, he said, was for the best essay of the six selected, and which essay certainly was of great value in its literary composition. The other prize which was half the amount of the grand prize was made to Karl Hartzell of Newton, who is a sophomore. Miss Knapp the winner of the other prize has been exceptionally good in her literary work during her course in the school, as shown by compositions which have appeared in the school publications, and she well deserves this reward for the best "Thrift Essay."

Communications have come from Amherst telling about an offer in the line of scholarship which the Alumni of Boston offer to scholars entering Amherst in the fall of 1920. This announcement has been fully presented before the Senior Class and with the requirements stated in it, seems well worth attention. A few of these requirements are that the scholar must at present be enrolled in the records of some school within 30 miles of Boston, which he is now attending, and that he must be able to show that he has good ability in leadership and scholarship.

Friday, March 26, the girls Gym aggregation went to Brookline, to meet the high school girls of that town in a gym meet. The sides were well balanced and it was necessary for the Newton girls to work hard to score the five points which gave them the award, the score being 35 to 30. In the rope climbing event Anne Bruner and Dorothy Stebbins of the visiting team made a fine showing. The parallel-bar event had many contestants, and here once more Newton had a chance to show its superiority in the work of Anne Bruner, Eleanor Lyon, Dorothy Stebbins, Marian Juthe, Katherine Bingham, Louise Lovejoy and Eleanor Wheeler. The work with the boom was carried off in fine shape by Anne Bruner, Marion Juthe, Jeanette Curtis, and Eleanor Wheeler. One special feature was the song section of Newton, which along with the cheering seemed to help the visiting team to win.

"STOP THIEF"

"Stop Thief", a three-act farce, will be presented by the Cap and Bells Society of Williams College at Whitney Hall, Brookline, Friday evening, April 9th, at 8 o'clock. The play will be followed by a dance and the music will be furnished by the Williams College (Jazz) Orchestra, considered to be the best college dance orchestra in the country.

Although this is the first stop on an extended tour, the Society has presented with great success, once in Northampton before the members of Smith College, and once before a large house party audience at Williams College. Both times it has been welcomed with keen delight and it is felt that the cast is admirably suited to this style of play.

The cast is composed of the following undergraduates: J. W. Power, '21, A. L. Thayer, '21, E. T. Wheeler, '20, S. Bushnell, '20, E. H. McWhorter, '22, D. H. Rose, '22, A. H. Holt, '20, A. W. Youngman, '22, H. Bullock, '21, C. E. Zalles, '22, H. C. Lawder, '22, W. Atwell, '21, C. B. Cobb, '22, L. F. Fieser, '20, S. P. Phillips, '22, C. W. Kimberly, '20, Manager, and D. W. Wells, '21, Assistant Manager.

Among the patronesses are the following ladies from Newton: Mesdames A. Dudley Dowd, Edwin F. Gibbs, Russell C. Gibbs, Fletcher L. Gill, John W. Gillette, Jr., Tracey A. Rudd, Frederick W. Rust and Ralph D. McEllen.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

The ladies who helped make the contribution to Italy a large one may be interested in the note of appreciation received by the Special Aid Society from the President of the Italian Relief Fund.

"On behalf of our Executive Committee I wish to convey to you our deeply grateful appreciation of the generous, devoted, untiring assistance rendered to our fund by the Newton Special Aid Society. To many an Italian home your kindness will have carried cheer and comfort."

Sincerely yours,

C. H. GRANDGENT."

Besides the garments some material was also contributed.

There are a number of garments ready to be made for the Children of Serbia, and it is hoped that the friends will help make this a generous contribution. The rooms at the Y. M. C. A. are to be open Thursdays from 9 to 5 during April only, and workers will be very welcome.

The Third Annual Meeting will be held Friday, April 9 at 11 A. M. at the Channing Church parlors.

TO BUILD FINE RESIDENCE

The contract has been awarded to George B. H. Macomber Company of Boston for the erection of a dwelling house, garage, greenhouse, stable and five cottages, on Centre street, Newton, for Loren D. Towle. The house will be of steel and concrete construction, fireproof, three stories and basement and 150x55 feet in size. The garage will be 50x60 feet; stable, 120x40 feet; heating plant, 50x60 feet. The contract for the greenhouse has been awarded to Lord & Burnham of New York. Plans are by A. H. Bowditch of Boston. According to Brown's Letters, Inc., construction reports this is the most elaborate residence contract awarded in the Newtons and vicinity for many months.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The Commonwealth Country Club is seeing the close of a very successful season of winter sports. During the months of January, February, and a part of March, the Club toboggans and flexible fliers were in almost constant demand, sometimes as many as one hundred and fifty people using the toboggan chute and the slide in one day. Many also went skiing or snowshoeing over the snow buried links. There were many jolly evening groups who enjoyed the open fire in the big fireplace in the dining room with its accompaniment of hot chocolate or coffee. Some real old-time sleighing parties wound up at the clubhouse for supper and a dance, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Murnan entertaining over thirty people in this way. The Commonwealth hockey team has played on Strong's Pond at the Commonwealth, and also at Woodland, Cohasset, and Brae Burn. The chairman of the winter sports is Mr. Herbert F. Hatch.

For a year the club has held a weekly dinner dance for the members. Evenings during the season when automobiles could not be used, many members and their guests have walked from Lake street and even from Newton Centre to the clubhouse.

November 10, 1919, forty ex-army officers, of the 6th Division, were entertained at the club. A very human and democratic touch was furnished when it was discovered that the chef had served in the same division, whereupon the officer dropped down into the kitchen to greet him.

The card parties in aid of the Fatherless Children of France, and the lectures on "Events of the Day," in aid of Devastated France, have been very successful.

At the New Year's party of this year there were more applications for reservations than even the dining room and veranda could accommodate, and the same was true of the decorations were so harmonious and artistic that permission was asked to photograph them.

On March 3, the annual meeting was held in the Men's Cafe of the clubhouse. The following officers were elected:—

President, William F. Garcelon of Newton; Vice-President, William Newsome of Boston; Treasurer, Arthur R. Robinson of Cambridge; Secretary, J. W. Ferguson Kennedy of Chestnut Hill.

For Directors:—Harry H. Beckwith of Brookline; Louis K. Liggett of Chestnut Hill; Charles E. Murnan of Brookline; Ernest C. Schirmer of Brookline; Arthur H. Nickerson of Brookline. The other Directors on the Board are: Francis W. Dana of Newton, M. Lester Marden of Newton, Arthur L. Race of Boston.

The snow is fast disappearing from the links and it will not be many days before the feet of the golfer will softly yet ardently tread the links, and winter sports will be replaced by the great game.

PLENTY OF SHOES, BUT WHO WORE THEM ALL?

C. D. Worley, a leather expert brought to Washington from the Rock Island, Ill., arsenal, told the Graham Committee on Expenditures in the War Department that the War department had really purchased 42,000,000 pairs of shoes and that of this number 32,000,000 were actually delivered for use of the American soldiers. Chairman Graham calls attention to the fact that 32,000,000 pairs of shoes for 4,000,000 soldiers meant eight pairs of shoes for every soldier we had in the service.

Mr. Worley also testified that the department purchased 750,000 spur straps for horsemen to fasten on their boots and also purchased 750,000 saddles. Colonel Goetz, of the War department, on the witness stand, testified that in the United States and France the American army only had 204,000 cavalry horses, 146,000 artillery horses, 132,000 draft mules and 18,000 pack mules. Why the excess number of saddles and spur straps?

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Upon the Atlantic Monthly's Bookshelf for March appear the following books: Samuel Butler, author of "Erewhon"; A memoir, by Henry Festing Jones. The Economic Consequences of the Peace, by John Maynard Keynes. The American army in the European conflict, by Col. De Chambrun and Capt. De Marenches. Poems, 1908-1919, by John Drinkwater. The Book of Modern British Verse, edited by W. S. Braithwaite. The great desire, by Alexander Black. Elizabeth Cary Agassiz, a biography by Lucy Allen Paton. A musical Motley by Ernest Newman.

The Library has just published a booklet of 82 pages of "The Best Novels in the Newton Free Library," a selected list. Though this catalog is issued primarily for borrowers having recourse to the library simply through the house-to-house delivery service, yet it is available to all. The catalog contains about 2750 titles of which about 950 are those included in a list of "A thousand of the best novels" which was recently published by the Newark Free Public Library, a list which is used by many libraries and has gone through a number of editions. In addition to these there have been included many titles of the last few years. In addition to the titles included there are, of course, many hundreds of others on the shelves of the library, to which the card catalog at the main library is the only public catalogue. This list is on sale at the nominal charge of ten cents.

The latest issue of the Newton Free Library Bulletin is a Music Number. This number contains all of the books about music and books of music which have been added to the library since the issuance of the last music bulletin in 1916. Perhaps the music collection in this library is among the best for some years ago a gift was made to the library of $10,000, known as the Jewett Art Fund, from the income of which the music and other art collections are maintained. With this it is possible to buy practically all of the best that is published, thereby keeping the collection up-to-date at all times. Programs of operas, etc., as the present season of the Chicago Opera Company, are checked and if it is found that any score or libretto is not in the collection it is purchased, if possible. Among the very recent purchases are noted Reginald DeKoven's Rip Van Winkle, Erlanger's Aphrodite, Ravel's L'heure Espagnole, and Maugher's Bethlehem. This bulletin may be obtained at the main library, or at any branch, or will be mailed gratis to any who may desire it.

Among recent motion pictures based on books are the following which have passed by the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures: "Haunting shadows," which is a new picture version of Meredith Nicholson's House of a thousand candles; "Heart of the hills," by John Fox, Jr.; Pinero's play "His house in order"; Mark Twain's boy story "Huckleberry Finn"; The Kentucky romance of the 50's and 60's adapted from John Fox's "Little shepherd of kingdom come"; Knibber "Overland Red"; Eleanor Porter's "Pollyanna"; Gilbert Parker's "The

EDITORIAL

The Newton Post of the American Legion will hold an important meeting on Monday and it is earnestly hoped that the former action protesting against the proposed $50 a month bonus from Congress will be upheld. Any post representing a city like Newton ought to take the highest grounds of patriotism and not be allied with those who, rightly or wrongly, will be deemed to be "money grabbers" by the average citizen.

The hearing on increasing the tax limit next Monday night will undoubtedly be a most perfunctory affair, as everyone knows that the enormous increases in city expenses mean an increase in the tax limit.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday morning, March 30, Mr. Edwin C. Johnson of Newton Highlands, a member of the firm of H. A. Johnson & Co., Bakers' Supplies, spoke in the Assembly Hall. Mr. Johnson took as his subject, "Getting a Job and Getting Ahead," and gave an exceedingly interesting and helpful talk.

Edwin Leonard of the junior class has just completed a set of book ends in his work in applied design. He has sold these for $5.00 and has an order for another set at the same price.

Beatrice Wilson of the senior class has just finished and sold a ring and is now working upon a pendant for which she has an order.

The pupils in this department frequently receive orders which pay them very well.

In the same department the senior boys are preparing their exhibit for Armory Hall, April 15, 16, 17, which will show various things learned about household repairs.

Miss Waldron, a member of the High School Libraries Training class at Simmons College spent Wednesday and Thursday observing and assisting in our library.

Among the latest additions to the Library are beautifully illustrated copies of "The Last of the Mohicans," "Kidnapped," and "The Black Arrow." These are used for exhibition purposes in the English classes.

The Art department is very busy and working overtime on posters for the Thrift Exhibit at Armory Hall, April 15, 16, 17.

DEATH OF DR. CHASE

Dr. Stephen F. Chase, for many years a well known dentist at Newtonville, died last Wednesday morning at his home on Prescott street after a brief illness. Dr. Chase was born in Unity, Me., on September 12, 1835 and studied for the ministry. He was a pastor in the eastern Maine Methodist Church before he was transferred to Massachusetts, where he held pastorates in Salem, Topfield and Campello. Later he left the ministry and became a dentist. Dr. Chase enlisted in the third Maine Infantry, as chaplain on March 23, 1865, and was discharged on June 23, 1864, at expiration of service.

During his residence here Dr. Chase has been active in the affairs of Charles Ward Post G. A. R., of which he was a past commander. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and of Newton Royal Arch Chapter.

He is survived by four daughters, Miss Ethel Chase and Miss Gertrude Chase of Newtonville, Mrs. G. Lyman Snow of Shirley and Mrs. George Z. Goodell of Salem.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at his late residence, Rev. Dr. Charles R. Ross of the Newtonville M. E. Church officiating, assisted by Rev. M. H. Litchner of Central Church. The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

LABOR UNREST

There are many people going about the country talking carelessly about our laws, and making light of them. Such people, in the speaker's opinion, are doing harm, a harm equal to that of the Bolsheviks.

When the commissioner of labor was asked by Mrs. Dewey what was the most pronounced change in the attitude of the laboring class today, he replied that it was the attempt to have the working people themselves take a hand in the management of affairs. The secretary of a large textile union said that labor does not trust public officials to carry out the laws of the state which have been made for the protection of industry. The great appeal of the Bolsheviks to the masses is along this line.

Labor unions, said Mrs. Dewey, stand between the Bolsheviks and the outside world. The Bolsheviks, many of whom have thrown off shackles in Europe, want no restrictions, no laws, while good labor unions recognize and enforce laws. Bolsheviks are refusing to work under contract, because the national government compels those who have made contracts to live up to them. Trade unions are fighting this lawless element.

In regard to Americanization programs, the attitude of trade unions is one of suspicion; they fear that "a little knowledge will prove a dangerous thing," and that those who learn to read will read Bolshevik propaganda, and become themselves unruly.

The greatest Bolshevik appeal is in regard to health. "We will protect your health in industry," they say. They say that in Russia, for example, physicians are to be trained at the expense of the state to examine and look after all employed in industry free of charge. They point out that children have been allowed to enter industry in America who were utterly unfit physically for their work.

Mrs. Dewey said that there was some truth in this. She herself visited a place where a doctor was supposed to examine children of fourteen who wanted to go to work and who were dependent upon his signing a card in order to do so. Mrs. Dewey watched thirty-two children pass in front of this man in sixteen minutes. Needless to say that the examination in this instance was a farce.

In Fitchburg, she stated that there were 1500 children entering industry who owing to some technicality, were not examined at all. The law requiring an examination, is interpreted differently in every city. The average rejection for unfitness is 3 out of 500, while many times that number should be rejected. Boston, she said, is much better than other cities in the enforcement of the law.

When a child has contracted a fatal disease such as tuberculosis as a direct result of industrial conditions, the parents of that child are ready to become Bolsheviks.

When asked how we could help in this great problem, Mrs. Dewey replied, "See to it that every child in your city of fourteen years of age who wishes to enter industry, receives an honest, thorough, physical examination, and that, in addition, the industry which he is about to enter is thoroughly examined."

ALDERMEN MEET

A special meeting of the Aldermen was held Monday evening, all the members being present except Aldermen Madden, Blake, Clement and Jewell.

Mr. Fred L. Smith of West Newton who was nominated as an assistant assessor in place of Mr. Charles E. Braman, declined, was unanimously confirmed.

Street Commissioner Stuart was given $4000 additional for work on snow and ice, making a grand total expense this year of over $50,000. A hearing on increasing the present tax limit of $14 per $1000 was assigned for April 6th.

Mayor Childs was authorized to petition the Legislature for permission to pay the widow of the late John F. Cotton the balance of his salary for the present year.

The following persons were drawn as jurors for the Cambridge Court: Albert M. Fowle, Norwood avenue; John Colquhoun, 1155 Chestnut street; John D. Rockefeller, Melrose street; Edwin H. Corey, Jr., Floral street; and Theodore H. Piser, Moffat road.

PETS BELOVED BY SAINTS

Dr. Douglas Hyde, in Series of Lectures, Deals Interestingly With Medieval Irish Lore.

Dr. Douglas Hyde recently delivered a series of lectures—the Margaret Stokes lectures—in the Alexandra college, Dublin, dealing with medieval Irish lore. He told anecdotes about the Irish saints and their love of birds and beasts. He traced the love of animals by people in different periods and in different countries. Even the Irish pagans had their pet animals, says Our Dumb Animals.

He took the three Irish saints, St. Patrick, St. Brigid and St. Columcille, and spoke of their affection for their pet animals. St. Patrick's kindness to the fawn was well authenticated, and the fawn returned the love to his master.

St. Brigid had her pet dog, a most faithful animal. She also loved birds, and the birds, especially domestic fowls, loved her in a remarkable manner.

The crane was St. Columcille's pet, although his love for dumb animals surpassed that of the other saints. It was recorded in the life of the saint that dumb animals, too, were in love with him, especially birds, and that some of the latter followed him from Ireland to the island of Iona. There was, in proof of the love of animals for the saint, the story of how the horse wept on the bosom of the saint the night before he died.

Dr. Hyde mentioned a large number of other saints, Irish and Latin, about whom he told stories, showing their love for animals, making special reference to St. Kevin, St. Columcille, St. Molna, St. Moling, who had made friends of wolves, foxes, partridges and herons.

FELL TO ROOSEVELT'S SPEAR

Big Devilfish a Victim of the Colonel's Love of Sport, Either on Sea or Land.

The fame of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt as a big-game hunter is well known, but he was equally as adept at killing big fish of the sea, according to Russell J. Coles, noted big-fish killer. Attracted by one of Coles' articles about killing the devilfish, the colonel appealed to him for instruction in the art. After taking several land lessons, using a spear with which he saw an African kill a lion, he finally became expert, and Mr. Coles formed a party to hunt the devilfish off the coast of Florida, in Punta Gorda, March 25, 1917. There the colonel killed his first devilfish, hitting the huge creature, which weighed many tons, just two inches from the spot indicated on a drawing by Coles, and driving the spear two feet four inches through the heaviest and boldest structure of the fish. The colonel was standing on the cab of a small boat traveling nine miles an hour, and the fish was coming toward the boat at the rate of 15 or 18 miles an hour, swimming about four or six feet under water. Had the colonel missed his aim the fish would have been able, with one of its side fins, to upset the boat and drown the fishermen. An hour after his first catch the colonel killed a second devilfish, which was the second largest devilfish ever killed. Mr. Coles is a scientist who has hunted devilfish for more than 20 years.

Auberge du Pigeon.

Strasbourg, French once more, is unfolding, like a rose to the sun. The old life has begun again, as it was lived before the interruption in 1871. Houses are throwing open their shutters and hanging up once familiar signs. One of them, the Pigeon Inn, one of the glories of Strasbourg with its painted wood carvings, its old windows and curious ship decorations, has reopened its doors. It was built in 1331 and began its career under the sign of "Au Pigeon." Then later the sign changed to "Au Pigeon Blanc" and for two centuries the inn was the rendezvous of the university students. After 1870 the sign was taken down, the Pigeon Inn's hospitality ceased and the house became the headquarters of a Roman Catholic society. The days of its ecclesiastical importance are happily over. The inn becomes the "Pigeon Blanc" once more, opening a new chapter of its long history under true Alsatian management.—Christian Science Monitor.

Rather Warm in the Deepest Well.

The deepest well in the world is six and one-half miles southeast of Fairmont, W. Va., drilled by the Hope Natural Gas company of Pittsburgh. It is 7579 feet deep. The well had to be abandoned because the drilling tools stuck in the drill hole, the cable parted and left the tools and 4000 feet of cable in the hole.

C. E. Van Orstrand of the United States geological survey, informs the Scientific American that the temperature at 7000 feet was 172 degrees F., and the rate of increase was one degree in 51 feet. At this rate the boiling point would be reached at about 10,000 feet below the surface.

The Skeleton at the Feast.

My brother's wedding took place at his bride's home, which was next door to us. A telegram came to our house and the delivery boy was told my brother was next door. And arriving when we were at the dinner table, my brother, thinking it was words of congratulation, opened it and gave it to the best man to read. He stood up and read aloud: "Send money you owe me, need it at once." Loud laughter was heard from the guests.—Exchange.

NEWTON THRIFT EXPOSITION

The Value of a Dime to be Shown This Month at the State Armory

That dime is a small coin, but if you present it at the West Newton Armory on April 15, 16, or 17, between the hours of 2 and 10 P. M. you will find that no other dime ever opened up so much to you. The Thrift campaign is a great educational movement, and you can't help learning something new and worth while at the Newton Thrift Exposition. Probably the one thing you want to know, the one question that bothers you most in your daily living, will be waiting for you in attractive guise, and offering you its friendly answer.

But perhaps, even more, you'll be entertained. In addition to the beautiful pageant, which includes a cast of 75 drawn from all parts of Newton, there will be entertaining talks, several sets of movies, and a band worth hearing. After you have found your own particular interest, which the program and the bureau of information will help you find, you'll enjoy the other exhibits, all of them. The following is only a partial list of the exhibits which are being arranged for by the different clubs and organizations interested. Look it over.

Kitchen Thrift, showing labor saving devices, and how to use foods to the best advantage.

Laundry Thrift, demonstrating electric washers and small helps.

Preventive Thrift, how accidents to life and health may be avoided.

Savings and Investments, how to make your money help you most.

Newton Industrial Resources, the work that Newton does, and what she produces.

Education, the supreme thrift, conservation of health, time, and energy.

Work for the Blind, making the best of a handicap.

Child Welfare and Baby Hygiene, two departments especially bearing out the motto of the Exposition "for the health and happiness of today and tomorrow."

Two clubs are each working up an interesting exhibit of useful and artistic articles made out of old materials, while two Newton clubs are combining in an extended Conservation exhibit, featuring Thrift at its source.

Can there be anything more? Look for next week's notice and see. Most of the leading organizations in Newton, and many of the city's prominent business men are helping the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs to get the Exposition ready. Uncle Sam wants to offer you something too, so the Savings Division of the Treasury Department is lending invaluable aid.

Lay it aside now for your admission, that magic dime.

GIRLS' SCOUTS

Third, "Portraits of 1680," managed by Lieutenant Burnham. In the background were two large picture frames. Scout Frances Sutton stood in one frame dressed as a Colonial gentleman and in the other was Scout Eleanor Hayward, as an old-fashioned lady. When the curtain rose, the stage was in darkness, but as the clock sounded the hour of midnight the pianist began a Minuet and the light began to grow in soft blues, turning into an early morning light which flooded the two quaint little ones as they stepped from their frames and danced the old-fashioned Minuet.

The last number of the program was "Ere a Prince," an operetta in two acts, managed by Captain Burdett, whose faithful and patient work made the evening such a great success. The part of Princess Mary was most artistically done by Scout Mary Sheehan. She was costumed in white with silver trimmings and a silver crown and with her sweet voice in song and her gracefulness in the dance she quickly won the hearts of her audience. At the end of the first act she was presented with three beautiful bouquets. The part of the frog prince was well done by Scout Sylvia White who also sang a very pleasing manner and finally won the princess. Sylvia Allen who played the part of the Mayflower Doll, did a Mayflower dance and received many encores.

Throughout the play the Princess was attended by her Butterfly Maids and her Bumble-Bee pages. The Butterfly Maids were Scouts Frances Kahle, Margaret LeClear, Miriam Lockwood, Helen Kenney, Hilda Piser and Gladys Kellaway.

The Bumble-Bee pages were Scouts Helen Andrews, Ruth Lockwood, Phyllis Cotton, Francis Cardell, Laura McKown, and Nancy Kimball.

The scene for the operetta was set in the palace garden and the stage was decorated in the rear, with the front were flowering geraniums. The beauty of the scene was due to Mrs. Francis Davis, who had it in charge. The costumes were planned by Mrs. W. O. White. The Butterfly Maids were very attractive with colored wings on little white dresses, and the Bumble-Bee pages had little orange and black suits with tight-fitting caps from which stretched two long feelers. The whole effect was very beautiful.

The dancing throughout the play was managed by Miss Hazel Sands whose untiring patience was much appreciated by all. The lighting was in charge of Mr. Hassler Capron. Last, but not least we wish to express our hearty thanks to Mr. George W. Angier, who auctioned our posters for us and raised $100.

The performance was for the benefit of "The Fatherless Children of France." From last year's play of a similar nature, the Scouts raised enough money to adopt four French orphans. They will adopt the same four this year.

DEATH OF MR. CHAS. FRENCH

Mr. Charles French, who held for 355 days the distinction of being the oldest living graduate of Harvard University, died last week Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Peter Tancred, 54 Otis street, Newtonville, in his 94th year.

Mr. French was born in Marblehead on November 23, 1826, and he was a Harvard man by inheritance, for his maternal grandfather, Joshua Atherton of Amherst, N. H., was graduated in 1762, and his father, Ralph Hill French, in 1798. After receiving his A. B. degree, Charles French was awarded an A. M. in 1854. His preparatory schooling was in Salem and at Dummer academy. After graduation from college, he went to Baltimore, with the expectation of getting a Government position, through the aid of his cousin, Senator Charles G. Atherton of New Hampshire. His cousin told him, however, that Government places were often of short tenure, and Mr. French took his advice and returned home. Mr. French's father was then register of deeds for Essex County, and the son worked in that office for about two years.

He then opened in Tremont street, Boston, near the Parker House, French's Business College. At No. 94 Tremont street, and later at other locations on the same street, he maintained his school for about fifty years, graduating many hundred pupils in handwriting and other countingroom accomplishments. One of his students, he recalled with pride, was Dr. Chas. W. Eliot, who took a course in penmanship. About twenty years ago, Mr. French gave up his school, and joined Dr. Bennett F. Davenport at an expert on questioned writing, and had an office at 34 School street. For many years before joining Dr. Davenport, Mr. French had been a professional in this line, and he was called as a witness in hundreds of cases in the principal courts of New England and even in New York city. Among such cases were the Hotty Green-Howland dispute, the Rice will case, the Arlohe Wentworth will case, the Tucker case—and later the Russell case, one of the most remarkable in Middlesex County.

Mr. French, before going to Newtonville, had made his home in Boston and in Hingham. For a period of fifteen years his residence was in South Boston and he was a lay reader at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, and superintendent of its Sunday School. His wife, who was Ellen M. Campbell of Salem, died about 10 years ago. They were married in 1853. Surviving are his daughter and two grand-children, Charles Tancred, who is connected with the Boston office of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Miss Ellen Tancred.

Mr. French enjoyed good health practically throughout his long life. Except that his hearing was impaired, he might have been called "spry" for his years, if he had not been knocked down by an automobile about two years and a half ago. This was soon after the Commencement celebration of 1917, which he attended, but the accident prevented him from joining the procession in the Harvard Yard the following summer. He had lived for thirty-three years in Newtonville.

Services were held at his late residence on Sunday, the Rev. Richard Loring, officiating and the burial was at Forest Hills.

DEATH OF VETERAN

Mr. Thomas L. Dolan for many years the driver of the patrol wagon for the Newton Police department, died last Monday at the home of his son, Thomas L. Dolan, Jr., on River street, West Newton.

Mr. Dolan was a native of Ireland and was 76 years of age.

Enlisting in the 32d Massachusetts Infantry at the outbreak of the Civil War, the senior Dolan fought until the battle of Gettysburg, when he fell and was left for dying on the field after he was shot through the lung. He recovered and was honorably discharged in 1863.

Mr. Dolan is survived by a widow, one son and one daughter.

He retired from active service some years ago when the police patrol was motorized.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon and were attended by many of his comrades of the Grand Army who escorted the body to Calvary Cemetery.

Chaffin School

The girls of Grade VII served a breakfast to Miss Scheib and Miss Leavey, on Monday. The meal was cooked and served entirely by the girls.

Much interest is shown in the spelling contest throughout the building. Grade IV has the record for four days in succession, while Grade V, Room 2, is a close second.

Mechanical Stoking Patent. The first patent for mechanical stoking was taken out in 1785, the invention of James Watt.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

I term this Policy a Business Woman's Policy, because every woman who considers the future comfort, and financial protection of her family, if she possesses such a blessing, if not her own declining years. A business woman and every woman should now understand that she is entitled to the same Insurance Protection as a man. Business and professional women assume the hazards and responsibilities of the business world. It is essential that they provide themselves with the safeguards of business. The greatest safeguard is Insurance. The business woman's special policy, guarantees a monthly income of $100, $150 or more a month for life, after reaching the age of 60 years, or prior to that age in the event that sickness or accident causes total and permanent disability. The policy provides $500 or more at death. When you consider that 85 per cent of adults fail to establish even a permanent basis for an income, and that 33 1/3 per cent of all widows are left without the necessities of life and 75 per cent without the comforts. Most men live up to their income and some exceed it. If you note that the male head of your family neglects to adequately protect his family against the ravages of declining years mind out while you may do so. The Accident Policies most liberal ever written, $100,000 costs $100 annually, in addition pays $100 a week for 200 weeks, $40,000 costs $40.00 annually, in addition pays $50.00 a week for 200 weeks, also the Endowment Policy paid on the instalment plan, paid to your beneficiary each month as regular as time. Imagine for one moment the time when you realize that your earthly career is about to close the satisfaction of knowing that you have adequately provided for those that have a right to look in your eye and think what protection are you leaving me.

HAVE SIMILAR FINGER MARKS

Important Discovery Made by California Professor as to Peculiarities of Family Groups.

Prof. J. A. Larson, instructor of physiology in the University of California, announced a new discovery in connection with finger prints which is likely to have a remarkable influence on many important cases that concern the law courts of California.

Briefly, Professor Larson's discovery indicates that a similarity of finger prints among members of a family is sufficiently marked to enable scientists to trace family groups and determine positively whether a given individual is really a member of the family to which he claims relationship.

The importance of the discovery in probate cases such as the Slingsby case is obvious.

Should Dr. Larson's new discovery be accepted by law and science, the Slingsby decision may be reversed, as well as many other analogous cases.

Dr. Larson's investigations began in 1913 at the Boston university.

"Since that time I have examined prints of members of approximately 100 families," he said, "and I am satisfied in my own mind that such a means of identification is possible. I am preparing detailed reports of my work now in order that science may be benefited by my discovery. Before I complete this, however, I expect to investigate the prints of fifteen or twenty additional families so as to remove all doubt as to the accuracy of my discovery."—San Francisco Chronicle.

AMBER FORMED BENEATH SEA

Natural Resin of Pines Turned Into Precious Material by the Action of the Elements.

The world's supply of amber, that rare and therefore precious substance, the "gold of the north," as it has been called, comes from the coast of Samland in the eastern Prussian peninsula, between the towns of Burstorf and Palmnicken, and here the shafts of a famous mine run out under the Baltic and the miners are actually working under water. Ages ago the country was a land of pine forests which the ocean overwhelmed; the pine trees vanished beneath the surface of the sea, and then, century by century, the wood became fossilized and the natural resin of the pines was turned into amber. Millions of years were needed to transform the resin into amber, and the search for amber has developed romantic and picturesque episodes like those that have become part and parcel of the story of gold and diamonds. An amber mine, however, is not necessarily under water, and there is an open-air mine at Palmnicken where amber is dug for in much the same way as diamonds are sought in the mines of Kimberley. In normal times this one mine provides occupation for about 3,000 amber seekers.

Our Own Masters.

We have been told that America is to save the world and rescue civilization from dissolution, but we must do it in our way; in the way that has made us, in a little more than a century, the most unified, the most virile, and the most potent single power in the world. And when we ask ourselves what it is that has given us this unity, this virility, and this potency, the answer is, that we have founded this nation upon principles of law, and upon the guarantees of individual rights under the law. That is our great contribution to civilization; and if we are to be of use to other nations, old or new, our first thought must be to remain our own masters, to preserve our independence, to control our own forces as a nation by our own laws, and to protect our heritage of organized liberty from any form of detraction or perversion.—David Jayne Hill in the South American Review.

Giant Warrior of Middle Ages.

The pride and magnificence that played their part in the days of chivalry can hardly have a better illustration than the suit of equestrian armor which has recently been placed on exhibition in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York city. Sieur Jacques Goudon de Genouillac wore the suit in the sixteenth century, and Sieur Jacques was an uncommonly large and powerful warrior, who served under Louis XII and Francis I. of France. As may be deduced from their armor, the knights of the period were not noticeably large men, and Sieur Jacques must have seemed a veritable giant, for a six-foot attendant at the museum has tried on his armor and is said to have "merely rattled around in it."

Sea Moss.

Owing to the war the supply of "sea moss," of which several hundred thousand pounds, valued at almost $50,000, have been imported annually, for the most part from France and Germany, has virtually come to an end. Sea moss (not seaweed) is the popular name of several kinds of small marine animals that grow in colonies of a branching, plantlike form. Their commercial value arises from their having a horny skeleton which preserves the general plantlike shape of the growth.

LODGE NOTES

Newton Lodge No. 92, I. O. O. F., held a thirty degree last night, and three candidates were admitted within the fold. It is good to see so many fine, red-blooded young men, coming into our lodge and the older brothers ought to turn out and give the new brothers the real hand of an odd-fellow.

Next Monday evening, April 5th, at the lodge room the fourth of a series of five whist parties will be held. These parties have been a huge success and every one is invited for a good time. Refreshments will be served.

THE DAY IS COMING

Prudent people will be prepared, because they are making ready now. Like the squirrel which gathers up food in the summer and stores it for winter use, these prudent people are making savings out of the present high wages and high return on capital investment. The days of abundance are the days to prepare for a lean period. To save and save wisely is to save here, where one hundred cents on the dollar will be returned when you need it.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Another club of the city, the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, has voted to join the General Federation, adding three more delegates to Newton's quota. This is the third club to vote to join within the past month, they being, the Auburndale Review, the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls, and now the one at Newton Highlands. Interest in the coming Biennial increases as the time approaches and in some parts of Newton there are more women who wish to attend than can go as delegates from their respective clubs. It is, of course, desirable to go as a delegate, but there is much that a visiting club woman can enjoy and the announcements from Des Moines indicate that the convention hall will be ample for all who may wish to attend. Let no one stay at home because she can't be a delegate. Such an one can even do a good deal of quiet work to assist in the election of Miss Bacon through her contact with club women from other states in the hotels, upon the street cars or at conferences, altho she may not vote herself. Of course, women, have had a long schooling in this "indirect influence," and so naturally prefer the real thing, but do not despise even this privilege. Much, too, can be done by those who stay at home as is suggested by the campaign committee which says: "Western friends have written Boston friends urging them to vote for their particular candidate. Club women, write your friends—here, there, everywhere. Inspire them with your confidence in Miss Bacon as the best candidate. Inspire them with your confidence in success for Massachusetts. . . . Talk, write, work for Miss Bacon."

Local Happenings

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on March 26th was in charge of the Travel Class, Mrs. A. L. Jordan, chairman, who presented Miss Lucy Allen, as speaker for the afternoon. Miss Allen charmed her audience by her delightful description of her travels in Sicily and showed many interesting views of the places of interest. Two piano selections were well rendered by little Miss Gwendolyn O'Neill, the daughter of one of the members. Cake, frappe and coffee were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. held one of its special days at the home of Mrs. E. G. Swift. Various culinary and thrift recipes were presented by different members and some of the dishes were served that those present might sample them. The afternoon proved both profitable and enjoyable.

The Auburndale Review Club had an unusual treat on Tuesday morning in the talk by Mrs. Arthur C. Farley upon "Hawaii," her childhood home and where she was born. Her grandfather went there as a missionary. The talk was illustrated with many interesting curios and pictures and by Hawaiian music.

Miss Stella Jones of the Massachusetts University Extension gave an interesting talk before the Social Science Club Wednesday morning on "Americanization." She contrasted the way the foreign child has been brought up and the ideas which surrounded it in its native country with those which are encountered upon reaching America. There the father was the autocratic ruler in his home, here there is a slackening of the rule and the child attempts to try out some things for himself. Having been brought up with an idea and practice of thrift, he is impressed with the enormous waste in this country, all of which goes to make an impression of carelessness and waste. Honesty and thoroughness have been taught in the old country, but with the general tendency towards speed and skimming over things, the child upon reaching here gets the impression of quantity rather than of quality.

From her own experience both in Boston and in Bridgeport as an Americanization worker Miss Jones told many interesting things, illustrating how eager the foreigners are to learn the American ways, to become citizens and particularly how eager the mothers are for some education that they may keep up with their children. She read a letter from a woman over sixty, a grandmother, who had attended school in the North End, having had no previous ability to read and write. What she had to say of the "wandering story-tellers" in Bridgeport was peculiarly interesting. She feels in common with most social workers that the child is the best agency for reaching the people. America has done much for the immigrants, but it has also left much for them to find out for themselves.

NEWTON
—Channing Sewing Circle holds another all-day sewing meeting with box luncheon next Tuesday. The women of the church are hard at work upon articles for a sale, which will be held on Friday, April 23rd. If you are in need of night dresses wait for this sale. Other features will be announced later.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold a sale and supper in Players' Small Hall on April 9th. The sale will open at one o'clock and will continue through the afternoon until six. Supper will be served at 6.30. One of the features of the entertainment in the evening will be a discussion of the film censorship bill. Miss Marian B. Nichols taking the affirmative and Judge A. J. Brackett, the negative. This will be supplemented with music and readings. Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe is in charge of the tickets.

Mrs. C. H. Keeler will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on April 10. Mrs. H. W. Drew will be in charge of the quiz, which will be a review of King Henry VI., Part I.

The Boston Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association will hold its annual business meeting in the Neighborhood Club house at Waban on Saturday, April 10. After the business, one of the Forty-seven Workshop Plays, "Three Pills in a Bottle," will be presented by some of the younger members, including several Newton young women. Mrs. Philip Warren of Waban and Miss Mildred Bourdon of Newton Centre are members of the committee in charge. The play will be repeated in Waban on April 16 and given in Milton, Wakefield and Jamaica Plain, later in the spring for the benefit of the Three Million Dollar Fund.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

A Sunday School Institute of more than passing value was held in Channing Church parlors on Saturday afternoon and evening of last week. Miss Frances M. Dadmun, superintendent of Channing Sunday school, told from out of her experience how to Encourage the Growth of Normal Religion in the Primary Department. Mrs. Ella Lyman Cabot spoke of "Life Problems of the High School Age." Miss Mary Lawrence demonstrated how she presents Bible stories in dramatic form. Members of the audience were drafted into service, dressed in the costumes which Miss Lawrence had brought and were posed for tableaux representing, "Three Young Men at the Court of Darius," while she read the story as it would be done for a presentation in the Sunday school. The details of how she manages the details were very helpful to the teachers present. An informal supper occupied the hour between six and seven, after which Rev. Houghton Page of Hingham spoke forcefully upon "The Part of the Young People in the Church." Rev. William I. Lawrence, D. D., president of the Unitarian Sunday School Society, described the Outstanding Feature of the Beacon Course of lessons, which are being issued by his society and which have received the highest commendation not only from the Unitarian workers, but from authorities of other denominations. The closing was a most valuable address on "Worship in the Home," by Mr. George G. Bradford of Cambridge, who is chairman of a committee on Young People and the Church in the Unitarian Layman's League.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Junior Hospital Social Service League met on Monday afternoon in the parlors of the Church of the New Jerusalem.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Irving O. Palmer who spoke on "Thrift," using the term in its largest sense. She explained that thrift did not mean hoarding money, but rather spending it in a way to get the greatest value for the money spent. Besides thrift in money matters, she also spoke of thrift in time, and in health. At the close of Mrs. Palmer's address, Mrs. Kenneth Hastings accompanied by Mrs. Payson Allen, gave several delightful violin selections. Tea and a social hour concluded the program. About thirty were present.

MOUNT HOLYOKE CAMPAIGN

An intercollegiate feature is a basket ball game to be held on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the Radcliffe gymnasium in which Smith, Mount Holyoke, Vassar and Radcliffe will figure. Miss Hilma Jones of Newtonville will be captain of the Mount Holyoke team.

THE BACKGROUND OF THE MOD- ERN NOVEL

Newton Free Library

"Taste in fiction needs training. The literature of fact is easy; all creative art involves a receptivity prepared by cultivation. . . . Taste in fiction can be cultivated only by reading and rereading the works of the great masters. . . . The value of the novel increases with the square of the numbers of times it has been read." Richard Grant Moulton in "Four years of novel reading."

"The novel is the youngest branch of literature. Its beginnings are found in many books from the 'Canterbury Tales' to the 'DeCoverly Papers,' but its present form dates only from the nineteenth century. Among the earliest English fiction is Sir Thomas More's 'Utopia,' written in Latin and printed in Louvain where the author was living in exile in 1516. Sir Thomas wrote his masterpiece in Latin because that language promised at the time to outlast the English but it was immediately translated and won fame as an English writing. 'Utopia' was printed by Caxton, edited by Erasmus and illustrated by Holbein. Some of the most famous Utopias in fiction are: 'The Coming Race,' Bulwer-Lytton; 'News from Nowhere,' William Morris; 'Looking Backward,' Edward Bellamy; 'A Stranger from Altruria,' William Dean Howells; 'A Crystal Age,' W. H. Hudson; 'Utopia,' Archibald Marshall; 'A Modern Utopia,' H. G. Wells; 'Philip Dray,' Administrator; Colonel E. Mandell House; 'The New Moon,' Oliver Onions."

"Arcadia," an elaborate pastoral romance, was written by Philip Sidney solely for his sister the Countess of Pembroke. After his death the romance was published in London in 1590. The plot is a tangled web of adventure and a jungle of episodes. The scene of the story is laid in the shepherd days of ancient Greece.

"Richardson, the author of 'Pamela,' or 'Virtue Rewarded' and often acclaimed the first English novelist, was a printer and bookseller, the most famous man who has ever stood behind a bookseller's counter. As a boy he earned money composing love letters for servant girls who could not read or write. When he was fifty-one he turned this early experience as a 'professional correspondent' to good use in writing the first English novel that has a love theme for the basis of the tale.

"Henry Fielding began his literary career as a dramatist. 'The Author's Tale,' 'The Street Comedy,' and 'Tom Thumb,' or 'The Tragedy of Tragedies,' a parody on the poets, are the two best known plays. In 1736 Fielding opened a small theatre of his own, and produced his most successful play 'Pasquin.' It was a drama of Fielding's, the 'Historical Register,' a political satire of the Walpole government that led to the institution of the censor of plays in England.

"Although Lawrence Sterne belongs to the history of the English novel, he is only kind of a novelist. His works defy classification. They do not belong in any one department of literature; they are a combination of samples of various kinds of literature. 'The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy, Gent (1767-74)' is a gathering of character sketches, a series of delicate human vignettes. At the same time it abounds in humorous sketches, and reads like a volume of Table Talk. Sterne calls Tristram 'a rhapsodical work,' and his ecstatic word painting of nature, and his many passages of sensuous, impassioned words bear out his description.

"Roderick Random and 'Peregrine Pickle,' by Smollett are the first series in English fiction and led the way for Marryat's 'Midshipman Easy,' Dana's 'Two Years before the Mast,' and Bullen's 'Cruise of the Cachet.' Smollett's nautical characters and nautical jargon are so true to life that seamen recognize him as no landlubber writer of the sea.

"Oliver Goldsmith (1730-1774) is a novelist of a single novel. It was not until he was forty that he wrote the novel 'The Deserted Village' that his bookseller would risk the publication of the 'Vicar of Wakefield.' It is the first novel of English domestic life and the first that may be described as clean. It is devoid of the coarseness that characterized the earlier novels. 1766, the date of its publication marks the end of the first period in the history of the English novel. After Goldsmith the novel passed through a long dormant period of forty-five years. During that time few works of fiction were published and none of any first rate importance." Selected from the Publisher's Weekly.

RECITAL

A very successful recital was given by a few of the pupils of the Piano-forte and Theory Students Association (Miss Helen Douglas, Principal) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Richmond, Thursday evening, March 25th.

The program was made up of well known classical pieces and sonatas by Chopin, Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, and Moskowski and by compositions of our modern American composers—MacDowell, Lynes, Cady, Hyatt, Norris, and others.

The pupils drew forth well merited applause from their audience. Those deserving special mention were: Thelma Coombs, Allan Cobb, Phyllis Harrington, Miss Marion Maxim, Miss Eleanor Martin, Miss Louise Black, Miss Eleanor Richmond, Miss Elsa Haase, Miss Eleanor Tracy and Miss Jennette Martin and Dorothy Handy.

One number thoroughly enjoyed by all was the Cradle Song played by Miss Ethel Frail on the violin, accompanied by Mr. Donald Frail at the piano.

Those taking part were the following: Eleanor Midram, James Neary, John Kurtz Douglas, Willard Brown, Allan Cobb, Phyllis Harrington, Ruth Holbrook, Janice Upham, Dorothy Handy, Barbara Tracy, Miss Dorothy Filene, Campbell Delesdier, Miss Ethel Frail, Mr. Donald Frail, Thelma Coombs, Miss Ethel Saunders, Miss Esther H. Stiles, Miss Eleanor Richmond, Miss Marion Maxim, Miss Louise Black, Miss Eleanor Tracy, Miss Eleanor Martin, Miss Elsa G. Haase, Miss Jennette Martin.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Radio Club of the Boy Scouts gave a most interesting entertainment at the Second Church, West Newton, last week, in aid of their club fund for the purchase of Wireless apparatus, and a substantial sum was raised. The first number on the program was a most interesting illustrated lecture on Brittany, by Mr. Harold T. Dougherty. Mr. Dougherty was in this part of France during his service with the American Library Association and took most of the pictures shown himself. The lecture was followed by magic tricks by scouts Smith and Matthews, which completely puzzled the audience. Many of the tricks shown were of professional caliber, and the scouts deserved all the applause they received. The next feature was a demonstration of high frequency electrical effects by Mr. E. J. Ovington and Mr. O. L. Pacquette. This was a most interesting affair to watch, with the stage in complete darkness and sparks and colored flames shooting in every direction. Many interesting things were shown, such as lighting an electric lamp with the current flowing through the body of the operator. During the performance, and orchestra enlivened the affair with their well played selections.

In memory of Scout Clifford L. Meekins of Troop 1 Newton, killed in action in France, the Second Church sent to the Hampton Institute, a sum of $100. Dr. James E. Gregg, the president of Hampton, recently spoke at this church on the work of the institute. "CIF" was one of the most popular scouts in the district, and his death was greatly felt by all the scouts and scout officers.

Troop 5 of Newton Centre, is to be reorganized in the immediate future, and a Scoutmaster has just been obtained for the troop. Mr. Ernest Mansur, a veteran of the 26th Division, sergeant of Company F, 101st Infantry has consented to assume charge of the troop. With Mr. Mansur the two former assistants, Mr. Chas. McCabe and Mr. Adolard Durette will continue to act, and there is a possibility of two more men coming to aid this troop in a similar capacity. Several of the scouts are likely to be dropped during the reorganization, and new recruits added to take their place.

Troop 4 has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Lichtenhaier as assistant scoutmaster. Mr. Lichtenhaier is a camper of wide experience, and is going to specialize in the outdoor side of the scout work. Last Monday night he gave the scouts a talk about the needed preparation for hiking and camping. The Scout Executive paid this troop a call and gave out certificates for the satisfactory completion of the Patrol Leaders school. The following scouts received them. Scouts Howard Weeks, Philip Taylor, Charles Melver and Ralph King.

TROOP 7 SCOUT NEWS

Troop 7 now boasts three pyramid building teams each of ten scouts and a scoutmaster. Different forms of pyramid building are being practised and the time has been greatly reduced during the last few meetings. Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Perry is being operated on for appendicitis at the Newton Hospital. The troop feels his loss and hopes that he will be back again soon. During his absence Assistant Scoutmaster Smith is taking charge of the drill.

During the instruction period scouts were assigned by pairs into three groups under the different scoutmasters. Troop 7 is seeking to have a number of youngsters ready for a Court of Honor the first Friday in April.

The entire troop will attend the Radio Club show in a body to cheer its representatives. First Class Scouts Matthews and Smith, the Chinese Magicians, to victory.

Mr. Park, a member of our troop committee feels that if the troop could, it is going to have a picnic to the Second Church to accommodate them. There have been forty answer roll call for the past three meetings.

COL. FREDERICK S. BENSON

Col. Frederick Shephard Benson, civil war veteran, Mason and long prominent in the gas making industry, died on Monday, February 23, at his summer home, Atlantic Highlands, N. J. He was born in Boston eighty-one years ago and served throughout the civil war. He was for thirty-seven years chief engineer of the old Nassau Gas Light Company of Brooklyn. When that company was consolidated with the Brooklyn Union Gas Company he became chief engineer of the eastern division. He was for years president of the Society of Gas Lighting. His city home was at 79 Wilson street, Brooklyn. He is survived by two daughters and a son.

Colonel Benson was a Newton boy, the son of Frederick A. Benson, who for many years lived on Centre street in the house now occupied by Dr. Cummings.

He was a graduate of the Lawrence Scientific School, Cambridge, and during the civil war was connected with the United States Signal Corps retiring with the rank of Colonel.

Many of our older citizens will well remember the Colonel as a young man, as well as his parents, who for many years were active members of Eliot Church Society.

GOVERNMENT AIDS EX-SERVICE MEN

The members of the Newton Post of the American Legion had as their guest at their smoker and entertainment last week Wednesday, Mr. H. Burlingame, special representative of the Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, from Washington.

Mr. Burlingame is engaged in getting before all the ex-service men of the army, Navy and Marine Corps, as well as nurses of the great war, information regarding their rights and benefits under the war risk insurance act. The speaker pointed out that the Director was keenly anxious that every man should know that the Bureau provided free medical care and hospital attention for those who were wounded, injured or diseased as a result of their participation in the war; also that they were entitled to compensation for such injuries, in the event that they were disabled to any practical extent. It was shown that only men who were disabled are entitled to this attention. No man is entitled to Government medical aid and compensation simply by reason that he served in the army; his disease or injury had to have been incurred in the service to entitle him to these benefits, and the Government will not give this attention to men whose injuries or diseases have been incurred since they were mustered out, and cannot be attributed to their war experience. In order to get this treatment it is necessary that a form, No. 526, be filled out by the soldier, and taken to the nearest United States Public Health surgeon, who will examine him and send his report to Washington, where it will receive the attention of a board of doctors in the medical division of the Bureau. If a man is totally temporarily disabled he will receive $80 per month so long as such temporary total disability exists, and if the Bureau rates him as permanently totally disabled he will receive $100 per month for life, and his dependent father or mother or both may also receive compensation from the Government.

In the matter of insurance Mr. Burlingame called attention to the liberal provisions for reinstatement. The men were advised that in order to be fully protected it was only necessary to pay two premiums, one for the month after discharge, or after the last payment by them on their insurance, and the other for the month of reinstatement. It was noted that while the men were in the service there were $10,000 men, but that now, when they had allowed their insurance to lapse, they were worthless—from an insurance standpoint, to their home folks. It was also demonstrated that the men had actually, in some cases, by dropping their policies, deprived their home folks in peace time of the protection carried for them while the war was on. The Government is selling this insurance at cost to its men; they do not have to pay for clerical hire or other administration expenses, and the reason why the cost of their premiums on the permanent policies is from 5 to 20 per cent. less than the rate of private companies is for the reason that the Government is bearing all overhead expenses. The men were told that they could sell their policies back to the Government at the end of a year if necessary; and the Government paid dividends on their policies; that there are no extra charges for the man who is a railroad man, or follows other hazardous occupations. The American Legion Post war risk officers will give information regarding reinstatement and conversion of insurance, or this data will be given out by the local Red Cross station. Former service men whose insurance has lapsed or has been cancelled were encouraged to take advantage of the very liberal provisions for reinstatement of War Risk Insurance. They were assured that from now on, receipts for premiums would be sent them within a few days from the date of the original receipt of the remittance. Instead of the form paragraphs and unsatisfactory form letters which formerly it was necessary to use to answer the flood of mail, they will be replied to with real letters in insurance cases which require detailed and specific answers.

The number of unposted premiums in the Bureau, which last October was approximately $8,000 has just been reduced to an average of 10,000 or less than one day's work. Unanswered mail in the insurance division shows a reduction of approximately 60 per cent. from the daily balance of five months ago. Probably it will be two or three weeks before it will be possible to answer all the letters as quickly as it is now possible to mail out receipts for premiums, but it is a matter of only a few weeks before the answering of all ordinary inquiries in reference to insurance matters within four days of their receipt in the Bureau will be the regular practice.

In conclusion Mr. Burlingame reminded service men that their insurance had lapsed or been cancelled as long as they were without insurance, they are without its protection, and, in their own interests, and in the interests of the home folks, they should apply for reinstatement of their Government insurance without delay.

NURSES' SCHOLARSHIPS

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, working along lines of the Peace Program of the National Organization have recently offered to the students of the Training School for Nurses at the Newton Hospital twelve scholarships to be awarded to the most worthy members of the Training School to enable them to take a special course during the year 1920, in District Nursing and Public Health Service at the Teachers' College, a Department of Columbia University, and the Henry Street Settlement in New York city.

These students must have had at least three years' training at the Hospital, must be especially interested in District Nursing work, must be well and strong, and are very carefully selected for their fitness for the work before they are sent on to New York. There are three courses given during the year, each course requiring four months' work. The theoretical work is given at the Teachers' College and the practical field work under the direction of the Henry Street Settlement House—so that these Red Cross Scholarships will enable the Training School to send twelve nurses to New York during the year 1920.

On February 1st, four of the nurses returned to the Hospital after completing the four months' course and were received at the Hospital from the Field Supervisor who showed the nurses from Newton were especially well-qualified to take up District Nursing and Public Health Service problems. The names of these nurses are: Miss Mae Moody, Miss Helen Baker, Miss Mary Thompson, Miss Marion Flint.

DEATH OF MR. JOHNSON

Mr. Charles H. Johnson, the oldest resident of Auburndale, died last Friday at his home on Grove street in that village at the age of 91 years. Mr. Johnson was born in Boston November 23, 1828 and at the age of 25 years entered the employ of the Boston Gaslight Company. He became cashier in 1868 and held that office for the remarkably long period of fifty years and was retired by the company in 1918 on full pay. Mr. Johnson was a profit sharer in the company and represented the employees for many years on the board of directors.

He was always deeply interested in village and church affairs, and at one time was clerk of the Auburndale Congregational Church and superintendent of its Sunday school. When the Newton Constabulary was formed during the war, Mr. Johnson was among the first to join and one of the most punctual in his attendance at drills and attention to duty. He was a member of Aberdour Lodge of Masons of Boston.

Mr. Johnson is survived by a widow who was Miss Mary Eliza Thomas of Charlestown and two daughters, Mrs. J. Parkes B. Riske of Detroit and Miss Susie C. Johnson of Auburndale. Funeral services were held at the chapel of the Auburndale Congregational Church on Monday afternoon, the impressive Masonic service under the auspices of officers of Aberdour Lodge being followed by the usual service in charge of Rev. Dr. Edward Payson Drew, pastor of the church. A male quartet sang. The ushers were three nephews and a grandson of Mr. Johnson. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The next meeting of the Newton Post will be held in the new quarters of the Post at the old Congregational Church, West Newton on next Monday night, April 5th. Many important matters will come up for action, particularly some proposed changes and revisions in the Constitution. The most vital question for discussion is the Bonus resolution which was passed at the last meeting of the Post. There was so much discussion and speculation aroused by the action of the Post in placing itself on record as not favoring a cash bonus at this time, that the Post Commander will have the question presented to the meeting for further discussion, and it is his hope that every member of the Post will be present and take part in the thrashing out of this question. The reason why unfavorable action was taken by the Post will be carefully explained, and all members having any good suggestions or amendments to present their views to the meeting. One of the most spirited debates in the history of the Post will undoubtedly take place at the coming meeting, as both sides of the subject has a large number of supporters. This is a fine thing for the Post, as the best results can be achieved through frank discussion of the matter, and when the final result is known it is the duty of every member of the Post to abide by the will of the majority, and be loyal to the Post. It would be dull, indeed, if everyone agreed on every question which came up for action, and argument is a fine stimulus for a live Post and should be welcomed by every member.

CHARLES RIVER HIGH

Newton has been most fortunate in the recent high water and freshets in the Charles River valley, the only effect noticed here was the probable danger of the Kendrick Bridge at Nahant street being washed away, and Street Commissioner Stuart had the street blocked off for the past week. The water came very near to the flooring of the bridge which is an old and rather unsubstantial structure. The river reached the abnormal height of 97.40 feet elevation, something over six feet above its usual level, and recalled the great freshet of 1886 when the Kendrick Bridge was completely washed away. South Meadow brook also went on a rampage and tore out its culvert under Dedham street and that thoroughfare is also impassable at the present time.

DEATH OF MR. DURKEE

Mr. William C. Durkee, a well known resident of Newton Centre, died on Friday of last week at his home on Paul street in that village, surviving the death of his wife by just a fortnight.

Mr. Durkee was born in Brandon, Vt., in 1854. In 1872 he came to Boston and attended the Mass. College of Pharmacy, graduating at the head of his class in 1875. He was able to take, also, several other collegiate courses. For several years Mr. Durkee was employed by Theodore Metcalf & Co., but in 1882 he formed a partnership with Edward S. Kelley, under the firm name of Kelley & Durkee, Boylston street. He afterward acquired Mr. Kelley's interest.

Mr. Durkee served as president of the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical Association, vice president of the New England Retail Druggists' Union, and vice-president of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, which he served for 10 years as trustee.

Mr. Durkee had written a variety of scientific papers for the medical and pharmaceutical press. For many years almost all the Koch tuberculosis used by physicians and hospitals throughout New England passed through his hands, and he was probably the first man in America to extract pilocarpin from Jaborandi in quantity. In 1913 he retired from the drug business, and up to about a year ago was engaged in the automobile business in Boston.

In 1876 Mr. Durkee married Miss Lucy T. McLellan, daughter of Samuel McLellan of Bath, Me. Surviving him is a daughter, Mrs. Stephen C. Lyon (Edith Durkee) of Newton Centre, and two sons, William B. Durkee of Newton and Frederick M. Durkee of Brookline.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at his late home on Paul street, Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Church, officiating and the interment was at Mt. Auburn.

GOV. JOHN A. ANDREW HOME

An interesting event in connection with this Home took place last Sunday afternoon, when the members of the Home were taken by surprise by a large delegation of members of the Daughters of Veterans. The visitors entertained the members with a season of song, and presented the Home a handsome rug for the parlor, and also candy for the inmates.

The Home is for Civil War Veterans and their wives and widows. It has been a source of regret that it has received but scant attention from our citizens, for the object of the Home should appeal to every patriotic citizen. The Home is under great obligation to the Newtonville Woman's Club and Guild, and to Sarah Hill Chapter Daughters of the Revolution for many generous contributions. The Home is situated at 92 Washington Park and visitors are welcome at all times.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Burr School

Several members of Grade 7 gave an interesting recitation lesson on "Cases of Interest in France," this week. The lesson was in charge of Mary Wallace. Two of the girls of the 8th grade also gave a recitation lesson "Niagara Falls."

Two of the Burr School graduates, Miss Ruth McAllister, and Miss Katherine Knox, have recently won honors. Miss McAllister has been elected valedictorian of the senior class of the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University, and Miss Katherine Knox has won $20 for the best essay on "Thrill." Both of these girls did unusual work when in the Burr School.

An Audubon Club has been organized in the three upper rooms of the Burr School. One class has chosen for its name "The Burr School Audubon Club," and another, "The Flash of Wings Club." The latter has elected officers.

Williams School

The 5th grade of the Williams School has some remarkable illustrations of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin." The class learned the poem, and Edward Carleton Hammond has made a remarkable black board background. Figures have been cut out and pasted on this background, forming a frieze around the room. William C. Benzer and Edwin Jewell have helped in cutting out the figures.

A jolly barn dance was given on March 25 in the home of Dorothy Gould, a member of Miss Kelley's 8th grade. Miss Kelley and several girls of the class attended. All had a good time.

The Autograph Book of Room 6 is growing. Autographs have been received from Mr. John Wamaker, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mayor Childs, Miss Theda Bara, Mayor Peters, Speaker Gillett, and Mr. W. J. Bryan.

Boys of the 7th and 8th grades have begun baseball practice.

Horace Mann Notes

A very interesting recitation lesson was given Tuesday, March 30th, by Charles Hayden and Kenneth Messer on California. Some very beautiful scenes were shown.

100 per cent. in spelling was again reached by the eighth grade.

Tuesday, March 30th the fourth grade had a 100 per cent. in spelling for the first time this year.

The boys of Grade VI are making bird houses for the spring birds.

The printing classes of this school are taking printing at the Clafin School.

On Wednesday, March 24th, Grade VII formed a Junior Audubon Society, electing Leonice Bellamy, president; Thomas Gilligan, vice-president, and Hope Hanly, secretary. We have a 100 per cent. membership.

Mason School

Many new reference books have been added to the school library recently and are in great demand.

Miss Bragg, assistant superintendent of schools, will talk to parents Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 on the health work done in the schools.

Most attractive booklets and posters made by pupils add to the interest in "Good Health."

At the eighth grade class meeting Richard Potter and William Volante gave most instructive lectures on wireless telegraphy, using a full equipment in demonstration.

The hall exercises this week will be given by Miss To-man's eighth grade. They will consist of three tableaux and one scene from Evangeline together with appropriate songs.

Stearns School Notes

Girls of the seventh and eighth grades have had a competition in biscuit making. A prize of the trip Cook Book was offered by the Rumford people to the girl who had the best baking powder biscuit, using Rumford Baking Powder. The prize was won by Gladys Quinan, of the seventh grade.

Very successful rehearsals of the Boys' Club play were held Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The eighth grade class enjoyed one of the most pleasant and inspiring industrial trips of the year, Friday afternoon, visiting the biscuit plant of the Loose-Wiles Company on Causeway street, Boston. Every form of biscuit and cake was followed by the pupils through the factory in the different processes of the making and baking. The privilege of testing the final product was heartily appreciated.

The class discussion of the trip brought out many interesting impressions. Biscuit making was an occupation was favorably looked upon. Cleanliness, attention to machine, and

THRIFT VERSUS EXTRAVAGANCE

By Katharine B. Knapp

In the recent prize contest conducted by the Newton Trust Company on the subject of "Thrifty," the following essay written by Miss Katharine Knapp was awarded first prize.

The extravagance of the American people is proverbial. As wit is synonymous with Irish, as canny is another word for Scotch, and an abbreviated sense of humor defines English, so extravagance has come to mean American.

The American is not entirely ashamed of this designation, not because he is a fool, but because he has mixed certain words in his private dictionary. He defines extravagance as something liberal and munificent, while thrift he designates as a niggardly and sordid quality.

"For," says Mr. American, "I live in a wide, broad land whose fields produce more than I can consume, whose material resources are exhaustless, whose wealth and prosperity are overwhelming. Why should I become a miser and scrimp here and scrimp there merely to leave a few more dollars in the bank? Not on your life!" says Mr. American.

MISS KATHERINE KNAPP

Poor, deluded man! Some kind, but firm hand must clear his befogged vision and set him on the right path. For it is this self-same misconception of affairs that is playing mischief with the American world today.

For today we are living in an era of false prosperity which, while not directly started by extravagance, still is being augmented and abetted by that very thing.

A false prosperity, manifesting itself in extravagance. Everywhere one sees it. From the fur-coated servant to her diamond-bedecked mistress. Diamonds and fur coats cost a king's ransom, yet the dealers cannot get them fast enough.

The price of clothes is sky-rocketing, yet there seem to be plenty of men and women who are willing and able to pay more for reckless, worthless, extravagant clothes than ever before. Offerings of "conservatively priced gowns at $200, $250 and $300" appear temptingly in the advertisements in the daily papers with a casualness which leads one to believe that nobody thinks such prices high.

When we marvel that anyone would even consider such prices we must remember that there are people with money today, who never had it before. New money in the hands of new people. There you have the explanation of this riot of extravagance, of wild spending, of ignoring what a commodity is worth and being attracted only if the price is high.

Last summer, the owner of one of the great high-priced stores in New York, said that for the first six months of the year, his business was far in excess of any previous total he ever had and that his books showed it. The purchases by the old-charge customers—the formerly rich people of the city—were only fifty per cent. of what they normally were, while the cash business was five times as great as it ever had been. New money in the hands of new people!

A man from Pittsburgh told of a woman with a shawl over her head going into a cloak-and-suit store and asking to see a dress which was in the window, marked at two hundred and eighty-five dollars. He tried to argue her out of it, but she persisted, bought the dress and took it home with her, paying for it in cash. She told the salesman that her husband was making big money and she intended to get what she wanted.

So it goes! Everywhere in the United States are these instances of eager spending, of the wave of extravagance and heedless buying which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Take a look at any jewelry store on a sunny afternoon, or into any fur store, or into any of the high-priced gown shops, and observe what is going on. The newly rich are treading on one another's toes to get up to the counters to spend their money and the higher the prices the better they seem to like it.

Not only does extravagant buying extend to clothing and jewelry, but to a hundred other things as well. One is the craze for the theatre—for the theatres are also getting the money. There are over two hundred theatres in New York, besides innumerable movie-palaces, yet it is a pretty poor stick of a show which doesn't draw to capacity. Anyhow, seats at a good many of the theatres have gone up to three dollars and a half apiece and the prodigals rush in to buy at that price, paying the agent's commission gladly.

One firm of managers set a price of ten dollars a seat for an opening and they had to call out the police reserves to hold the mob in check when the sale opened. The spenders in New York last down seven hundred thousand dollars for the shows given in that city on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening and the shows on the Friday night and the Saturday afternoon and night following—seven hundred thousand dollars for three nights and two matinees!

Even capital is pouring into the luxury and semi-luxury trades as never before. Banking interests, which a few years ago would have sniffed at anything less than a railroad or steel merger, now finance candy and perfume concerns. Our import statistics show an increasing tendency to indulgence in luxuries, and a study of war statistics indicates that labor, as well as capital are being attracted to the production of other than necessities.

And so the story goes. Account for it as best you can. Undoubtedly new money in the hands of new people has a lot to do with it. Probably a reaction from wartime frugality is a factor also, but any way you put it this intoxication of extravagance is a menace to the country and must be stopped.

It is a condition not new in the world. What happened during the Civil War and after is almost precisely what is happening to us today. For four years then, men were withdrawn from production, while the Government was busy inflating the currency by bond issues. Then, as now, the country was outwardly prosperous. Everybody had money; business was brisk, prices of property and goods were soaring. Happiness and optimism and extravagance were the order of the day.

So things continued for a number of years; but the wise men knew that this could not continue permanently. Somehow prices would have to come down. The era of false prosperity ran its course like a fever, and the crisis came in 1873, bringing one of the worst financial panics that this country has ever known. Business houses failed, railroads were bankrupt, factories closed down and the loss to the country before business picked up again was probably greater than the entire cost of the war.

Shall we today be wise enough to take example from that experience and look well to our ways? Whether we make our readjustment normally and comfortably, or whether it is forced upon us by disaster, depends very largely upon our willingness as individuals to recognize the cure and to apply it vigorously in our own lives.

There is one sound cure; and only one, and that is the diligent and earnest practice of thrift. After discussing $200 gowns and $10 theatre tickets, how good it is to get down to such a rock-bottom, good old fashioned word as thrift!

But thrift is too often regarded as penny squeezing, as cutting here and there the things we want, in order to hoard against a rainy day that may never come. Let us remember that real thrift is something very different, that it is bound up with all that makes human life significant—with foresight and mastery. The man who has the courage to save when all other men are spending has money with which to buy when all other men must sell.

While the war lasted thrift was patriotism, it was vital for our victory. Today thrift is mere commonsense. Money is very cheap these days. A dollar is worth only about fifty cents as compared with 1896. As a humorist has said, "Money used to talk, now it whispers." But some day things will readjust themselves and the purchasing power of the dollar will, in a measure, be restored. Therefore the sensible thing to do is to put away these fifty-cent dollars and keep them for a few years; and when we get ready to spend them they will be seventy-five cent dollars or eighty-five cent dollars. Thrift is mere commonsense.

Thrift will bring down the high cost of living. Manufacturers will continue making twenty-dollar shoes and fifteen-dollar shirts as long as the public will buy them. But just as soon as that self-same public puts down its foot and says: "No, I won't be bulldozed in this manner. I'll wear my old clothes and save my money"—just so soon will the price of commodities come tumbling.

Thrift is going to raise our reputation in the eyes of the nations. A nation of money-fingers can have very little influence in universal affairs. Extravagance is a quality little to be admired, but a thrifty nation commands a high place in the eyes of the world.

So our plea is for thrift. A thrift that will meet and break the growing wave of extravagance throughout the land. A thrift that will clear the name of the American people of the indictment of extravagance brought against it. A thrift that will regulate conditions and bring back to us that old-time peace and security which we love.

his sixtieth re-union, the same degree was conferred upon him by Williams College.

He held four pastorates, all in Massachusetts: Lanesville, 1857-1860; Oakham, 1861-1866; Attleboro, 1867-1871; and Natick, 1872-1883.

In addition to his pastoral duties he took an active part in school and town affairs, and long before Community Service was ever talked of, he stimulated the people to take an interest in beautifying their town and in its general welfare and progress.

He prepared several young men for college and during the Civil War he gave his services as teacher to the High School to save the town the expense of a teacher's salary. Twice during the Civil War he went to the front on the Christian Commission, once to Fredericksburg to minister to the wounded after a great battle and once to the camps near Washington, during the winter.

From 1874 to 1920 he wrote annually the "Select Notes on the International Sunday School Lessons," which has reached a total publication of over two million volumes. He had been under appointment by the A. B. C. F. M. to go as a foreign missionary to Madras, India, but was unable to carry out his plans. Twenty-five years later missionaries in every land were using "Peloubet's Notes." Among his other works were "Studies in the

He was a member of the Boston Authors Club and the Twentieth Century Club. His varied interests and his love of out-of-doors are shown by his active membership for many years in the Newton Boat Club and the Woodland Golf Club.

On April 28, 1859 Dr. Peloubet married Mary Abby Thaxter, daughter of Sidney Thaxter of Bangor, Me. Last year they celebrated their sixtieth anniversary.

He survived by his wife and four daughters—Mrs. Alice Peloubet Norton of Chicago, Mrs. Grace T. Farguhar of San Francisco, Mrs. Ernest Swallow of Gardner, Mass., and Miss Louise Peloubet of Auburndale, Mass., and also by eleven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at half-past two in the Auburn Congregational Church, which he has been closely connected for over thirty years. Dr. Edward Payson Drew, the pastor, officiated, assisted by Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, secretary of the A. B. C. F. M.

There were vocal selections by Miss Sallie Turner and Mr. Waldo W. Cole, "Crossing the Bar" and "O Love that will not let me go," Miss Turner singing "Good Night" as a solo. The ushers were Dr. Guy M. Winslow and Rev. Dr. George E. Martin. The interment was at Newton Cemetery.

GIRL SCOUTS

The senior scouts of troop 3, Newton Center, have become very ambitious and are teaching themselves the work for the civics merit badge. By carefully dividing the work, each girl has one topic assigned to her. She is responsible for hunting up the material, consulting it, and teaching it to the other scouts. This is one of the most difficult badges to earn, as the work includes study of city, state and federal government, but by co-operating in this way, the girls hope to finish it in a six weeks' course. The same troop is using their recreation period, to learn the Flamboyant sword dance, if it ever goes well perhaps sometime you can see it.

Newton Centre drug stores are feeling blue. Why? Because 100 per cent of Troop 3 have signed up for health records, which means, among other things, no soda or ice-cream cones between meals for three months.

Chinese Skillful Candy Makers.

The Chinese are very skillful in making confectionery. They are able to empty an orange of its pulp entirely and then fill it up with fruit jelly without one being able to find the smallest cut in the rind or even a tiny hole. Indeed, they even empty an egg in this manner and fill it with a sort of almond nougat without one being able to find the slightest break or incision in the shell.

Peruvian Rain Tree.

It is estimated that one of the Peruvian rain trees will on the average yield nine gallons of water each day. In a field of an area of one kilometer square, that is, 5,250 feet each way, can be grown 10,000 trees separated from each other by twenty-five meters. This plantation produces daily 395,000 liters of water.

Novel Foot Rest.

A satisfactory foot rest or accelerator extension may be made from an ordinary strap hinge. One-half of the hinge is fastened to the floor boards while the other rests on the accelerator. All that is necessary to operate the accelerator is a slight pressure on any part of the free half of the hinge.

Memory.

The qualities of a good memory are, in the first place, to be susceptible; secondly, to be retentive; and thirdly, to be ready. It is but rarely that these three qualities are united in the same person. We often indeed meet with a memory which is at once susceptible and ready; but I doubt very much if such memories be commonly very retentive; for the same set of habits which are favorable to the first two qualities are adverse to the third.—Dugald Stewart.

"Dead Fruit."

Leaving baseball, football and boxing aside, there is no longer a great disparity between woman's and man's athletic prowess. But whether the women should be permitted to compete with the men in the golf, tennis, shooting, and other championships is debatable ground. If the men oppose it, one can hardly blame them, for it must be years before victory over a woman will be regarded as anything but "dead fruit," and defeat as anything but a disgrace.

Sod Filter for Sewage.

French experiments have found ordinary sod an efficient filter for sewage.

Months of Winter.

Astronomically winter is reckoned to begin in northern latitudes when the sun enters Capricorn, or at the solstice (about December 21), and to end at the equinox in March; but in ordinary speech winter comprises the three coldest months—December, January and February, being reckoned the winter months in the United States, and November, December and January in Great Britain.

Found It Somewhat Depressing.

I had taken little nephew with me to a funeral at the home of one of our neighbors. He was very quiet during the music and singing and subdued weeping of the mourners, but gave a sigh of relief when the services were over. On our way home he looked up at me and remarked: "It wasn't a very lively party, was it, auntie?"—Chicago American.

Composer's Peculiar Method.

The world's masters of art and music and literary geniuses have used different means for arousing inspiration and stimulating imagination. An exchange recalls. Thus, Grieg, the musician, when he was about to compose, used to heat his head for several days, whereupon he would lose his appetite and his eyes would become inflamed and his imagination thereby stimulated.

Janitor.

The Romans always had a slave who stood by the door. Since the latter was called "janua," the term "janitor" came to be applied to him. Our janitors have a great many duties other than those connected with waiting upon the door; but this detail of Roman house management is crystallized in their name.

Height of Business Capacity.

BRANCH OF REPUBLICAN LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Friday evening, March 26th, over 150 enthusiastic Republicans met in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Republican League of Massachusetts. Donald D. McKay presided. James A. Tirrell of Rockland gave the history of the aims and purposes of the Republican League. Community singing was led by Albert Edmund Brown and at the close of the meeting over a hundred joined the League and organized a branch in Newton Centre. The following officers were elected: Ward 5—Chairman, Phillip C. Brown; secretary, Lawrence Allen; chairman meetings, Henry W. Gall; chairman membership, A. H. Elder; chairman music, E. C. Johnson; chairman naturalization and registration, Donald D. McKay.
Ward 6—Chairman, Charles P. Powers; secretary, Albert S. Kendall; chairman meetings, George S. Smith; chairman membership, F. M. Burditt; chairman music, Ralph McEllan; chairman naturalization and registration, Allen Hubbard.
On Tuesday evening, March 30th, a large number of prominent citizens of West Newton and Auburndale attended a dinner in Players' Hall for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Republican League. Mr. Albert Edmund Brown led the singing. Mr. William B. Baker, secretary of the Ward committee, presided. Daniel A. MacKay outlined the aims and purposes of the League, after a large number of those present joined and temporary list of officers was elected.
Ward 3—Temporary chairman, Herbert M. Cole; temporary secretary, Phillip Carter.
Ward 4—Temporary chairman, Chauncey B. Conn; temporary secretary, Will C. Eddy.

So enthusiastic were the men from Ward 4 who were present at this meeting that they decided to have a meeting in the near future and some arrangements are being made for the purpose of holding another organization meeting in Auburndale. The enthusiasm and earnestness with which the men took up the work augurs well for the success of the Republican party in 1920.

First Written Presidential Message. President Jefferson was the first chief executive of the nation to read his message to congress. The event took place December 8, 1801. Prior to this it had been the custom, inaugurated by Washington, for the president to appear in person before congress and speak his message, reading from manuscript if he desired.

ALDERMEN MEET TWICE

Authorize Printing of Planning Board Report.
Hearing to be Given on Sunday Sports

As is usually the case, when the Board of Aldermen has a long docket, it has a short session, and last Monday night was no exception.

For the first time for many weeks, every member was present, with President Harriman in the chair.

The long list of matters pending was run through rapidly, the only extended debate coming over an appropriation of $3000 to enable the Planning Board to print an elaborate report which has been prepared by its expert, Mr. A. A. Shurtlett. Aldermen Young, Hollis and Jewell opposed the appropriation as being excessive in price, and as a matter which might well wait another year while Aldermen Allen, Whidden, Goodwin and Carter advocated the printing as being of great assistance in the work of the Planning Board, particularly in the matter of zoning districts, which is now pending in the Legislature. During the discussion, City Solicitor Bartlett was called upon for one of those rapid fire opinions the Aldermen delight to obtain from the Law Department, and ruled that these reports could not be sold. The order was adopted with Aldermen Hollis, Jewell, Madden and Young voting in opposition.

There were several perfunctory hearings at the beginning of the session, Edison poles being requested on Beaumont avenue, concrete sidewalks on Windermere road, taking land for playground on Eden avenue, and establishing the tax limit for the ensuing year, at none of which did anyone appear. Mrs. Dodge and Miss Weir objected to a proposed private garage for W. A. Goode on Wallum street. Mayor Childs sent in various communications, including requests for $250 more for furnishing American Legion headquarters in the old church building, $5000 for widening of Walnut street, Newtonville, $2500 additional for collection of ashes and papers, a recommendation that all resurfacing and construction of streets for the present year be done by money raised through bond issues, and the resolution of Newton Post, American Legion that ex-service men in the employ of the city be paid the difference in pay between what the Federal government paid them while in service and the salary they relinquished from the city.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. invited the Aldermen to its annual gymnastic exhibition on April 8th and the School Committee requested that portable school rooms be provided before September for the Claffin (2), Horace Mann (1), Franklin (1) and Burr (2) schools.

The usual number of applications were received for renewal of all kinds of licenses annually granted before May 1st, the M. & B. Street Railway Company asked for a relocation of its track in Washington street from Newton to West Newton, Frank H. Meacham requested a private garage permit at 342 Elliot street, sewers were asked in Allerton road, Dorset road, Beaumont avenue, Milton street, Bonad road, Channing road, Avalon road, for improvements in Claffin place and Adams street, for the laying out of Victoria Circle, Royce road, Morton street, Morton road, Claffin place, Ashton avenue, Orient avenue, Ken-

SUNDAY SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Norumbega District Hears Interesting Speakers at Newtonville

The Norumbega District Sunday School Association met on Thursday evening in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

Supper was served at six o'clock, after which the speakers of the evening were introduced by the President, Mr. Richard O. Walter of Auburn.

Mayor Childs said that in his opinion our country needed two things, true patriotism, and true religion.

Prof. Frederick L. Anderson spoke on "What the State has to say in regard to the Teaching of Religion" and reviewed briefly the history of legislation on this subject.

Dr. E. Morris Fergusson, D. D., the General Secretary of the Mass. S. S. Association, spoke on the need of effective co-operation of the individual church, the district association, and the state association to meet the responsibility for religious education in Massachusetts.

At the close of Dr. Fergusson's speech, a general discussion led by President Walter followed.

Low Wages in Colombia.
Wages of the native washers and placer miners in the Tigul region in Colombia average from 25 cents to $1 per day. The earnings of the native miners depend on whether the ground is worked before or after a flood, which causes natural ripples to form in bars along the stream.

50 YEARS OLD

Mother's Association of Auburndale Observes Semi-Centennial

The semi-centennial of the organizing of the Mothers' Association of Auburndale was held in the Congregational Chapel on Wednesday afternoon.

The Mothers' Association was started in 1870 by a band of seven mothers who came together to pray for their children. Each member had a little book in which was kept the name and birthday of each child and prayer was offered as the birthdays came around.

After the Missionary Home was established the "Missionaries' children" were added to the list.

The membership is now 158 with Mrs. Martha Kelly as the only charter member living. One member, Mrs. Hildreth, who joined the association in 1872 was present, and two, Mrs. Blood, and Mrs. Chapin, who had joined in 1877.

The program included a violin solo by Mr. John Heibek, scripture reading by Mrs. W. H. Blood, music by Mrs. Wilson, and by Mrs. Harold Alden Grout, and several addresses by Mrs. E. E. Strong, Mrs. N. L. Grant, Mrs. Cora K. Warren of Japan and Mrs. E. S. Tead.

Tea and a social hour completed the program.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

Closes Its Social Season With a Successful Cabaret

The concluding social event of the year at the Hunnewell Club took the form of a cabaret held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and on both evenings the hall was filled to its utmost capacity. Gaily colored streamers of yellow, and yellow daffodils on the tables added a touch of spring, and formed a background for the dresses of the women.

The program opened with a dance by Miss Eleanor Wheeler. This was followed by whistling solos by Mrs. Edward B. Botsford, who went about among the audience, and by a group of songs by Mrs. Lewis Freeman Pike, concluding with another dance by Miss Wheeler in which she impersonated a gypsy.

The second number, "The Musical Pawnbrokers" by David K. Grant, F. Webster Wiggin, and Robert Woodworth, provided much fun and laughter.

The third number consisted of a group of stories by Miss Alice Loneragan, and of songs by Miss Jessie D. Carney. Miss Loneragan's selections were very timely, touching upon the problem of "Help," and of the uncanny small boy.

Because of evening engagements, Mr. Nelson Wearing appeared next on the program, living up to his reputation as "The Man who makes the piano talk."

NEWTON THRIFT EXPOSITION

Plans Being Rapidly Completed for the Exposition in the Armory, April 15-16-17

Plans for the Newton Thrift Exposition are nearing completion. Local organizations all over the city are working each on their own exhibit, to make as interesting a contribution as possible. Some 80 exhibits and departments, covering every detail of household economics and child welfare, together with public health and conservation of natural resources, will be shown and explained by experts.

The pageant, "Thrift and Spend-thrift" will be presented each evening in Players' Hall, at 8:30 P. M. Beautiful costumes, music and dancing, add to the appeal of the allegory.

The lecture room at the Armory will be a center of interest. Every afternoon at 4:30 Miss Agnes Donnam will speak under the auspices of the Newton banks. On Friday evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Walter B. Lancaster will give an illustrated lecture on the Conservation of Eyesight. At 8:30 Mr. Alden C. Browne, chief game and fish warden of Massachusetts, will give an illustrated lecture on the Propagation of Fish and Birds. Miss Margaret Tucker, Museum Director of the Cambridge public schools, will speak on Birds, illustrated with lantern slides, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. On Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock a play "Milk Fairies" will be presented by Boston school children. Teal's orchestra will play every evening. There will also be music in the afternoon.

Some of the exhibits will be unusual in interest. Swift & Company will show "new meats" demonstrating economical ways of cutting and buying. At the Conservation exhibit Mr. Edward Kennedy, chief rat catcher for the State, will give a demonstration in catching rats.

Under the auspices of the Newton Community Club there will be an exhibit of "Correct and Attractive Dress for the High School Girl and the Debutante." In connection with this exhibit costumes from the leading Boston houses will be shown on living models for 15 minutes of every hour.

There are still other features which have not been published. Come, look, listen, and ASK QUESTIONS!!!

Mr. Fred H. Daniels will give a lecture on "Art and Style in Dressing" at 4:30 on Friday, April 16, in connection with the exhibit of Correct Dress at the Newton Thrift Exposition.

WHEN the management and ownership of THE HOTEL WESTMINSTER was taken over in 1913, I took MR. PROBABLE INCREASE IN INSURANCE RATES

In a recent issue of the Journal of Commerce, a New York paper which follows insurance conditions very closely, it was stated that by April 15th automobile-owners might expect increased rates.

It is generally supposed that the rates for fire insurance will not increase very much, but the rates for theft coverage will be higher as insurance companies writing automobile lines last year suffered heavy theft losses.

Secretary Ladd of the Twin Mutuals states that theft losses in the Automobile Mutual Fire Insurance Company were larger than usual, but that owing to the practice of specializing and selecting risks the Company had a good year and is paying a 25 per cent. dividend to policyholders at the expiration of their contracts.

Increased rates always mean interest in Mutual insurance because of the saving which Mutual Companies effect for their policyholders, and Mr. Ladd is looking forward to an unusually good business this season.

"DIOCESAN CENTER"

The Boston College Musical Club University Heights, Chestnut Hill, are establishing a very high standard for themselves in the musical world—and they are very generous in giving their valuable services to the Newton District or Diocesan Center for Catholic Women for a Grand Sunday Concert, April 18th, at 3 o'clock.

EASTER PAGEANT AT ELIOT CHURCH

An Easter Pageant, "The Immortality of Love and Service," by H. Augustine Smith, was presented by the Sunday School of Eliot Church, assisted by members of the choir, last Sunday evening, before a large audience.

The first scene represented Jerusalem on Palm Sunday. Mr. Charles A. Butts, taking the part of High Priest, followed by a choir of Junior girls, hastening to greet the Prophet King. The second scene, "The water at the sepulchre," showed two Roman Guards (Mr. E. I. Leeds and Lieut. Lockwood) standing guard, while the three Marys sorrowed near the tomb. In the third scene, the women (Miss Helen Morton, Miss Clara Whipple and Miss Helen Partridge) discovered the stone rolled away and Mary Magdalene broke forth in the song: "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth."

In the fourth scene, "Building the City of God and the House of Brotherhood," the twelve foundation stones of the city wall appeared, typifying the Spirits of Courage, Truth, Health, Immortality, Home Life, Charity, Light, Happiness, Friendship, Love, Humility, Temperance. Then followed Isaiah's vision, Mr. Hubert E. Beck with taking the part of Isaiah. At the altar eight young people received the light which they were to carry on as Missionary, Minister, Christian Business man, Physician, Teacher and Guardians of the Christian Home Fires. In conclusion the audience joined with these in singing, "The House of Brotherhood."

The committee in charge of the pageant, included Mr. Nathan Heard, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mr. William Ellison, and Miss B. I. Bartlett. The costumes were made by members of the Evening Extension Department of the Woman's Association under the direction of Mrs. Clement Smith. Miss Martha O'Brien and Miss Ella Jemison, in charge of the young people in the fourth scene, Mr. Arthur Kendrick had charge of the stage and lighting effects. Mr. L. D. Gibbs was Prolocutor.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scouts are going into the Thrift Exposition with all their might, as one of the main laws of the scout organization is that "Scout is Thrifty." While the scout program is hard to show in an affair such as this, still the scouts will have a camp scene, and portable wireless set, and holo-graph set and other methods of signaling. Posters will tell of the work that the scouts are trying to do, which is not of a kind that can be shown at the exposition. The scouts have placed about 600 posters for the Committee this week, and expect to put up another 600 this coming week in the different villages. Different troops of scouts will be on duty at the Armory afternoons and evenings and will give demonstrations and explanations of the scout work to those interested.

Troop 5 of Newton Centre, under the able leadership of Scoutmaster Ernest Mansur, is making rapid progress in their work. Today a hike was taken, which was well attended, and on the hike it is planned to hold a sham battle of some kind. As Mr. Mansur is a veteran of the 26th division, the scouts will get a glimpse of the real thing. The boys are taking provisions to cook over the open fire and which will enable them to pass some of their cooking tests. On April 16th a social is planned to which the staff officers of the Council are asked. At the last meeting of this troop they were fortunate in having with them Executive Talbot, who talked to the boys briefly on some precautions to be used in hiking and camping, and Mr. Samuel B. Paul, of the Troop Committee, who told the boys what the Committee was going to do to aid them in the scout work.

Troop 10 of Waban had a tent rising last Saturday at which the Scout Executive attended. Last Friday the Executive talked to the boys on Camping and on other subjects at their regular meeting.

At the Scout office is the English Boy Scout magazine, called the "Headquarters Gazette" but known to the English scouts as "the Green 'un" on account of its green cover. This is a most interesting magazine, and copies may be borrowed from Mr. Talbot. A few copies of the new Scoutmasters handbook have arrived, and a second shipment is expected daily. This book is said to be the finest thing on Boy Leadership ever published, and great credit should be given to Dr. H. W. Hurt the editor. Every scout leader should get a copy of this book, which may be obtained from Mr. Talbot.

The members of the Court of Honor took the first trip of the season to Needham in the council fliver and there examined nine boys for their tenderfoot tests, all passing with honor. The new scouts are Emery Desne, William Groton, Donald Mitchell, Lars Nelson, Kenneth Trow, Nelson Eldridge, Winthrop Smith, George Green and Ronald Studley. Deputy Commissioner Johnston says he intends to have a court of honor again in a few weeks, and to keep the men of this court busy until summer with additional Courts.

The Wireless club is meeting every Wednesday evening and Friday afternoon, and expects to have power for their big set installed any day now. All scouts interested are invited to come and look the place over.

DENISON HOUSE BENEFIT

One of the most important events of the dramatic season in Boston will be the appearance of Miss Edith Wynne Matthison at the Park Square Theatre on the afternoon of Tuesday, April 13th. Miss Matthison will play the leading part in her husband's (Charles Rann Kennedy) latest play, "The Fool from the Hills."

The play is a fantasy, with a charming love story running through it, and its main theme is "Bread! Bread for Everybody!" Material Bread and Spiritual Bread!—surely a most timely subject. This will be its first production upon any stage, and the only one in Boston, and Miss Mat-thison brings a special company with her for the production. From here the play goes to various colleges. The scene, which is laid in a Persian Garden, is being especially prepared by Mr. F. Lyman Clark, and Mr. John Craig is lending various stage properties. Tea and ices are to be served during intermissions by a group of society girls; members of the Junior League are to act as ushers, and there is a long list of distinguished patronesses. All this is being done for the benefit of Denison House, and tickets, ranging in price from $5 to 50 cents, may be procured from Herrick.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

There is still hope that the present session will be over by June 15th if not June 1st, but it certainly will not be if time is continued to be wasted over trivial matters as it is at present. On Tuesday, for instance, a half hour was wasted over the attempt to reconsider a trivial matter which had been "licked to a frazzle" after a long debate the day before. It was defeated again of course, but the time consumed can never be made up.

Last week was quite a busy week with long debates on a proposed cold storage bill limiting storage to six months, on which the House at first acted favorably only to reverse itself the next time it came up for action. The Sunday Sports bill was passed to its final stage by a vote of 151 to 76. Representative Early voting for it and Representatives Rice and Brimblecom in opposition. Later in the week, the emergency preamble was put on the bill, Mr. Rice voting against this action, the others voting in favor, the vote being 130 to 37. There was a battle royal over the order asking the opinion of the Supreme Court on the proposed 2.75 and 4 per cent. liquor bills, the order being finally defeated by a vote of 83 to 115. Representative Rice was away with his committee that afternoon but the other Newton men voted for the order.

On Monday of this week the emergency preamble was put on the amendment fixing the time to begin as April 25th, the vote being 172 to 29. On the same day the House favored a bill to fix the penalty for auto theft at a minimum of one year in jail and a maximum of five years in prison.

The Commission on the Necessaries of Life held hearings Monday afternoon on several alleged cases of rent profiteering, including that of C. W. Page of 2 Walnut terrace, Newtonville, summoned on complaint of a tenant living at 9 Highland park, Newtonville, admitted he has given the tenant notice that he will raise the rent from $30 to $33 the first of May. He also admitted that on December 1, last year, one month after he bought the house, he raised the rent from $22.50 to $30. In addition to paying the new rate of $33 the tenant is required to pay the water tax, he said.

Queried by Commissioner Adams he said he paid but $2000 for the house, giving a mortgage of $2500 so that his equity amounted to only $500. He agreed after the hearing not to put the new rate into effect before September 1.

A TRIBUTE

Mrs. Arthur Perry Fiske of Sharon, Mass., entered the larger life, April 6th.

Mrs. Fiske will be remembered by many in the Newtons as Miss Florence Summer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Summer. Newton was her birthplace and she was educated at the Newton schools with an additional course of study at Columbia University, New York.

Her gifts and attainments were rich and varied. Music was her native breath, she had a fine contralto voice, played well, and understood the wonderful art so thoroughly, that she interpreted it to those less favored. Mrs. Fiske also painted with delicacy and beauty.

She was identified with various Newton organizations, among them the Choral Club and a group meeting for literary work, called The Neighbors. She united with the Elliot Church in girlhood and always retained her membership.

Mrs. Fiske enjoyed wide opportunities of travel, both in this and other countries, and her powers of keen observation and joyous appreciation, drew from these experiences lasting pleasure for herself and her friends. In 1911 occurred her marriage to Mr. Arthur Perry Fiske, of Sharon, and Mrs. Fiske, proved a delightful addition to her husband's large circle of friends.

Her social charm and devotion to community interests won for her a large place. High School lunches and other helpful measures claimed her wise and enthusiastic service.

The Fortnightly Club received her hearty co-operation; sometimes she would secure for it some gifted lecturer or entertainer and not only meet financial obligations, but with painstaking care, arrange every detail for the comfort of all concerned; indeed, this prompt and exact attention to all responsibilities was a shining characteristic.

Mrs. Fiske had a buoyant, out-going nature; her merry heart did indeed "do good like a medicine" and no sorrow could eclipse her self-forgetfulness. When her little three-year old son, a child of rare promise, was suddenly taken from her sight by one of the dread ails of childhood, she rose from her crushing grief to minister to other little children. One memorial to little William Fiske, whose musical ability far outwent his years, was a seat at the Symphony Concert, always kept occupied by some music-loving soul.

The beautiful home at Sharon was constantly shared with a host of friends; its choicest treasures were placed at their disposal. Who could forget long drives through lovely surrounding country, or strolls through the luxuriant rose-garden, whence one emerged, hands filled with fragrant spoil and heart filled with fadeless memories.

Of her it may truly be said, "God walked in her garden," and "her duty to her neighbor she expressed in meeting him happy." The deep sympathy of their many friends will go out to her husband; to her only sister, Mrs. Harry Adams, of New Bedford, and to her brother, Mr. Charles S. Summer of Philadelphia.

Gas Light Co. to open certain streets for gas mains, and of Richard Haret to connect house on Suffolk road with sewer at a 1 per cent. grade.

Fitch, no action deemed necessary on petition to exclude trucks from Beacon street, $1597 authorized for fixing up old church for American legion, $22.105 appropriated for making alterations in school buildings required by state police, the Street Commissioner was authorized to advertise for bids for completing South Meadow Brook improvement, street sprinkling ordered for 1920 with a 5 cent assessment per front foot, $5000 voted for widening Walnut street, Newtonville, the corner of Jefferson street and the new state boulevard was rounded, Oak avenue laid out with a building line at an expense of $6710, $2500 additional voted for collection of ashes, $8000 granted for improvement of Winchester street and $5325 for fixing up Nahanton street, leave to withdraw granted on transfer of junk license of Joseph Hoffman from Maguire court to Barrington court, and permits granted the Newton Highlands Garage to keep additional gasoline and to R. H. Barnes for a private garage on Bowdoin street.

There was some discussion over the no action necessary report of the committee on the communication from the Mayor in regard to changing the ordinance requiring the removal of snow and ice from paved sidewalks. Alderman Hollis objected to this disposition and called attention to the fact that a number of Newton Highlands residents had been brought into court this winter for violating the ordinance. Aldermen Spaulding and Nichols explained the action of the committee and Alderman Clement said that the Newton Highlands trouble was due entirely to an indiscreet, to say nothing of a dishonest, contractor, who had the matter had all been straightened out and there was no need of changing the ordinance. The report was accepted, although Alderman Hollis voted in opposition.

The ordinance fixing rates for sewer assessments was changed, increasing the rates from 20 cents to 30 cents per front foot and from 1 1/2 cents to 2 cents per square foot of area. The ordinance fixing the tax limit was amended increasing the limit from $14 to $22 per $1000. Proposed amendments to the Plumbing ordinance were recommended. $6000 was granted for further study and plans for a war memorial. Resolutions were adopted favoring legislation to prevent the pollution of the Charles river and protesting against legislation in regard to maternity benefits.

$8,794.70 was granted for the purpose of new automobiles for various city departments. The Street Commissioner and the City Engineer being favored with Dodge cars while the other officials must ride in Fords. A report was received from the Comptroller that the accounts in his office had been checked up to December 31, 1919, and submitting a trial balance up to May 31, 1920. The meeting was adjourned until Wednesday after Alderman Blake had the City Clerk requested to send each member of the Board a copy of the new Sunday Sports law.

The Board met on Wednesday evening in order to authorize the construction of sewers in various streets, under the new rate of assessments adopted on Monday night. Vice-President Forkall presided and his unsuccessful attempt to delay a proposed public hearing on the acceptance of the new Sunday Sports act. Alderman Hollis wanted this hearing held at the next meeting on April 20 and Alderman Forkall strenuously objected, but failed to give any good reason why it should be delayed, saying it was a legal point on which he must consult the city solicitor. The hearing was ordered for April 20 but Alderman Forkall has filed a motion to reconsider the vote and may postpone it in that indirect way.

There was also some discussion over an increase of $1202 to cover architect fees for the proposed alterations in school buildings and which had been omitted from the original appropriation of $22,105, but it finally approved.

Sewers were ordered in Mayflower road, Beaumont avenue, Walker street, Commonwealth avenue, College road, Cabot street and Cedar to cost over $27,000 and a bond issue of $20,000 was also voted. $10,000 in Street Improvement bonds was also approved, and private garages granted to A. D. Dowd on Warren street and F. R. Churchill on Cedar street.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

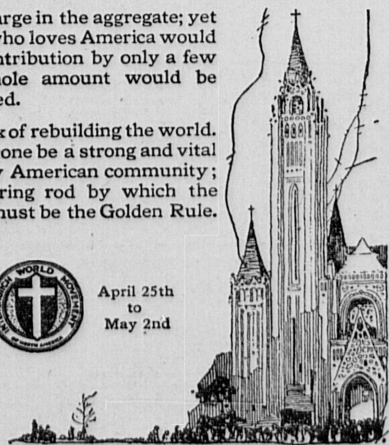

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

What Would You Buy With $30-or With $70?

On the twelve Saturdays from now until July first we shall use regularly several hundred extra salespeople.
A considerable number of these will be retained for Monday work. Married women find keen satisfaction in earning their own money for a new frock, or some little luxury for the home which might not otherwise be had just now.

College and high school girls find this a means of adding to their spending allowance or fund for graduation expenses.

If you are free to work one or two days each week, come and talk it over with Mrs. Abbott, seventh floor, Employment Department.

EVERY WOMAN

Every well-dressed woman knows that the success of her Spring and Summer Suit depends on the Correctness of Style, Perfect Fit, Becoming Color, and the Wearing Qualities of Fabrics.
My reputation for all of these is too well established to be further mentioned.
Nevertheless, I invite your kind inspection of my latest models, fashions, and fabrics in order that you may have an opportunity to convince yourself of the correctness of my statement.

I am sure that a trial order would result in a mutual satisfaction.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Newton Thrift Exposition is uppermost in the minds of Newton club women at the present moment and everyone who attends will be surprised at the extent and proportions which the enterprise has attained.
Other cities around Boston have made a beginning, but none has come up to what Newton is about to present.
Newton is the first to make a special feature of the Conservation of Natural Resources. It will be in charge of the Newton Community and Social Science Clubs, Mrs. Ralph C.
Henry and Mrs. Fred H. Tucker, chairmen. A full description of this unique exhibit is given below. The college women of the city are planning a booth to show how the women's colleges are the fountain heads of the educational system of the country, that letting them deteriorate thru lack of financial support comes right back to local communities by cutting off the supply of teachers and lowering the educational advantages of the children. Space forbids any further mention of the attractions.
Go and see them for yourselves.

State Federation

Wednesday, April 14, 11 A. M. An all-day conference at Andover, primarily for the Fifth District, but open to all club women. The first half-hour will be given to club topics of general interest. The rest of the morning will be taken up with "The Work of the Music Department in a Community" and to "Better Music for Motion Picture Houses." There will be a box luncheon between the sessions. At 2.15 there will be a quarter-hour of community singing led by Mrs. A. H. Davison, chairman of the State Music department, after which Mrs. Carolyn M. Engler, State director of Community Service for the Federation, will speak on "Community Work." Mr. J. Asbury Pitman of the State Normal School at Salem will speak of "Purposes and Methods of carrying on Community Service." Trains leave North Station at 8, 10 and 10.35. Cars may be taken hourly at Everett terminal for Andover.

Local Happenings

Dr. George H. Blakeslee of Clark University gave the closing of his series of lectures upon Current Events before the Community Club on Thursday of last week in which he discussed Keynes' "Economic Consequences of the War," a book which is bringing forth much comment from all circles and has already exhausted an edition of 70,000 copies. Dr. Blakeslee said that it is brilliantly written and most interesting reading, not at all the dry sort of thing one would judge from the title. While he does not place any great weight upon the earlier part of the book in which the figures at the Peace Congress are discussed in a most entertaining manner, Dr. Blakeslee said that the conclusions, upon the economic side, which forms the second part of the book, are those of an expert and should be given respectful attention. Dr. Keynes takes the position that the conditions of the treaty are unjust, that they contravene the armistice; that they are impossible of fulfillment; and that they are unwise and almost disastrous for all of us. Prof. Blakeslee in summing up the course for the session feels that as a result of the war the world has been "made safe for democracy." That autocracies have been overthrown and democracies set up, that the democratic form of government is the normal form. Notwithstanding its defects the Treaty is the first one to rest upon the principle of self-determination. The period following every great international struggle is always a great challenge to those who have the faith to believe that the world can grow better from age to age.

The Newton Highlands Monday Club at its last meeting had an informal social entertainment which was much enjoyed by those present. Miss Dorothy Greeley from the West Newton Music School sang.

Miss Adelaide R. Webster and Mrs.
C. Peter Clark were in charge of the meeting of the Newton Highlands C.
L. S. C. held at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Clark on Monday afternoon.
"King Richard II." was read and discussed. The course of study for the coming year was considered and a social time enjoyed.

On Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, the Newton Mothers' Club had a delightful lecture by Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp on "The Magical Chance." Prof. Sharp maintains that in our sordid, hurried and conventional life of today we are losing sight of what he calls the "magical chances," but that they exist just the same in the common everyday affairs of life and may be seized, if we are but on the lookout for them. Assisting Mrs. Fisher as hostesses were Mrs. Jack, Mrs. Hallett and Mrs. Easton. Light refreshments were served during the social hour. Mrs. J. N.
Lovell, vice-president, was in the chair.

On April 5th the Waban Woman's Club held its annual meeting. A delicious luncheon was served in the Union Church vestry at one o'clock, under the management of a most efficient committee with high school girls as waitresses. The tables were very attractive with centerpieces of beautiful flowers.
Following the luncheon Mrs. Gifford Le Clear sang a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Stephenson.

The president, Mrs. Susan D. Ar-nould, called the business meeting to order at 2.30 P. M. In behalf of the club Mrs. Florence Kimball presented flowers to the outgoing president in appreciation of the splendid service she has rendered the club during her term. The most important business to come before this meeting was the consideration of three amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the club.

The club voted to accept the recommendation of the Executive Board that various sums of money be given to the following: Newton Welfare Bureau, Newton Hospital, West Newton Music School, Social Service League of the Newton Hospital, and the Consumer's League; and that $100 be given toward a scholarship fund for a Newton High School girl.

The following officers were elected:
president, Mrs. Rachel E. Dutch; vice-president, Mrs. Esther S. Davis; recording secretary, Mrs. Lillian D. Reinhardt; corresponding secretary, Miss Grace Andrews; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret W. Brown; new director, Mrs.
Ethel G. North; chairman entertainment committee, Mrs. Sarah B. Souther; auditor, Mrs. Herbert O. Stetson; nominating committee, Mrs. Constance S. Gram, Mrs. Gretchen Ferris, and Mrs. Harriet Harlow. The annual reports showed a very successful year.
Children's Day will be held on May 25, when an out-of-door pageant will be presented.

A chafing-dish luncheon, a reception to past presidents, and a Satire of the Year's Committees was the program for the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, April 6th.

The luncheon given by the Hospitality Committee, of which Mrs. J. E. Ingram is chairman, was attractively served on small tables, and was a great success throughout.

The "Satire" arranged by the Program Committee, Mrs. Walter T. Wells, chairman, was highly enjoyed by a large audience. Its topical hits were in prose, verse, dancing, and singing.
The sixteen committees who took part made their entrance on the stage through a large book, a facsimile of the club's Year Book. The afternoon was one of the most enjoyable, given by the retiring committee, whose originality and executive ability, have been paramount throughout the year.

On Monday evening of this week Mrs.
W. C. Crawford spoke before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on European questions dwelling particularly upon Russia. Ice cream and cake were served afterwards. Last night Mrs. Claude U. Gilson in her talk upon Citizenship took up the Federal Government.

"Spending the Food Dollar" was the subject of the lecture given by Miss Alice Bradley of Miss Farmer's Cooking School, at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. In opening her talk Miss Bradley reviewed the five divisions of the income with which the experts are now replacing the old percentages, that held true before the war. She questioned whether or not one-fifth of the income is enough for the food; but whatever your income is and whatever your food dollar is, that amount should be divided into five parts, which more or less nearly cover the cost of the five different sorts of food necessary in order that the body be properly nourished, namely, milk, fruits and vegetables; meat, fish and eggs, cereals, fats and sugars.

Beginning with milk, the most important, no family of five should take less than three quarts, a pint for an adult and a quart for a child being considered the requisite amount. Of fruits and vegetables there should be not less than a pound per person per day. Dried fruits may be substituted for fresh and 1-6 of a pound of dried is equivalent to 1 pound of fresh.
About 23 cents of the dollar should be used for this division. Third in importance is the protein group—meat, fish and eggs, about from 1/4 to 1/2 a pound per day per person should be allowed and this will use up about 1/4 of the dollar. About a fifth will go for the fats and sugars, while of the cereals, including bread, 3/4 of a pound per person per day is a fair amount and the average will be about 12 cents of the dollar. It is possible to feed a family of five on $14 a week at present prices, but it will not be a luxurious menu and will be made up of only the less expensive kinds of foods. Twenty dollars is more nearly what is needed for a fairly varied and comfortable menu.

But whether it be 40 cents or $2.50 per day per person the menu should contain the same proportion of food stuffs.

Miss Bradley stated that 25 per cent of the children of the United States are underweight, which means undernourished, and it is not confined to the children of the poor, but is due to the fact that enough is not known about properly balanced rations.

Miss Bradley showed samples of cooked food which she had brought to illustrate new ways of doing things and gave many helpful suggestions.
A very successful food sale was held in the adjoining parlor.

At the business meeting of the Socal Science Club on Wednesday morning Mrs. Sterling Elliott gave a fitting tribute to the memory of Miss Anna M. Whiting. Miss Jessie M. Fisher gave a report of the recent President's Conference. The club appointed Miss Georgia H. Emery delegate to the Biennial at Des Moines.

Two bills relative to conservation were presented through the legislative committee, one now pending in the State legislature providing for the reforestation of idle lands in Massachusetts and the other asking for an appropriation by congress to continue the purchase of forest lands in the White Mountains and in the Southern Appalachians. The original appropriation has now been exhausted and the present bill provides for a continuation for another five years of an annual appropriation of $2,000,000. These were both endorsed by the club.

The following appropriations from the club's Philanthropic Fund were voted: Newton Hospital, $100; Stearns School Centre, $250; Welfare Bureau, $50; Hampton Scholarship, $70; West
Newton Music School, $25; Newton Hospital Social Service League, $15;
Near East Fund, $50.

Considerable time was spent upon the consideration of the topics for next year, which will be decided by ballots through the mail. It was voted to have current events lectures at intervals during the season.

DANCING PARTY

A very pretty dancing party was held at the Newton Catholic Club on Easter Monday evening for the Diocesan Center of the League of Catholic Women. Young people were present from the Newtons, Cambridge, Brookline and Waltham and all agreed that they had spent a very enjoyable evening. The party was under the direction of Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald and was a success financially as well as socially. The decorations suggested Easter and several novelties were introduced. For the fan dance the ladies were arranged on one side of the hall with the gentlemen on the other. Much fun resulted from the one-legged race across the hall by the men in search of partners. In the Leap Year Elimination Dance the girls were given boutonnières with numbered tags. As

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The Post held its monthly meeting at the new quarters last Monday night and it proved to be one of the most interesting in the history of the Post. Mr. Herbert Hogan gave a fine talk on the doings of the American Army in Siberia, and his remarks were very much appreciated. He dwelt in great length upon conditions in that country, and brought back many memories to some of his audience by some of his allusions to life in the Army. The bonus question which has caused much speculation throughout the State came up for discussion and was thoroughly threshed out for all time. After a long and at some points a rather heated debate, it was voted to sustain the resolution as originally adopted at the former meeting. Both sides agreed that it was in the interest of the Post to abide by the decision of the majority, and this will be carefully observed. Upon motion of Sailor Ryan, it was voted to appoint a committee of four which would be known as the "Mutual Helping Committee," the duty of which will be to render assistance to any member of the Post who either through illness or non-employment is in need of temporary financial assistance. So that this will not be construed as Charity it may be explained that it is merely a plan whereby a man in need of ready cash may present his case to this committee, who will devise ways and means for immediate assistance; all money advanced to be refunded to the Post when the person assisted is in position to do so.

called "A Game of Cards" was given. This was unusual in plot, and very clever in its presentation of the proud, sensitive, Frenchman who is about to wreck his son's happiness, because of a quarrel over a game of cards. The part of the irascible Frenchman was taken by Dr. Leslie H. Naylor, that of his son by Mr. Geoffrey Baker, while Miss Doris Tracy was Mr. Baker's fiancée, and Mr. Goldwin S. Sprague, her father.

The concluding number was an Old Fashioned Song Sheet, the words of such old favorites as "Annie Rooney" and "The Bowery" being thrown upon the screen and the audience joining in the singing. This proved a very popular number, the singing being led by Mr. Ralph W. Angier, chairman of the entertainment committee.

In charge of the refreshments were Mr. Philip S. Jamieson and Mr. Walter B. Sharp, while Mr. Frank I. Peckham looked after the hall and tickets, and Mr. Mason H. Stone, and Dr. Sterling N. Loveland, took charge of the advertising and program.

The waitresses were Frances Ayres, Emily Blaisdell, Helen Bridges, Florence Brown, Anna Bruner, Margaret Gustin, Eunice Harriman, Alice Holmes, Elizabeth Loveland, Doris Moore, Eleanor Clark, Gwendolyn Currier, Jeannette Curtiss, Laura Drake, Prudence Drake, Florence Owen, Eleanor Painter, Constance Parker, Muriel Peterson, Alice Radcliffe, Marjorie Edmonds, Charlotte Fawcett, Frances Ford, Grace Garsden, Dorothy Griffin, Clara Smith, Dorothy Stebbins, Eleanor Stubbs, Annett Switzer, Katherine White, Elizabeth Young.

Dancing followed the formal program, music being furnished by the Tobacco Orchestra. A social, homelike atmosphere was evident throughout the evening, neighbors and friends mingling together in the spirit of true friendliness.

Their numbers were called the dancers sat down, the remaining couple being given prizes. A group of young girls served the refreshments. The women who assisted Mrs. McDonald in arranging for the dance will hold a whist party at the Newton Catholic Club on Wednesday afternoon, April 14th for the Diocesan Center. Whist will begin at 2 o'clock and a large number of beautiful souvenirs have been donated. Mrs. J. J. Hennessy, 46 Vista Avenue, Abundant, will have charge of the whist assisted by Miss Alice C. Gleason, Mrs. John H. Gordon, Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Mrs. J. E. Brett, Mrs. George Burnett, Mrs. Thomas C. Donovan, Mrs. Ralph Tirrell, Mrs. Robert H. James, Miss M. A. Keyes and Mrs. A. G. Shea.

WOMEN'S CLUB

and mice including the field and forest varieties so damaging to crops and trees; insect pests and fungous diseases, together with methods for their suppression or control.

Among the exhibits will be many charts, books, leaflets, and pictures showing dependence of man upon the development, wise use and management and the increase where possible, of natural resources; because, except from these resources, there could be no food, no shelter, no clothing. Without fertile soil and water supply rightly controlled there can be no crops; without materials, no manufactures; without coal or water power no electricity; without oil, no gasoline nor any sufficient supply of lubricating oil, an absolute necessity for machinery. In short, without natural resources properly handled no materials, therefore no thrift, because nothing to use, nothing to spend or spend for, nothing to save.

Besides literature and charts there will be models to illustrate the effects of soil erosion in relation to agriculture, and of forestation upon slopes to prevent erosion, with their respective results upon dependent farm land. These models are to be prepared by Mr. Swett, head of the agricultural department of the Newton High School.

The Forestry Division of the State Conservation Commission will have an exhibit of forest plantation of particular interest just now because of the "Initiative Petition" introduced into the Legislature by the Massachusetts Forestry Association for reforesting 250,000 acres of idle land. This exhibit, consisting of one box planted with red and white pine transplants and one box of Norway spruce, is prepared by Mr. Cook, the State Forester, who will be present during a part of the Exposition to explain and answer questions. The plantation of alternating red and white illustrates one means of frustrating the blister rust which attacks only 5-needled pines. If therefore these white pines prove diseased they can be removed while still leaving a good stand of red pines.

The Conservation exhibit co-operates in space, material, and activities with the Newton Forest Commission. Mr. Benyon, Shade tree planting and care will be shown by Mr. Benyon, including tree surgery and cavity work illustrated by actual specimens. Mr. Colton and Mr. Perry will describe and illustrate the planting of the Newton Water Basin with alternating white and red pine displacing oak, thus showing, besides the fight against blister rust, also methods of controlling moth infestation through forestry management, since oak is the gypsy moth's favorite food.

Lectures and Talks

An illustrated lecture will be given Friday evening, April 16th, by Mr. Bourne of the Division of Fisheries and Game of the Massachusetts State Conservation Commission. Men are specially invited to this lecture.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Margaret Tucker will give an illustrated lecture on Birds. There will also be many small informal talks upon various subjects; illustrated by charts, models, and transparencies, and some one will be always at hand to explain exhibits and answer questions.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

"Education is the Foundation of Democracy," give to Bryn Mawr. Inspired by this slogan, and guided by the rays of the famous Bryn Mawr lantern, the Newton committee are planning their campaign in aid of the Bryn Mawr endowment drive.

On the afternoon of Thursday, Apr. 15th, in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, the $50,000 six reel film of "Alice in Wonderland" will be presented. This motion picture in which Lewis Carroll's immortal Alice with her dream-land companions are seen "all come to life," will appeal to little children and to grown-ups as well. One hundred and fifty scenes are presented, and no detail has been overlooked which could make the screen presentation of the beloved characters adequate and convincing. They are all there, the March Hare, the Mad Hatter, the White Rabbit, the Cheshire Cat, the Walrus, the Great Duchess, and the rest of them. Come and greet them at Bray Hall on Apr. 15th.

There will be appropriate music, with songs by Mrs. Henry G. Pearson, a member of the committee. Home-made candy will be sold by the ushers.

The list of patronesses includes well known names from all parts of Newton.

G. A. R. DINNER

The annual dinner of Charles Ward Post G. A. R. was held on Monday evening. The dinner was served by the Newton Tent of the Daughters of Veterans, Mrs. W. A. Wetherbee, president. The Post presented exercises were especially interesting. The Post being honored by the presence of the Commander-in-Chief Hon. Daniel M. Hall and his wife of Columbus, O., accompanied by his Chief of Staff, Geo. A. Horsley of the Department of Massachusetts, also by His Honor the Mayor, Captain Sinclair Weeks and Major Cabot of the American Legion and Assistant Adj. Gen. Philip A. Nordell. Music was furnished by Sig Antonelli, cornet, Mrs. George Flood, piano and Mrs. Wilder, soprano. A very successful and enjoyable occasion.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

The Commonwealth Country Club held an auction bridge and tea on Tuesday for the ladies of the Club and their friends. The Hostesses were Mrs. Stillman, R. Dunham, and Mrs. H. Leroy Simpson.

On Thursday evening there was a dinner dance.

At the Sunday concert, April 11, Mrs. Charles H. Furber will be the soloist, and the Brookline Assembly Orchestra will play.

Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy will lecture on Monday at three o'clock on "The Events of the Day." The hostess will be Mrs. W. Sumner Radway.

BLODGETT-BRYAN

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marie Augusta Bryan of Louisville, Ky., to Captain Robert Fuller Blodgett, United States Field Artillery, of West Newton. The wedding took place Monday at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blodgett, on Temple street, West Newton. Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the Second Church, performed the ceremony.

Captain Blodgett is at present at Camp Taylor. He is a graduate of Williams College, and received his commission as a second lieutenant in the Army at the time of his graduation. He was at Camp Myers for a time, later to San Antonio, and spent eighteen months overseas, where he was in charge of a battery for more than a year.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—Marie Dressler

on the stage today is the attraction at the Boston Opera House, where she is presenting her big success "Tillie's Nightmare" to crowded houses nightly and at Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Marie Dressler's reputation as a fun-maker is unquestioned. It is doubtful if there ever has been an actress in the history of the stage who could make millions laugh freely and uproariously as Miss Dressler succeeds in doing. Critics have pronounced her interpretation of Tillie Hobbs one of the funniest stage creations ever presented to American theatregoers and in her present role, Miss Dressler succeeds in out-doing all of her previous efforts as a mirth-provoker.

This Miller Cord Tire has run 22,000 Miles On a Heavy Truck

22,000-Mile Tread

And Why They Are Exceptions

Worn Miller Tires are often exhibited with some sign like above.

Countless letters also reach us telling such mileage tales.

These are very pleasing. But we don't want users in general to expect miracles from Millers.

Service to Expect

Expect from Millers greater service than from any like-type tire. And 19 times in 20 you will get it.

Expect it to outserve any tire you put opposite, and it almost invariably will. Expect twice the mileage tires gave a few years ago, and they will doubtless do still better.

Expect tread wear 25 per cent better than from others and you'll not be disappointed.

Why Mileage Varies

A Cord Tire gives vastly greater service than a Fabric Tire.

An oversize tire will vastly excel a tire that is undersize. Care, load and roads affect tire service greatly.

Millers are uniform tires. That is a major reason for their supremacy. But uniform tires will vary with conditions.

Tread Patented

Center Tread smooth with suction cup, for firm hold on wet asphalt. Geared-to-the-Road side treads, mesh like cogs in dirt.

What Our Tests Show

We run tires at our factory ten million miles a year to make these service tests.

These are radical tests. Tires are run constantly, night and day, and under heavy load. We want quick comparisons.

On our testing machines Miller Cords average 15,000 miles, and Fabrics about half that.

But these are not mileage records. We are running Miller Tires against high-grade rivals to prove that Millers last best.

Be Satisfied With This

You will get on a Miller an exceptional tread. It is by 25 per cent the best tread made.

Not one Miller Tire, made under present methods, has ever come back with the tread gone.

You will get uniform tires. Every Miller Tire is signed, both by maker and inspector. Every man knows that a faulty tire means a penalty for him. And faults are extremely rare.

You will get greater mileage than from any tire you put on the opposite wheel. That is so nearly universal that we will stake your favor on any single test.

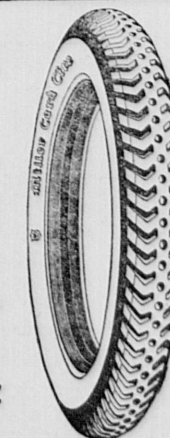

But you will get the best tire built today. There are hundreds of thousands who know that.

When you buy a new car insist on Miller Tires. Twenty car makers now supply them and there is no extra charge.

THE MILLER RUBBER CO., Akron, Ohio

With 3-Ton Loads

Miller Cord Tires were tested by Ray C. Carpenter on a 22-passenger bus, averaging a 3-ton load each trip. The first tire on a rear wheel ran 23,700 miles without a blow-out, and was never removed from the wheel. The second was punctured by railroad spike at 5,000 miles, but when repaired ran 12,000 miles more without a blow-out. On a front wheel the Miller ran 22,000 miles without a blow-out. All were passenger-type tires.

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

Including an "Alleged" Humorous Lecture by Rev. Mr. Park at Second Church

A unique entertainment was held at the Second Church on Wednesday evening. Nearly 200 people were present.

Each one who came was given a card at the door upon which he wrote his name. Other cards were then given to him assigning him to a table. On each of the forty-nine tables there were games of all kinds and descriptions.

When one had progressed several tables games were stopped while charades were enacted upon the stage. Mr. Herbert M. Cole made a clever curtain speech asking for the indulgence of the audience. He read imaginary regrets from Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks and Maude Adams. The first charade was the word, "Massachusetts" in four parts. Part one represented a "mass" meeting at which Dr. Thomas Chalmers eloquently pled for the removal of the West Newton R. R. Station that the congregation of the Second Church might not be disturbed when listening to Mr. Park. Part two was represented by a stupid boy (ass) who was kept after school by his teacher; part three by a group of ladies sewing and conspicuously chewing; while part four was represented by a very clever court room scene with Mr. George H. Fernald, Jr., as judge. A quarrel over a hen that refused to "set" was vividly enacted. At the conclusion said hen was brought to the stage and proved to be a rooster. The whole word was represented by a map of the Bay State.

After this charade, games were resumed to be interrupted by charade number two representing "Intemperance." This was done in three parts: part one, representing an "inn"; part two, a boy who loses his "temper" while trying to dress; and part three the arrival on the scene of several "aunts."

At the conclusion of this part of the program, all went upstairs where Mrs. Marion Kingsbury, the new soprano, sang some delightful songs.

Following this, Rev. J. Edgar Park gave a lecture on "West Newton and Its Inhabitants," first, however, exhibiting certain curios of this strange people, namely, a worn-out stocking, evidence of destitution, a passport (trip R. R. ticket) on which were to be found certain signs "doubtless of a religious nature," and an original form of nourishment (lolly pops) which, he said, seemed to be popular.

In the well-known style of a popular lecturer he called for imaginary slides to be thrown on the screen, on which he pointed out the inhabitant who, having walked half way up "West Newton hill," suddenly remembers that he has forgotten his wife's errands. The tunnel-like structure of the R. R.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

Interdenominational Meeting Held Last Week at Newton Centre

An interdenominational missionary meeting to which all the women of Newton were invited, was held at the Methodist Church, Newton Centre, on Tuesday, April 6.

The morning session was opened by a devotional service led by Mrs. F. W. Carter, President of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, followed by a solo by Miss Marion Harper.

The address of the morning was given by Miss Clementina Butler on India, and its opportunities. She spoke of the great work being done there and of the necessity of the system to carry on the work. She said that it was the Home and Foreign Missionary Boards that are standing behind the greatest religious movement of this century—the Interdenominational World Movement.

She called attention to the fact that many of the secular as well as religious papers were advertising the movement. As an illustration of its importance, she told of a Jewish woman, who when she learned that the churches of India were doing for the poor and needy, said that she believed that the Messiah must have come.

The first speaker of the afternoon was Miss Hughes, Principal of the Knowles Bible Training School of Girls at Kluksang, Central China.

CLASS PARTY

Technical High School Class of 1917 Holds Reunion

The Annual Class Party of the members of the Class of 1917 of the N. T. H. S., held in Dennison hall, Saturday evening, April 10, was the complete success predicted, and more. An unusually attractive program had been arranged.

The affair was opened by a grand march, after which Herbert C. Hovenden, chairman of the committee under whose supervision the bringing together of the class had been arranged, made an address of welcome. He also gave a resume of class happenings since the last reunion, a year before, and a summary of engagements and marriages which had taken place. Mr. Irving O. Palmer said a word to his former pupils and still ardent admirers in behalf of the faculty.

Pianologues by Mrs. Knight, and a violin solo rendered by Mr. Knight were interesting features of the program. Class talent was represented by Miss Marie Fleming who sang charmingly. Joseph Murphy, former class president, expressed his pleasure at seeing 1917 together again, and Jimmy Coleman, an active member of the present Junior Class, was given a rousing ovation at the close of his performance as "Bill Smith" of "Dere Mable" fame, which was but a repetition of his success in that role given at the annual Public Declaration of the Newton Technical High School. Novelty dancing was a prominent and popular feature.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Newton Y. M. C. A. Shows What Gymnastics Will Accomplish

On Thursday evening, April 8th, a large number of parents and friends were present to witness the annual gymnastic demonstration given by all the classes of the physical department of the Newton Y. M. C. A. The first part of the program consisted of a grand march by all the classes and then the drills, games, and apparatus work were presented by the different groups. The Dance of the Romping Rubes by the Junior A class was a feature. The volley ball game between the business men from Watertown and Newton was finally won by Newton after a closely contested game. The boys who were costumed to represent the donkey, the trained bear, and the elephant deserve special mention.

The work of Ronald Davis, one of our own members, as clown was very clever and added much to the enjoyment of those present. The boxing matches between Hallaron and Shut-teworth, White and Mannix, and the wrestling between Joe Biss and Gus Carlson were also much appreciated. The pyramid work which was the last number on the program was unusually fine. Those who took part in this work were: Messrs. Carlson, Bailey, Cady, Barnes, Jasset, Tompkins, Frank and Harry Thomas, Lacobb, Frazier, Flynn, and White.

The demonstration was under the direction of Messrs. S. A. Carling and F. E. Doubleday, Physical Directors, and the results of their training

ANIMATED MUSICAL TABLEAUX

A Clever Program Given on Friday Evening at West Newton Unitarian Church

It is hard to find just the right adjective to apply to the unusual and interesting sociable that was held in the Unitarian Church parlors, West Newton, last Friday evening, because its program was of such a varied character that no one word adequately describes its many surprises, all of which were received with hearty applause by the large audience that crowded the hall.

The stage entertainment, given under the title of Animated Musical Tableaux, was directed by a member of the Standing Committee, Miss Ethel Howland, and the social evening that followed was in the very capable hands of Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, chairman of the Hospitality Committee for 1920.

A group of eleven singers rendered the 16 songs of the program, and a company of 40 young people acted them in pantomime on the stage as they were sung.

The curtain rose on little Jeanne Fisher and Master Lawrence Carpenter in "There Was a Little Girl". The audience did not doubt the legitimacy of the "curl in the middle of her forehead", but it must have been a bit hard to convince them that even the terrible stamp of her foot could ever make such an adorable piece of humanity really very "horrid."

Bradford Bachrach and a group of five diminutive "neighbors" appeared next in "The Boy and the Toot" and furnished a lively little bit of action.

One of the most charming numbers of the evening was perhaps the Slumber Song as played by Mrs. Louis F. Bachrach and her three-year-old son, L. F. Bachrach, Jr. The little fellow was not in the least frightened. His baby finger pointed to the star at exactly the proper moment and he fished for a dream and cuddled to sleep in his mother's arms with as much savoir faire as any of the older performers.

Jingle Bells was acted by Olive Webster and Stuart Hagar with the assistance of one large rocking-horse and a History tells us that COPLEY SQUARE sprung up on man-made land—not the work of Nature. Here has become the up-town and fashionable hotel centre of Boston.

The environment is all that can be asked. Boston's beautiful Public Library is the outstanding feature, surrounded by historical churches, buildings and hotels, making it a very desirable section.

THE WESTMINSTER makes a part of these conditions possible. Its DINING ROOMS and WINTER GARDEN, its new GRILL with special noonday luncheons for ladies and gentlemen at moderate prices, and the new rotisserie where favorite roasts are prepared before your very eyes are the features. All have been made and molded by the work of man in striving to give the public that which is superior.

ALBEMARLE GOLF CLUB

The Albemarle Golf Club has begun extensive improvements on its grounds and clubhouse and is preparing for an active year.

Alec Campbell has been over the course and has suggested a scheme of rebunkering and reconstruction of tees which has most favorably impressed the green committee. The clubhouse plans do not involve an enlargement of the house itself, but a piazza arrangement has been worked out which sounds as if it might add materially to the accommodations and comforts of the members, while at the same time making the clubhouse more attractive.

The house plan is to extend the piazza seven feet, doubling its present width, then cover the extension with awnings. This would provide a broad and roomy piazza, which would be used as an outdoor dining-room and a place for serving afternoon tea when the weather is favorable; also, to be a sort of lounging room, equipped with piazza chairs, tables, etc. On open tournament days the piazza likewise would be the place for the committee to hold forth.

In connection with the piazza plan it is proposed to build steps at either end, one set leading directly to the first tee and the other leading to a new platform at the roadway end of the clubhouse, this to serve as a landing for automobile passengers. The clubhouse proper will be thoroughly renovated, trimmings painted and shingles stained, so that everything will look spick and span. The work hardly will be completed before April 19, the day when the first big turnout of members is expected, but sufficient progress will have been made to give the members an idea of what the place will look like later.

As to the golf course, Architect Campbell will hardly leave a bunker on the course untouched. He will alter some of the old ones, get rid of some others and install new ones, also alter the greens. His ideas as to the greens follow the Donald Ross lines of building them up in back, to give the player a chance to play boldly for the pin. But if his shot is too strong he will find slopes waiting to carry his ball down into bunkers or other trouble.

The long hitters will be pleased to learn that the bunkers to the right of the sixth green and the one almost in front will be filled. Campbell believes, quite properly, that for a hole of that length the player should have a free path to the green, provided his shot is straight, with trouble if his shot is off the line and trouble for those failing to drive the green and playing a poor second. The tees will be remade and made practically level with the general surface, instead of being raised.

BOSTON MOUNT HOLYOKE ALUMNAE MEET AT WABAN

Waban Neighborhood Clubhouse was filled on Saturday afternoon with members of the Boston Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association for the annual meeting. Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, the president, was in the chair and Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, also a resident of Waban and chairman of the Boston committee on the Three Million Endowment, and members of her committee presented the plans as being worked out for securing the required amount, Boston quota, being $375,000. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused among the members.

A 47 Workshop Play "Three Pills in a Bottle" by Rachel Field, whose mother was a Mount Holyoke woman, was creditably presented by some of the younger members, who were interested in dramatics during their college course. The leading character, "Tony Sims" was taken by Doris Campbell, who was president last year of the College Dramatic Club and whose work in the May Day Pageant is remembered for its grace and beauty. The full cast includes: Doris Campbell, '19, Eleanor Bennett, '19, Hilda Jones, '19, Eliza Gaylord, '19, Catherine Jones, '18, Eleanor Lette, '17, Mildred A. Bourdon, '12, Dorothea Walker, '18, all but three of whom are Newton young women.

Tea was served at the close by some of the Newton alumnae. The play is to be repeated for the Waban people on Friday evening, April 23, when the Choral Club will sing, the proceeds to go towards the Endowment Fund.

CRADDOCK—BUTTS

One of the most charming weddings of the Spring took place Saturday evening at the First Church, Newton Centre, when Miss Annie Craddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Butts of Sumner street, was married to Mr. Alfred John Craddock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Craddock of Wilmington, Delaware.

Rev. Edward M. Noyes performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and Easter lilies and filled to capacity with friends of the bride and groom.

The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white tulle trimmed with tulle and silver. The matron of honor, Mrs. Chester C. Butts of Brookline, in orchid tulle and the maid of honor, Miss Carolyn P. Butts in apricot tulle, carried lavender sweet peas, and the bridesmaids, Miss Norma K. Badon of Plattsburg, N. Y., and Miss Ardyss Luther of Hingham wore gowns of orchid tulle and carried Aaron Ward roses.

The best man was Mr. F. W. Peck of Penns Grove, N. J., and the ushers were Mr. F. Marsena Butts of Newtonville, Mr. Chester C. Butts of Brookline, Mr. Hughes Richardson of Newton Centre, Mr. William H. Wood of New York, Mr. C. H. Lund, and Mr. Walter Bauds of Penns Grove, N. J. After June 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Craddock will be at home in Wilmington, Delaware.

attitude in China, toward the educated woman and towards Christianity in the last hundred years. Whereas, formerly, the Chinese threw away their girl babies, and thought of women as having no soul, now they are proud to have them educated.

The central committee of the Republic of China has recommended that the Bible be taught as a text book in the public schools. In all China, today, the Bible is the best seller. In one city where there are six day schools and where Friday afternoon is devoted to the teaching of women, between two and three hundred women are to be found in each centre every Friday. In the Bible Training Schools the same curriculum is being taught in China as is being taught in Dr. White's Training School in New York. On one occasion when the young ministers of an interior province wished to take advanced work at the Training School, the girl graduates were sent to take their places. It is women's opportunity in China, and the church's opportunity for there is no city in China today that is not open to Christian influence.

China, however, faces today a crisis in the Shantung peninsula. This peninsula is so large that it takes two nights and a day to cross it by express train; it is exceedingly rich in coal and wheat, and is very healthful owing to its mountains, which are sacred to the Chinese. If Japan is allowed to take possession of this territory, she will throttle if not overthrow the Christian religion as she is already doing in Korea. China entered the world war because the United States entered, following us for whom, as a nation, she has the greatest respect. The stars and stripes is the only pass port needed in China for an American. China sent 250,000 men to the world war from the Shantung peninsula, some of them from the highest walks in life. Those who returned found their home land invaded by an enemy, and their relatives turned out of their homes. Already 37,000,000 people have been turned out of their homes by the Japanese, who are controlling the railroads and the postoffice, and bringing into China Buddhist idols and opium. China in her helplessness turns to the United States to help her, and see that justice is done here.

Dr. Mary Stone (of international fame, the first girl in central China to grow up with unbound feet, and for twenty-four years head of the great hospital in Kiukiang, followed Miss Hughes.

She called attention to the fact that no heathen nation ever opened a hospital; these are the direct result of Christianity. There are, she said, in China 450 doctors to 400,000,000 people. Dr. Stone has herself had 5,000,000 under care. There is only one pharmacist in the whole country, and medical supplies have to be carried hundreds of miles. There is no board of health and no sanitation. Buddhist priests still shout and break crockery in the homes of the dying to drive away evil spirits. She describes a journey in a wheelbarrow to heal the sick, and made a most stirring plea for financial help to carry on this great work.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION

The Sarah Hull Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution met on Wednesday at the Newton Club.

The program consisted of an address by Rev. Harry Lutz on "The Puzzled Will" in which he emphasized the importance of will training, and the unfortunate results which come from a weak or untrained will. He illustrated his meaning by selections from Hamlet. Hamlet, he said, needed above all things, definite contact with reality, a friend in whom he could have confidence. When one's faith has become shaken in human nature, one is likely to turn to the supernatural. This was the case with Hamlet.

Music was furnished by Miss Isabelle Melville of Cambridge who gave some delightful songs accompanied by Mr. Minnie Harrington.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Charles L. Pearson, Mrs. Francis Murdock, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, Mrs. Frank B. Jenkins, Dr. Marietta P. Reid, and Miss Helen Partridge.

Those who poured were Mrs. Franklin E. Smith and Mrs. Henry S. Jen-

DEATH OF MR. BRACKETT

Mr. Wm. Russell Brackett, who died suddenly in Boston, Monday afternoon, had lived in Newton all his life. He was in his seventy-fifth year.

The Brackett family is one of the oldest in Newton, and goes back to the time when Newton was a small country village. His father Gilman Brackett was born here in 1816, and his grandfather Colonel Nathaniel Brackett lived here during the last years of the eighteenth century. Mr. Brackett graduated from the Newton High School in 1864 and entered the whole produce business with Charles H. Stone & Company, where he has been a partner all his business life.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Cora Snow of Newton, a daughter, Mrs. R. C. B. Hartley of Fall River, and a twin brother Willard G. Brackett. The funeral services were held at his late residence, 66 Bellevue street, Thursday afternoon, Rev. Harry Lutz of Channing Church officiating, and the burial was at the Newton Cemetery.

SHOOTS POLICEMAN BY MISTAKE

In the belief that he was a burglar, Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., of 945 Beacon street, Newton Centre, shot Patrolman John P. Murphy of the Newton police near his house Tuesday night. Murphy was taken to the Newton Hospital with a slight wound in the shoulder. Harwood had been notified that some one had been acting suspiciously near his house and the same information was given to the police. While making an investigation, the two met each other at a corner of the house and upon the policeman's challenge Harwood fired a shot.

ANIMATED MUSICAL TABLEAU

most realistic sleigh. The latter "got upset" in fine style and tumbled its occupants upon their heads to the delight of the spectators.

A clever piece of acting was done by the 5-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Rich of West Newton in the song, "In Winter I Get Up at Night," especially during the last verse when she "had to go to bed by day." The temper displayed by her kicking heels evidently reminded many a parent of home nursery scenes to judge by the instant applause that greeted her.

Then on trotted four of the most fascinating little Japanese maidens that ever toddled and in "Marasaki" also brought down the house.

Master Bradford Bachrach figured a second time very creditably in Little John Bottlejohn. He plunged into "the foaming main" most realistically with his beguiling mermaid, Miss Margaret Steadman.

A modern courtship was well illustrated and danced by Eleanor Steadman and Donald Fleming in the song from San Toy called "The Whole Story."

Then followed a most amusing number, namely that of the ballad "Villains and his Dinah," done by Ruth Homer, Arthur Smith and Stuart Hagar in old-fashioned costume. A premature opening of the curtain on the encore rather broke up an intended tableau, but that only added to the mirth behind the scenes.

Miss Kate Wheelock very gracefully danced and acted the soubrette part of Rhoda and her Pagoda, also taken from the score of San Toy; and a bevy of children followed in the charming song "An April Girl," the principal verse being danced by Little Ann Felton of Chestnut street, who flitted about the stage as lightly as a fluff of thisledown.

Capital impersonations of the Three Wise Old Women were then given by Miss Elizabeth Thurston, Miss M. K. Livingstone, and Mrs. William Hodges especially when the sudden appearance of the bear sent them scampering to the top of their ladder.

Another popular number, "Experience," from the Little Chorus was exceedingly well acted by Olive Webster, Nancy French and Harry Pratt.

The next piece on the program, "Ivan Petrovsky Skovar" very nearly broke up the members of the chorus themselves as it was extremely funny when played by Mr. F. W. Sprague, 2nd, a Russian, Gordon Washburn, an Arab, and Eleanor Hall in the double part of their respective maidens.

"Grandma told me all about it" or the descriptive half of the Minuet was illustrated by Mrs. Francis Newhall and Betty Bingham; immediately after which the real minuet was played and danced in quaint costume by a group of eight young people.

The final number on the program was especially well done by Mr. Geoffrey Baker as a mandarin in "Chinese Soje Man." His snap and dash was contagious and set the audience humming the refrain of the chorus as they filed upstairs to the pleasant supper room and the waiting refreshments.

The solos were admirably sung by Mrs. Victor E. Gilbert of Somerville, Mrs. Fred W. Woodcock of Newtonville and Mr. Francis W. Sprague. Mrs. Arthur Howland was at the piano during the program and very materially contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion.

An hour of social dancing followed.

station was commented upon, the reason for the two sidewalks being that the women used one and the men the other. So attractive were the women, the lecturer said, that the men in gazing upon them sometimes fell off the bridge. Some were even hanged for so doing, as the gallow-like structure over the tracks bears testimony. One of the pictures, he said, represented Brae Burn on Sunday. He called attention to the small cerebral development of the men found there, and to the red flags of the Bolshevik everywhere in evidence.

He also called attention to the circular structures to be seen up and down the streets on Sunday—though they are not collected until Monday—which he explained were used for the ashes of the smokers.

The concluding scene represented West Newton at 9.30 P. M. at which hour quiet prevails in this far-off village. The lecturer suggested three things that the audience might do to help this benighted people: send a missionary to minister to the people who were turned away from church, send tracts, especially those of a certain Mr. Park, send a large number of young, single men.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

Saves One Half Your Time In Cooking

The Gold Medal Glenwood doubles cooking capacity, and promotes cooking efficiency to the highest degree.

There are two separate ovens—one for coal and one for gas. Both ovens may be used at one time—or either may be used singly. In addition to the two baking ovens, there is a gas broiler oven. There is room on the coal and gas sections, at the top, for NINE large utensils.

While bread is being baked in the coal oven, pastry may be baked in the gas oven, meat may be broiled in the broiling oven, and cereals and vegetables may be cooked on the top.

Where did you ever hear of greater capacity?

The Gold Medal Glenwood is efficient every day in the year. In the Winter, the coal section not only looks after the cooking, but it helps warm the kitchen. In the Summer, the gas section takes care of the cooking and keeps the kitchen cool.

BOSTON COLLEGE MUSICAL CLUB

The Boston College Musical Club, University Heights, Chestnut Hill, are establishing a splendid standard for themselves in the musical world, and they are very generous, kindly giving their valuable services to the Newton District on Diocesan Center for Catholic Women for a Grand Sunday Concert April 18th, at 3 o'clock. This is very much appreciated both by the Newton Committee and the public in general, as it will be the unusual musical treat of the season and Mrs. Carlton F. Stanley, District Chairman, wishes to express her personal appreciation and feels she is only voicing the feelings of every woman on her committee in thanking the young men and their directors, and we want to draw attention to the splendid spirit that prompts such a generous giving of time and energy to the good cause of others.

FOR DIOCESAN CENTER

A successful parish whist was held last Friday evening in the hall of the school of Our Lady.

Claflin School

Thrift Work in the Schools

One of the most popular practices of Thrift in the Claflin School is the purchasing of the United States Government Thrift and War Savings Stamps. To encourage the buying of stamps by the pupils an opportunity has been offered whereby the pupils may buy stamps through the schools. Races between grades and schools have been held to see what room or person could get 100% enrollment first, and what has the largest per cent per capita in the different grades. The total amount of Thrift and War Savings Stamps for the years '18 and '19 was $12,000 worth. All of the rooms claimed the honor of 100% enrollment in the purchase of Thrift Stamps for the year '18, the total number of pupils holding stamps being 351. The room having the largest amount per capita for '18 was the sixth grade holding $1,254.09 worth. Many high records of children holding War Stamps have been established, one holding 200 War Savings Stamps and several holding 50. Claflin School had one of the highest per capita of Massachusetts schools in the purchase of Thrift Stamps.

Another means of encouraging thrift in the school has been in the making of Red Cross articles by the girls in sewing classes. The boys also have practised thrift by making and repairing wooden articles about the building. While working in shops they also learned how to use the tools and how to repair things about the home.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," symbolizes the Health work done by the pupils of the Claflin School. Good, strong, straight limbs now will save many trips to the doctor later on. By taking the most healthful foods at the recess lunches pupils have also learned lessons in thrift.

In all these ways, Claflin School boys and girls are endeavoring to grow along "Thrift" lines.

The seventh grade has formed an Audubon Club of twenty-five members.

The boys and girls are having a contest in spelling. In last week's contest the girls won.

In the past four weeks there have been no tardy marks against the names of anyone in the 8th, 7th, 6th and 4th grades of this school.

In the race for best attendance during the last four weeks, the 8th Grade won over the 4th Grade by two-tenths of one percent.

Horace Mann

The Eighth Grade Class was much pleased on Thursday, April 1st, when they attained the high mark of one hundred per cent in spelling. This was the third time.

Horace Mann, a pupil of the 8th Grade, gave a very interesting reflectoscope lesson on "Sugar."

The fifth and eighth grades will represent this school in the carnival to be held on the Newton Center Play-ground, May 22nd. Twelve hundred grammar school children will take part in the exhibition. The eighth grade will perform mimetics, imitations of swimming, diving, rowing and paddling a canoe. The fifth grade will do folk dancing.

A pageant is to be held by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs in the State Armory, West Newton, on April 15, 16, 17, from 2 to 10 P. M. Admission is 10 cents, including War Tax. The seventh and eighth grades are doing their bit by selling tickets. Grade VII had a 100 per cent in spelling on Monday, April 12th, the first day after the Easter vacation.

The play "The Sacrifice of Nathan Hale" that was written by Hope Hanly for history is to be given for the Patriots' Day Program.

Arrangements are being made for Grade VI to visit the Peabody Museum to see old Indian relics in connection with the Hiawatha which the class is studying in reading.

Notices are being sent home to the parents of the children in connection with their weight. Every opportunity has been taken to increase the children's interest in their weight. They are weighed once a month.

The children of the Horace Mann School are going to have a special program on April 16th, to celebrate Patriots' Day.

On Wednesday, March 30, 1920, Grade VI had a reflectoscope lesson on Mexico, as a part of the Geography work.

It is proposed to use 70-ft. rail instead of the 60-ft. rail and to surface this street from the curb to 18" beyond our track with crushed stone and tarmac the same as the rest of the highway is at present.

Your petitioner also requests the right to make such underground alterations as may be made necessary by the above relocation of tracks.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The school luncheon, consisting of milk and crackers, was started in all the classes on Monday morning. Forty-five quarts of milk are used daily, and the pupils, large and small, are enjoying the innovation.

The work in vocational guidance is proving to be very interesting in the upper grades, seven and eight. Recently original plays on the Conductor and the Motorman, the Electrician, and the Fruit Farmer have been prepared and given.

Miss Daiger of Newton has been assigned in grade three this week taking the place of Miss Dill who is ill.

Miss Sullivan and Miss Horgan spent their spring vacation in Washington and Atlantic City.

The school hall has been approved by the State Police. Inspector Atkinson passed upon the alterations just before vacation.

The Happy Jack Thrift Clubs in grades one to six show large membership. Letter carrier Starkey visits each club on Thursday mornings.

Little Mary Redcross, the famous doll owned by Mrs. Frank Fanning has been most generous to the Emerson School. Several sums, ranging from $1 to $5 have been presented. The last gift was $5 and was made available for use in the general school fund or for carrying out the school luncheons more widely.

NEWTON CENTRE GIRL SCOUTS

On Thursday, April 8th, the Newton Centre Girl Scouts held their annual banquet, which is the affair of the scout year. The guests who were there were Miss Caroline Freeman, our local director, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Commissioner of Newton, the Newton Centre Troop Committee, our ex-captain Miss Louise Walworth, and our loyal friends, Miss Helen Chapin, Miss Katherine Rising and Miss Sylvia Burdett.

The supper itself was delicious, and of course the scouts had prepared it all themselves, from writing the place cards to popping the last marshmallow into the cocoa. And then there were speeches of course. Scout Donevan welcomed the guests, scout Plimpton gave "First Aid for Inspection" and Scout Perry had the pleasure of presenting Miss Walworth with a "Thanks" badge from the troop, in recognition of her two years of service as Captain of the troop.

After supper several interesting awards were made, a "S. S." badge, standing for "Scout Spirit" was given to the girl who had proved herself to be the best all-round scout during the year, in the amount of scout work accomplished, by the vote of the other scouts and the opinion of her officers. The clapping was long and hearty when Scout Elizabeth Plimpton was given the badge. That the attendance has been good through the year is proved by the award of eight gold stars for perfect attendance and twenty silver ones for ninety per cent attendance. Another good piece of news came at the banquet when Miss Freeman announced that Captain Ordway had been made a "Golden Eaglet."

The entertainment following was a series of stunts, one by each patrol of the troop, and it is commonly acknowledged that the senior patrol quite took the cake with their "kitchen orchestra."

WAR SAVINGS SOCIETIES

Representative Joseph L. Larson of Everett, industrial manager of the Savings Division, First Federal Reserve District, will go to Newton next week to address the employees of the Gamewell Company, Stowe & Woodward Company and the Newton Mills at the Upper Falls. In the interests of the War Savings Societies, the preliminary arrangements for the formation of War Savings Societies in these plants have already been made with the managers, who are co-operating willingly and fully with Mr. Larson.

One of the most delightful numbers of the evening came during intermission when Miss Edith Quimby, a member of the Class of 1921, in a solo dance gave an excellent impersonation of a vampire. Miss Quimby's encore was an equally popular aesthetic dance.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

Caution is a virtue. Every person should exercise caution before associating themselves with any proposition about which they know nothing. But if a citizen of unquestionable integrity should personally, and from personal knowledge and observation, without any possible hope of personal gain, highly indorse a proposition, that proposition is worthy of careful consideration. Those are the conditions which surround the BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY. I am licensed by the State of Massachusetts, whose laws are the most rigid of any state in the Union in regard to Insurance also by the Board of Fire Underwriters and the New England Insurance Association, who hold me strictly responsible for every word that I say or print. One misstatement would be sufficient cause to revoke all of my licenses and deprive me from further doing business in this State. Therefore, you may know that you are absolutely protected, and when you consider that 85% of all adults die without leaving any estate, one-third of all widows are left without the necessities of life and 75% without the comforts, and then realize that by exercising a little economy and forethought that you may provide yourself against sickness and old age at a moderate expense it is hardly conceivable how any business woman should require any solicitation to protect her own self.

READ YOUR FORTUNE

in your Savings Bank book. Get out that little book and look it over. What does it show? Is there a long list of regular deposits, did you start right and keep it up or has resolution wavered? That little book is the surest fortune teller, it forecasts your future, it indicates a life of work and worry—or—it indicates comfort and satisfied ambition later on. Look that book over often. Bring it here often, even if the sum you bring with it is small.

How would YOU like a raise like this?

34 Years Work

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Bureau of Household Occupations opened its doors in the Red Cross House, Newtonville, yesterday morning with Mrs. Joshua Seaver of Newton Highlands in charge as Executive Secretary. It will be open during the forenoon five days in the week. Its object is to assist the homemaker in finding part-time helpers along various lines of work and on the other hand to provide work for those who have extra time in which they would like to add to their incomes. The hope is to secure women of experience and efficiency desiring employment, to relieve overburdened homemakers, who have hitherto been unable to secure assistance. The scheme has worked well, as has already been mentioned in this column.—In Boston, Providence and Worcester. In those cities the National Civic Federation has backed the undertaking. In this city the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is standing behind it with an initial appropriation of $250. The matter has been under advisement by the Civics and Social Service committee of the Federation for several months and the final action was taken on Monday at the meeting of the executive board. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer is the chairman of the organizing committee. To dignify household labor, to place it upon a basis similar to that in stores and in factories, and to make it efficient are the underlying principles of this venture. Something far above the ordinary intelligence office is the aim of the Executive Secretary. May it live long and prosper!

State Federation

The meeting is open to the public.

On Thursday, April 22, at 2.30 the Newton Community Club holds its first annual meeting. The reports of officers and of chairmen of standing committees will be full of interest recording as they will the beginnings of this flourishing club. There will be special music by the club chorus and an informal social hour with refreshments. A special effort will be made to give those present an opportunity of becoming better acquainted than has as yet been possible with more crowded programs. There is no better time for realizing the whole work of a club than at its annual meeting when it is brought together in a nutshell.

On Friday, April 23, at 10.30, the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its annual meeting at the Newton Club with luncheon served at the close.

On Saturday at the home of Mrs. S. L. Eaton the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will have its annual play day for which special invitations have been sent the honorary and non-resident members. Scenes from some of the comedies will be read by club members and there will be Shakespeare games and music.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Newton Hospital Social Service League will give a dance at Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Saturday evening, May 8, 1920.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on April 26; having been postponed from the twelfth.

Local Happenings

On April 8th the Community Club held its last regular meeting before the Annual meeting. At the business session a hearty vote of thanks was extended all those who took part in the play two weeks ago, to the members of the orchestra, and to Mrs. Frank A. Day for the great profusion of beautiful house flowers which adorned the stage both afternoon and evening.

Miss Headley of the Children's Hospital gave a short account of the work of the hospital and of the need for larger accommodations and funds with which to make it adequate to the demand upon it.

The club chorus, which the members are always glad to hear, sang two Southern selections, "Kentucky Babe," by Geldel, and "Dinah Dolls" by Josephine Sherwood, who used to live in Newton and is well remembered here. The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Arthur Gray Staples, managing editor of the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. In his address on "The Press" he gave an account of the rise of printing pointing out that the discovery of the printing press by Gutenberg was almost contemporaneous with the discovery of America by Columbus and that the first English newspaper originated close to the time the Pilgrims were sailing from Plymouth. In the early history of this country the newspaper men whom he mentioned were names familiar to this generation as the leading patriots of colonial and revolutionary times. Pulitzer was named as the last great editor of the old Horace Greeley type. Today the newspapers have become great industrial corporations.

Mr. Staples recognizes the tremendous power of the press for good or for evil. The editor, he said, should know what is right, have the courage to point it out and then follow it himself. At the close Mrs. Wallace Wales sang the solo of "Old Folks at Home," the audience coming in on the chorus.

At the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club of April 9th a short business session was held and a ten-minute talk of "The Study of Latin in the Public Schools" was given by Professor Scoggin of Harvard. The sale was held during the afternoon and early evening and a very substantial sum was furnished after the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur B. Munroe.

After supper under the auspices of the Legislative committee there was a discussion of the question of State Censorship of Moving Pictures. Miss Marian C. Nichols spoke on the affirmative taking the stand that the present "local option" censorship is not enough, that 29 per cent of the films that have passed the National board of review were found objectionable; that time would be saved and the censoring be done economically if done through a State board and would prove in the end an advantage to the industry itself. Pennsylvania and three other states have already established State censorship. Judge A. J. Brackett on the opposite side feels that there is sufficient amount of legislation already that it is likely to become a farce and would only add a burden to the public and in the end accomplish no good. A piano solo was brilliantly rendered by Miss Matthews of Waltham. Mrs. L. W. Oakes of Newton Highlands gave several delightful readings and little Miss Betty Fisher of Emerson College was charming in two character dances. At intervals during the evening music by an excellent orchestra was played so harmoniously that all felt it a splendid addition to the program. This music was in charge of Mr. Walter Stevens, leader, Newtonville. The sale was pronounced a great success socially and financially.

The Christian Era Study Club at its meeting on Monday afternoon voted to join the General Federation, thus adding one more delegate to Newton's quota. It is probable that the club will be represented by its president, Miss Ella B. Smith.

At the regular meeting of the Newton Federation executive board on Monday morning considerable time was given to a presentation of arrangements for the Thrill Exposition. An appropriation of $250 for starting the Bureau of Household Occupations, action of which was made above, was voted. The Civics and Social Service committee reported the establishment of the Central Council of Newton Activities and that the first meeting will be held next week, when the health work of the City will be considered with view to taking definite action. The question as to whether Newton shall accept the provisions of the Sunday Sports law was presented, a vote of 24 to 10 in favor was passed and the president instructed to report it at the hearing before the Aldermen in the near future.

Mrs. Abbott Rice, chairman of the Legislative committee, urged work on the Physical Education bill, and for the Smith-Townsend bill in Congress. The Education committee reported that the play in the interests of good speech will be given the last of the month for the benefit of the school children. An additional $6 was appropriated for the prize essays on "The Pilgrims."

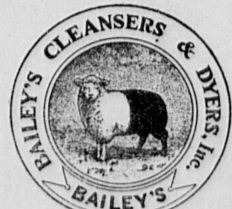

In connection with arrangements for the annual meeting it was announced that the afternoon session will be devoted to a recognition of the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the Federation.

The Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls made its first venture in a dramatic line last Monday evening at Emerson school hall in its "Old Maids' Convention." The hall was crowded to the limit of its capacity with some turned away. The leading parts were taken as follows: Prof. Pinkerton, Mr. L. P. Everett; president of the "Old Maids' Matrimonial Club," Mrs. Bertha Brown Cobb; secretary, Mrs. James L. May; treasurer, Mrs. Alice L. Hoey, while members of the club took those of members of the Matrimonial Club. The club was assisted by the following soloists: Mrs. C. H. Leighton, Mrs. Ruth E. Haigh, Miss Marjorie Osborn, Miss Josephine W. Lupien, Miss Alice Proctor, Miss Martha L. Wiczorick and Master Caleb Alexander. The accompanists who assisted were: Mrs. Florence E. Alexander, Miss Gladys I. Billings, Mrs. Anna E. Osborne, Miss M. Louise Randall, Mr. George Haigh. The performers were enthusiastically received and a substantial sum will be added to the treasury. Mrs. Grace Aiken was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

On Tuesday the Auburndale Review Club was charmingly entertained at her home by Mrs. George W. St. Amant, retiring president. After the reports and election Mrs. St. Amant presented the gavel to Mrs. F. F. Davidson, the incoming president, together with a bunch of lavender sweet peas, the club color, and to Mrs. Nelson Freeman, the treasurer who was retiring after three years of service, roses were given, while the Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Clapp, gave pink carnations to Mrs. St. Amant. A unique program was arranged in which the members in brief talks told of their earliest ambitions and how they had or had not been fulfilled. Members also brought photographs of themselves taken at 16 or earlier for others to guess, which created an immense amount of fun. A "basket" luncheon was served at small tables upon which were beautifully decorated baskets containing certain of the delicate viands which were supplemented by the substantial, all most dainty and delicious. The club has voted to study American literature next year. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. F. F. Davidson; vice-president, Mrs. Nelson Freeman; secretary, Mrs. J. Emory Clapp; treasurer, Mrs. Anna R. Wales; executive committee the four officers and Mrs. J. Franklin Rider, Mrs. George E. Martin and Miss Jessie J. MacMillan.

"Americanization Work for Club Women" was the topic of the concluding morning of the winter's course of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, April 14, and was presented in a masterly way by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, former president of the State Federation. Mrs. Gurney is associated with Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer in the new department of Alien education. She told how their bureau is trying to correct some of the conditions, which have surrounded the docks upon the arrival of ocean steamers laden with foreigners seeking a home in the New World, and of other efforts in their behalf. Their committee favors early naturalization, that is, urging the immigrants to take out the first papers immediately and then arrange clubs and classes where they may learn about the customs and laws of this country.

Mrs. Gurney feels that the club women can well assist in this work in helping to look after these people, but they may be better done sometimes by furnishing the funds to pay the trained person to do the actual work. She reminded her audience of their great power as moulders of public opinion. Whatever is done it must not be done in a sentimental way; we must make these people understand our aims, show them that breaking laws is not an American thing to do; we must start them in the right way and prove by our kindness and sympathy that we are their friends. To do this we must get into our own hearts the spirit of real democracy.

THE PILGRIM FATHERS AND NEW BIBLE MEANINGS

Bible students will have opportunity as advertised elsewhere in this issue, next Sunday and Tuesday evenings at the New Church, Newtonville, to hear the symbolic nature of the Bible discussed by the Rev. Adolph Roeder of Orange, N. J., lecturer at Cornell and author of Bible Symbolism, Practical Citizenship and Symbol Psychology. Mr. Roeder has qualified for his work by many years of special study and claims the new principles of interpretation he advocates give evidence that the Bible is of Divine Origin and has characteristics distinguishing it from all merely human literature. Mr. Roeder cites the remarkable circumstance that Pastor Robinson, in his farewell address to the Pilgrim Fathers, used the words, "I am very confident the Lord has more truth and light yet to break forth out of his Holy Word."

Those who attend the lectures may expect to be delighted with the wonderful pearls of wisdom Mr. Roeder states can be discovered in the Bible allegories, parables and histories by the symbolic method of interpretation. The Lamb of God is claimed to be the Symbol of Divine Innocence, the source of salvation and not a woolly little four-legged creature.

STANDARD CATALOGS

The Library is adopting a Standard catalog which contains about one thousand titles of each of nine or ten subjects covering the field of literature. Of these the Children's Catalog. The Biography section and the Science and Society section in the library. Each section contains the most representative, interesting and useful books, with descriptive and evaluative notes. As these are checked up, copies are placed in the several branch libraries that each may have a catalog which contains the best of titles on all subjects.

"View Points in Travel" is another catalog which will interest those who have travelled or who love to travel. It lists books which are interesting not only for geographical reasons, but for their presentation of rural life, and of folk lore. Hunting trips, horse back trips, motor trips, in brief, every kind of trip imaginable is to be found in this catalog.

COPELEY THEATRE — "When Knights Were Bold," which is to be next week's attraction at the Copley Theatre, is one of those delightfully amusing farces which has kept British audiences amused for a long time; in fact, this farce is an annual event in London and is always sure of large audiences. "When Knights Were Bold" tells a most amusing story of one Sir Guy de Vere and his lady love, Rowena Eglington, and from the present-day the leading character, Sir Guy is transported back into the age of romance and legendary lore when armor was worn and big broad swords were the weapons of defence.

Farming It

As the snow disappears, the days lengthen and the grass grows green, a desire inevitably springs up to work in the brown earth and watch the seeds develop into flowers or vegetables. Through the necessity of war-time conservation, many discovered the possibilities in the little plot of land known as the "back yard."

The majority of Newton residents is limited to either this bit of space or an adjoining vacant lot. The following books have been selected with the small farmer in mind.

Bailey, L. H. Cyclopaedia of American agriculture; a popular survey of agricultural conditions, practices and ideals in the United States and Canada. RG-5B

Benson, O. H. Agriculture; a text for the school and the farm. RG-B44

Bowfield, C. C. Wealth from the soil. "One object is to show how city families or amateurs can best proceed to acquire land and engage successfully in agriculture." RG-B88

Burkett, C. W. Agriculture for beginners. RG-B91

Burbank, Luther. His methods and discoveries and their practical application. RH-B88

Corbett, L. C. Intensive farming. RG-C81

Farbre, J. H. C. Field, forest and farm, things interesting to young nature lovers including some nature of moment to gardeners and fruit growers. RG-F11

Hall, Bolton. A little land and a living. RG-B141

Hayes, W. H. Farm development. RG-H33

International correspondence schools. The farmer's handbook; a convenient reference book for all persons interested in general farming. RG-161

Ivains, L. S. Practical lessons in agriculture by L. S. Ivains and Frederick A. Merrill. RG-195

Parkinson, E. K. The practical country gentleman. RG-P22

Snyder, Alva. Flights of the farmer. RG-S67

Stull, William. The food prices and Americanism. HEA-S934

Warren, G. E. Elements of agriculture. RG-W25

Wiley, H. W. The lure of the land and farming after fifty. RG-W641

The war emergency has passed but the need for gardens is as great. According to the "Country Gentleman" for March, the large farms have been left to the care of women and children while the men have entered mines or factories where they receive high wages; or if the farmers are left, they are crippled for lack of labor due to the same cause.

Some may already not only have made their plans for gardens, but may have been tricked by the last mild days of March, into oversowing opening their hot beds. Let them not be discouraged but read Henry A. Shute's, "Farming It" (YQ-5561). Any novice would find consolation in that amusing tale of a small farmer and his experiments and comfort in that finally it all turned out well and the bins in his barn were filled with apples, corn, cabbages, potatoes, turnips, and carrots raised on his own place.

THE HOME GARDEN

Spring is here! With the new season's advent comes a desire on the part of many people to grow things out of doors. The most practical application of this feeling comes in preparing the backyard garden plot. To do this in the right way requires a knowledge of some of the fine points. Let's not be in too much of a hurry.

When the soil is very wet, it is better to wait a few days before trying to work it. Otherwise it will cake badly and make a poor seed-bed. Where land is well dried out, a small section may be spaded in which to plant the early peas.

The garden should be well planned before any seed is sown. Favorite vegetables can be planted, bearing in mind those which will produce the maximum food on a limited area.

The big majority of home gardens are under-fed. Stable manures should be bought and applied liberally. Three bushels amounting to one heaping wheelbarrow load is none too much for 100 square feet and five pounds of high-grade mixed fertilizer and 10 pounds of ground limestone should also be used on this area. They must be secured at once owing to a threatened shortage.

The best seeds are none too good. Gardeners should insist upon high quality varieties and good germination. Insist upon the best the seedsman has. The results will surely pay.

A person having an old window sash can build a frame for it out in the garden on the south side of the house. The window should slope toward the mid-day sun. Lettuce and radish may be grown to maturity in such a frame. Tomato, pepper and flower plants may be started in it.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor:

The article in a recent issue entitled "To Lovers of Flowers and Plants," contains such gross exaggerations and misrepresentations concerning a matter of public policy, that it seems only fair to your readers that they be given something of the other side of this controversy.

Quarantine No. 37, to which this article refers, was established under authority from Congress by the Federal Horticultural Board which consists of five members, not one, as this article would lead its reader to believe. It was established after several public hearings at one of which 26 states were represented. The arguments presented at that time in favor of such a quarantine were so strong that no fair-minded board could ignore them. Hence the action taken by the Federal Horticultural Board.

The quarantine has the effect of loss and like other laws was designed to be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number. From the following facts we leave it to you to decide if this quarantine is just.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has conservatively estimated the loss to the farmers, fruit growers and forest owners of the country due to imported insects alone, as $500,000,000 annually. This does not include loss from imported fungi, which pathologists estimate as equal to the loss from imported insects. This is a direct loss to the country and must either be borne by the farmer, the fruit grower or the forest owner or passed along to the consumer thereby increasing the cost of living.

Entomologists and pathologists are agreed from years of experience as inspectors of imported plants that it is absolutely impossible to detect all of either the insects or the fungi on nursery stock. The writer of the article referred to, knows this also, and if "every leaf and every root was examined under a microscope" as he states, it would have cost twice as much as the plants were worth. Of course, he didn't mean that such a statement should be taken literally, but even if it were true, many insects and fungi are so concealed as to not be capable of detection even by microscope. Many perfectly healthy looking plants, contain fungi in their early stages of development.

We have imported foreign species and with them diseases unknown here, which destroy our native plants. What was gained by importing an ornamental Chestnut and with it the Chestnut Disease which wiped out our valuable native Chestnut as a timber tree—a net loss of billions of dollars. We brought in currants, gooseberries and ornamental pines, and now we are spending hundreds of thousands yearly to fight the White Pine Blister Rust. These examples could be multiplied many times. What does a $10,000,000 business distributed among a few hundred men amount to, compared to billions of loss to all the rest of us?

This matter has been before Congress, and it has backed the action of the Federal Horticultural Board in no uncertain manner. The issue is a dead one and Quarantine No. 37 is here to stay. By the adoption of this quarantine we have simply followed the example of other leading countries. The only regret is that it was not established a century or two ago. It would have saved us billions of dollars.

There are still thousands of insects and fungi in foreign countries, which have not yet reached this country. Are we going to unnecessarily expose our growers to this menace? This quarantine does not prevent us from importing for propagation through the U. S. Department of Agriculture any desirable foreign species. The bona fide nursery man has been greatly benefited by this quarantine, because he can now afford to grow many of the plants formerly imported. Of course, the middleman who merely imports and sells these plants at auction does not like the new system.

HARRIS A. REYNOLDS, Secretary American Plant Pest Committee.

GARDEN NEWS

Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics

Prepare Garden Soil Carefully

Home garden soils should be carefully prepared for planting. Proper preparation and fertilization of a home garden is half the battle won. Most home gardeners in this section, because of the prevalence of the European cost of labor, would do well to rake up and burn corn stubble, large weeds and other debris about the garden. Most of our back-yard garden soil suffers for want of humus, and under ordinary conditions we would not think it best to burn up the debris on the surface of the soil, as it should be worked in. Because of the sorer trouble, however, it is much better to destroy this form of humus and plan to apply it through stable manure, rye, clover, and other material which can be planted on the soil after the vegetables are off. Some backyards are wet and heavy. The texture of the soil can be improved by mixing in sifted coal ashes. Coal ashes have little or no value as a fertilizer.

As suggested last week, practically all garden soil was acid, and in need of a liberal application of lime. Most home gardens will be spaded rather than plowed. In spading it is well to turn the soil over and to dig it much deeper than we have in the past. After the soil has been spaded the lime should be applied and the surface soil thoroughly raked. If one is using stable manure, and it is desirable to where it is available, it should be applied before the spading is done.

One cannot be too thorough in the preparation of the seed bed. It should be raked and raked so that the surface will be thoroughly pulverized. If home mixed or ready mixed fertilizers are used in addition to the stable manure, it will be well to apply a larger share of same to the surface soil and work it in during the raking process.

The first planting of early garden peas can now be safely done. Following are varieties recommended by the County Bureau as being well suited to local conditions:

Pole bean (shell) Carmine Horticultural.
Pole beans (snap and shell) Kentucky Wonder.

Bush beans (green snap) Bountiful, Refugee.
Bush beans (wax snap) Wardwell's Kidney Wax.

Bush beans (shell) French Horticultural.
Beans (early) Excelsior.

Beans (late) Detroit Dark Red.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The progress of the Newton Choral Society, the community chorus organized recently in this city, has been rapid. Already over one hundred and fifty singers have been enrolled, and more are joining at each rehearsal. Men and women from any part of Newton are eligible to membership, the only qualifications being a liking for singing, and plenty of persevering enthusiasm. Among the present members, however, are many trained singers, including members of local quartettes and choirs.

Mr. William Lester Bates, the capable and popular director of the Society, not only is especially skillful in maintaining the enthusiasm of the organization, but is insistent on the highest standards of technique and expression. The officers for the present season are: President, Mr. E. L. Tenney; Vice-President, Mrs. Augustus Wakefield; Secretary, Miss Theresa Cram; Treasurer, Miss Helen Bevan. Music and Publicity Committees have also been formed. Miss Lillian West, organist of the Central Congregational Church, is the accompanist.

Rehearsals are being held every Tuesday at 7:45 P. M. in the chapel of the Central Church, Newtonville, in preparation for the final concert. This will be held probably in Newtonville, at some date in May, when the public will be given an opportunity to hear the Society perform.

Among the songs that are being rehearsed for this occasion are "The Song of the Vikings" by Panini; "Prayer of Thanksgiving"; "The Saman's Song" by McKinley; "Spring-song Waltz" by Nentwich; and "Salamaleikum" by Corneius.

Among the plans for next season is the formation of an orchestra of 60 or more pieces that will rehearse and appear in more ambitious programs with a Choral Society of 250 members.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

At the annual meeting on April 9, it was decided to close the work-rooms at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday, April 29. The knitting will be continued as long as there is need. Wool may be procured of Mrs. Enos Moore, 38 Richardson street, Mrs. Charles Benson, 106 Shornefield road, and Miss G. H. Emery, 70 Waverley avenue after the rooms are closed.

It is hoped that those who are willing to knit during the summer will get their supply on Thursday, or telephone for it. Membership fees to be sent to Miss Maud B. Henry, 457 Centre street.

EDUCATION CERTIFICATES

Rapid strides have been made in education in Massachusetts. During the past year over 17,000 students, the majority employed in earning a living, therefore, unable to attend an institution with regular hours for study, availed themselves of the opportunities offered by the division of university extension of the Massachusetts department of education. These people enrolled in courses given either in class or by correspondence to improve themselves for practical and cultural purposes. The earnestness and sincerity on the part of these people is made evident by the fact that most of them are completing their prescribed work and will receive certificates from the state.

The following Newton residents have secured certificates: Caroline L. Martens, 62 Pleasant road, Newton, has received a certificate for her work in a correspondence course in elementary Spanish. Two correspondence students in Newton Centre were given certificates upon the successful completion of the course in which they enrolled: Edward C. Davis, 1045 Beacon street, plan reading, and estimating; and George D. Frost, 106 Pleasant street, elementary applied arithmetic. Katherine Kimball, 367 Newtonville avenue, was given a certificate upon finishing a correspondence course in advertising. Patrick L. O'Connor, Working Boys' Home, Newton Highlands, was granted a certificate when he completed the work in a correspondence course in gasoline automobiles. A certificate in stable manure, and it is desirable to where it is available, it should be applied before the spading is done.

One cannot be too thorough in the preparation of the seed bed. It should be raked and raked so that the surface will be thoroughly pulverized. If home mixed or ready mixed fertilizers are used in addition to the stable manure, it will be well to apply a larger share of same to the surface soil and work it in during the raking process.

"PARIS OF THE NOVELISTS"

Always a city of fascination and mystery, Paris particularly appeals at the moment as the home of those brave men and women, admirably described as the "saviours of liberty". —The vicomte de Bragelonne.

Doyle, Conan. The refugees. " . . . in the France of the later life of Louis XIV. . . . Much research went into the making of the book with the result that there is to the story the genuine flavor of the old streets."

Du Maurier, George. Peter Ibbetson. "Peter wandered through the good old Paris of a blaze and Eugene Sue and 'Les Mysteres'—the Paris of dim old lanterns suspended from iron gibbets (where aristocrats had hung)."

CLAFLIN CLUB BOWLING

The Claflin Club of Newtonville Methodist Church finished its Bowling Tournament last Friday evening. There were twelve teams in the tournament and most of the time for the past three months there has not been more than 5 points between the first nine teams; consequently the competition has been very keen all the time since the tournament started last November. After the next to the last matches there were 3 teams tied in first place, 2 in second place and 2 in third place, with only 3 points between them, and it was expected that there would be ties to be rolled off. All calculations were upset, however, and after the final matches last Friday evening Team No. 10, captained by Newton E. Hyslop, won first place with 61 points, and Team No. 8, Dr. H. W. Shedd, captain, second place with 50 points. On the same evening Newton Hyslop also won the High Three-String Total with 346. High Average was taken by Lester G. Carpenter, whose average for the tournament was 102. High Single was won by Wesley W. Blair, who rolled 138. This tournament has been one of the most talked of events in Newtonville this past season, and is but one of the many good things brought out by the Claflin Club.

The prizes are to be given out at the "Ladies' Night" meeting of the Club in May, and if the past is any criterion the members and their ladies will have a rousing good time.

The Claflin Club is the Men's Club of the Newtonville Methodist Church. It was organized in 1910, and named after the late Governor Claflin, who was also a prominent Newtonville Methodist. The Club has nearly 200 members, composed of men from other churches, as well as from the Methodist, and meets the third Friday of each month, except June, July, August and September.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"Not So Long Ago" a new play of New York life by Arthur Richman, began an engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, last Monday under the direction of Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert. From all accounts this production is a particularly pleasing one to those playgoers who demand a brilliant comedy in which the risibilities are excited without resort to situations or speech which would not stand an acid test of good taste. The Messrs. Shubert have supplied the production with a fine cast, which portrays the happenings of "Not So Long Ago" with understanding and skill. Eva Le Gallienne, favorably known on Broadway, Mary Kennedy, Esther Lyon, Mollie Adams, Sydney Blackmer, lately in support of Maxine Elliott, Thomas Mitchell, John Gray and George Henry Trober are in the cast.

Best of 22

The Eldorado Stage Co. of Los Angeles tested 22 leading makes on 12-passenger Packard buses. Not a tire was found to match the Millers in that extreme service.

Some Costly Mistakes

Men are Making on Tires

Men who buy tires on a guess, or on claims, are making some costly mistakes.

Large tire users make tests and comparisons. And the results in late years are amazing.

Hudson Taxi Co. of Detroit, for instance, made a long test on Miller Cords. And the average was 15,000 miles.

Miller dealers get hundreds to compare Miller mileage with others. And they find an increased mileage of 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Large truck users are comparing Miller Cords, passenger type, with all others. And they are coming in large numbers to Millers.

California stage lines are using Millers after million-mile tests with many rivals.

The Way to Know

At the Miller factory over 1,000 tires yearly are worn out in tests and comparisons.

They constantly prove that Miller is the best tire built.

In extreme rear-wheel tests they require an average of 15,000 miles on Cords. They prove that the new Miller tread outwears the best of others by 25 per cent.

Such tires should be tested by every owner of a car. See what they give you. Compare with any tire on opposite rear wheels.

Miller experts, in late years, have doubled average tire mileage. Old-times figures do not apply today.

You will fix new requirements for your tires when you try a Miller. Do it now.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Class of 1917 held a reunion and dance in Dennison Hall, Newtonville, Saturday evening, April 10th. Miss McGregory, Art Department, and Mr. Judkins, Mechanical Drawing Department, spent many hours of their vacation upon posters and like work for the Thrift exhibit at the Armory, April 15th, 16th, 17th. Many of the pupils also worked extra hours in order that the "outside work" might be completed in time for the exhibit.

Wednesday evening, April 14th, the Classes of 1918 and 1919 held a very enjoyable reunion in the school library.

An event of interest to the friends of the Newton Technical High School, was the marriage of Edith E. Bennett, for several years a teacher in the school, to George H. Newcombe, a recent member of the 101st Engineers, A. E. F., of Quincy, Mass., on Friday evening, April 2nd.

Both bride and groom received the congratulations of many friends at the reception which immediately followed the ceremony.

On their return from Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe will make their home at 75 Gendale road, Quincy, Mass.

The faculty of the Technical High School are fortunate in having Mrs. Newcombe remain as one of their members.

Mr. S. P. Cullen of the Educator Cracker Company addressed the pupils of the Technical High School on Wednesday morning, April 14th. In his talk, which was on "Holding a Job," he stressed the importance of attention to the little things that really make for success in business.

Lasell

The students will not soon forget the helpful message of Sunday evening given by Dr. Thomas Chalmers of the Allen School at West Newton. Lasell certainly congratulates the Allen School upon having such a gifted and wise principal. The soloist of the evening was Miss Barbara Smith of the Newton High School.

As soon as the weather permits canoe practice will begin in earnest, and preparation for Field Day Sports are now on.

On Thursday evening Dr. W. H. van Allen of the Church of the Advent was the guest of the Seminary, and addressed the students in the evening.

The students are still enthusiastically talking over the Washington trip, and through the courtesy of our own Congressman Luce and Senator Page of Vermont, they were able to enjoy some special and appreciated privileges.

Next Sunday will be Missionary Sunday in the school program, and Lasell is favored in having a speaker the wife of the pastor of the Congregational Church, Mrs. Edward Payson Drew. Dr. and Mrs. Drew spent one of their sabbatical years living and serving right in one of the missions in China. Mrs. Drew has some most interesting illustrations with an unusually fine collection of curios.

Hyde School

Since the opening of school in September, the children of this school have bought Thrift Stamps to the amount of $2,184.22. There are four 100 per cent classes.

The baseball team has begun its practice with Ralph King as captain. Mid-morning lunches of milk and crackers are being served to 272 of our pupils. All are very enthusiastic over this and the number is increasing.

An occupation's play, "Fits and Fits," written by Mildred MacDonald and Madolin Powell of Mrs. Blake-more's class has been given very successfully several times.

A course in nursing for the upper grade girls is to commence soon.

Stearns School

The three highest per cents of attendance in the Stearns School for the past month were as follows:

Grade V, Miss Keyes, 97; Grade VI, Miss Lewis, 96.8; Grade IV, Miss Walker, 96.8.

The highest per cent in the upper grades, grades five to eight, was obtained by Grade V, Miss Keyes's class; the highest per cent in the lower grades, one to four, was obtained by Grade IV, Miss Walker's class.

The Mothers' Club held its regular meeting Monday evening, when Mrs. Griggs of the Rumford Baking Powder Company gave a very interesting and instructive demonstration of the making of baking powder biscuit and modification of them.

The club members are taking part in the Thrift Exposition at the Armory in the form of a small exhibit showing various methods of thrift used in their homes.

The Boys' Club play rehearsals are being held every evening and splendid results are shown.

Baseball candidates reported Wednesday afternoon. There are on the average four candidates for each position. A game is being planned for next week.

The eighth grade is planning a debate for Friday morning. The subject, "Resolved that Daylight Saving should be continued in Massachusetts." The chairman: Henry Farrell and judges Mr. Holman, Mr. Winslow and Miss Foley. The affirmative side will be championed by Edmund Quigley, chairman, assisted by Dorothy Quigley, Florence Donnet, Emma Boisclair, Maurice Hoffman, Negative, Melville Westgate, chairman, Barbara Ryan, Charles Hughes, Ruth Foss, Edmund Cyr.

Friday afternoon a patriotic program will be given in the assembly hall.

Burr School

This has been a thrift year in Grade VII. Early in September a Thrift Band was organized by which a number of pupils pledged themselves to buy at least one thrift stamp every week until June. The other pupils who wished to form the habit of saving but could not afford that amount drew up pledges, promising to save 1, 2, 5, 10, 15 cents per week till June. At the present time we find a great many of our pupils with perfect records of unbroken pledges, and even those who have failed recognize the value of thrift.

The Burr School has been carrying out Health Bulletin No. 3, the aim of which is to conserve the health of the child, and where he is found to be under weight, to bring the weight up to normal. The 7th and 8th grades are having food classes and are trying to carry out all the rules of healthful living. The milk drive has been of special interest this week.

Franklin School

The fourth grade has the desired number of pupils enrolled to join the Bird Society.

The Franklin School is proud of the attendance in Room 10. During the week of March 1st every pupil was present each day in spite of the "Tie ups."

Thrift

A day or two ago,
I thought I'd earn a stamp,
And soon I found some work,
To fill and clean the lamps.
The price I got was very small,
But I did it for five times
And when I peeped into my bank,
I had three bright new dimes.
Helen Crowley, Grade 8, Peirce School.

Country Day

Members of the Country Day School Dramatic Association have elected as their new officers for next year: President, Richard W. Dwight, 1921, of Brookline; secretary-treasurer, John D. Houghton, 1921, of Chestnut Hill; business manager, Robert E. Sumner, 1921, of Boston; stage manager, Lawrence O. Pratt, 1922, of West Newton; assistant stage managers, Merrill O. Carcelon, 1921, of Newton; Winthrop Wetherbee, Jr., 1922, of Boston, and Allen P. Joslin, 1923, of Boston.

The Science Club has offered two prizes, one for the upper school and the other for the lower school, for the boys who during the present term see and accurately identify the largest number of different birds. To help boys interested in this contest two members of the Science Club are assigned each Saturday to conduct an all-day bird walk.

The new moving picture machine purchased by the Science Club has been installed in the physics laboratory. Films upon various scientific subjects will be shown weekly as illustrative material for lectures to be given by various members of the club.

Vocational School

Mr. Ernest Haggood of Newton Highlands, Principal of the Girls' Latin School of Boston, addressed the Monday Morning Assembly upon the subject, "Americanism" or "Liberty through Law." Mr. Haggood illustrated his theme with many modern-day illustrations, and his address held the closest attention of his audience.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Chemistry Club which held a meeting Monday afternoon, April 12, in the Lecture Hall, was extremely fortunate in listening to one of the foremost men of New England, Mr. Talbot, acting President of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His subject was "Rare Gases," and being the former head of the Chemical Department at M. I. T., he was in possession of some very fine points. He took up the subject of helium in some detail, explaining its origin, characteristics and uses. Because of its non-inflammability, it is extremely popular as a substitute for hydrogen for filling balloons, because no exploding bullet can possibly set the balloon on fire. To be sure it is rare, being found in the air about once in every million parts, but in wells where natural gas forms the percentage of helium obtainable is sufficient to make it worth while to extract it. He also went on to tell about argon, its use in incandescent lamps in place of nitrogen, and about other gases which are just being extracted for commercial use. The key note of his talk was the fact that chemistry should be adapted to the home, and to the kitchen especially, not necessarily to the laboratory and lecture hall, because in the future this science is to be just as important to the household as electricity. His interesting address was heard by 40 or more scholars and they certainly admired his speech, and the fact that he was so obliging to speak to the members of the Chemistry Club.

Newton opened the baseball season last Saturday when the High School team defeated Rindge 17-2. As the score indicates it was somewhat of a runaway, but there were some clever stunts pulled off at that. Lyon, who pitched for Newton, showed tip-top form after the first inning, and struck out a good number of the Rindge men, a good portion of them left-handed batters at that. With Seavey as captain behind the plate, Peppard covering the first sack, Ayres at shortstop and Bjorkman at centre, a fine foundation for a team has been made. Stafford at second, Harris at third, and Hodder and Macomber in the field constituted the rest of the team. There were some good hitters in the lineup, and although the opposing pitcher offered some very fine practice for the Newton batters, the stronger teams which face them have got to be careful what kind of pitchers they use. Coach Dickinson did not hesitate to use all the different fine points of baseball which he has been hammering into the new candidates of late, with the result that there was considerable exhibition of squeeze plays. Although they did not work well at all times, the players are getting a great knowledge of the game through Dickinson's methods. The next game will be at Everett on Saturday, April 17, and it is sincerely hoped that Newton will bring home the laurels in the same way she did last year.

The Boys' Debating Team has been practicing hard now, for the past 2 or 3 weeks, debating in preparation for the Tripartite League Debate. Under the careful direction of Coach Mathew Donner of the Harvard debating team, both sides have made fine progress. Newton has yet to win two debates in succession, but the outlook at present seems to indicate that this year is to be the starting point for two successive victories.

At the State Armory, West Newton

TODAY and TOMORROW, 2 to 10 P. M.

Thrift means the best possible results with the least exertion, and these ends accomplished at a minimum expense.

To the average person today thrift in its application to the home is a matter worthy of serious consideration, and it is with these common problems in view that we have endeavored to show a line of gas lighting, heating and cooking that will be of interest to every person visiting the exposition.

You will find in our Gas Lighting exhibit the latest types of Semi-Indirect Gas Bowls, Side Wall Lights and Table Lamps. As one third of our business today is Gas Lighting, we feel that this display will be of exceptional interest.

Those who are interested in cooking by gas will find a full line of the latest style ranges and several types on the oven heat control and fireless cooker principle.

The efficient means of heating water by gas is shown by three different methods; the Instantaneous, Automatic Storage and Circulating Tank system.

Room heating by gas is shown in various forms of heaters, including attractive fireplace and portable types.

Several other interesting appliances are shown such as gas irons, toasters, waffle irons, etc.

TIE VOTE ON SUNDAY SPORTS

Interesting Hearing Given by Aldermen. Annual Budget Passed

The aldermen had one of its old fashioned meetings on Tuesday night, giving a hearing of nearly three hours on the question of accepting the act of the Legislature allowing Sunday sports, and following it up with passing the annual budget for the largest amount in the history of the city.

The Sunday sports bill attracted an audience that filled the seats on the main floor and half the gallery and the various points made by the several speakers were greeted with hearty applause.

Mrs. Cella Wellman, the assistant probation officer of the Newton Police Court favored the acceptance of the act saying that the boys with whom she had dealings did not have proper physical exercise as they were at work during the week. She wanted one law for all, so that the boys could play ball if the men played golf. She believed Sunday ball afforded an opportunity to continue the work begun during the war and that it was a consecration to help these boys on Sundays and it was not a square deal to them to refuse this privilege.

Mr. William F. Garcelon said he had had considerable to do with athletics and while he realized the objections which were made to the act it was needed in the congested parts of the city where the boys are forced into the streets. Their minds are active, he declared and if not given physical outlet they will gamble and tell bad stories. He wanted the games to be held in a properly controlled place and believed Sunday sports made for health and even for religion. Noise was objectionable but he believed it could be controlled.

Rev. M. H. Lichter, pastor of the Central Church said that boys who play ball on Sunday are now classed as lawbreakers and it was his opinion that the burden usually fell on the less privileged classes and the boys always suffer. We suggested that we have the Sunday problem to deal with anyway as some went to church and others went to church all day. Their energy must find some expression. He declared that the fourth commandment had no more to do with the Sunday question of today than Wilson's 14 points had to do with the peace treaty. He believed that if we made this experiment the juvenile court would not be so busy on Monday mornings.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane for the New-

To catch your eye, this time we put the notice into rhyme—
The 5th and 6th of the month of May Please remember the very day
The young folks of the Central Guild Hope to have the Church well filled
Just come and spend with them awhile

When they present in first class style
In costumes not a bit outlandish Longfellow's "Courtship of Miles Standish."
The coach is Mrs. Derby Brown,

You'd best be there right on the minute
With pocketbook and plenty in it
As there will be a sale of candy

THRIFT EXPOSITION

Unique and Successful Affair Held at State Armory, West Newton.

The State Armory at West Newton was the center of attraction during Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, for it housed the great Thrift Exposition arranged under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and made possible by the cooperation not only of the clubs, but of all the social betterment organizations of the city, the mills, the Public schools, the City Fathers and many of the public-spirited men of all the Newtons. The object of the Exposition was to demonstrate the value of thrift, not only in the home, but in all the concerns of life. "In its broadest application," so runs the program, "thrift leads to the art of right living. This Exposition is designed to make thrift practical, to reduce its principles to working order. To show those in every walk of life how to get the most out of the income, out of health, out of labor; how to spend, how to save, how to invest, how to produce; in a word, how to be independent."

At the formal opening on Thursday afternoon Mr. Ernst Hermann, the General Chairman, who had himself labored indefatigably for the success of the affair, paid high tribute to the work of those under him, Mrs. J. C. S. Taber the Federation's Thrift chairman, Mrs. C. H. Keefer, the treasurer and chairman of finance. His Honor, Mayor Childs, expressed his appreciation that such an exhibition should be carried on in the home, but in all the concerns of life. "In its broadest application," so runs the program, "thrift leads to the art of right living. This Exposition is designed to make thrift practical, to reduce its principles to working order. To show those in every walk of life how to get the most out of the income, out of health, out of labor; how to spend, how to save, how to invest, how to produce; in a word, how to be independent."

THRIFT and SPEND THRIFT

Thrift is not stinginess. It is merely common sense in the management of money. Get as much as you can of the good things of life out of your money, but don't spend it all—Keep one eye on the future—that's the thrifty person's motto. A spendthrift is good to himself—but only to his present self. A thrifty man is good to his future self as well as his present self.

What is your life worth?

If you are a salaried man, you are earning by the exercise of your brains or muscle, say $3,000 a year, at least one-half of which you employ in the support of your family. Then your life is worth $30,000 to your family; for a policy for $30,000 will yield a sum which if invested at five per cent would give your family $1,500 income a year. Is your life insured for anything like its full value?

Would you not like to have one contract that will guarantee your wife a hundred-dollar check every month as long as she lives? That will give her insurance that insures; protection that protects. She won't fall a prey to the oil man or the mining man, for the sake of the large returns so often guaranteed on her investment, but so seldom realized. Let a man who specializes on planning a definite insurance program for you, look into your case as an Income Doctor and give you sound advice as to how best to safeguard the interests of the entire family.

OLD FIRM IN NEW STORE

After more than forty years at Kingston and Bedford streets, the Lamson & Hubbard Company has just opened its new store at Boylston and Arlington streets, Boston, the firm being warmly welcomed in its new home by the other business houses of that rapidly expanding neighborhood.

The new store attracts attention immediately by its size and appearance. Its cool and restful interior, as well as its exterior, is distinctive in its simplicity and in the restraint shown in both form and color everywhere. Its location is almost ideal, as the Arlington street station of the subway is at its door, and the widening of Stuart street will make it one of the most central sites in that part of Boston.

Upon entering the store the visitor is struck by the spaciousness of the street floor, one great sweep of 7000 square feet, and its general attractiveness. Below this is the automobile department, the accounting rooms, fur storage department, designing room, workroom, shipping space, etc. Visitors admire greatly the decorative ceiling of the main floor, done in low, unpainted, plaster relief in the old English fashion. The show cases, mirrors, fitting and dressing rooms are located around the sides of the store, the woodwork being all of weathered oak. The floor and wall panelings are of quartered oak that gives a rich contrast to the light colored columns and ceilings. The walls and columns are of smooth white tufa or lava, imported from Italy. Suspenders from the ceilings are fine, large chandeliers of wrought bronze and delicately etched glass.

An attractive feature of the store decorations is the arms of the various States and the provinces in which Lamson & Hubbard Company have connections. This company has dealings with the fur producing sections of America for the last thirty-five years. Its fur manufacturing headquarters are in Brooklyn, N. Y., where it also has a large store, although that is but one of many conducted by this company.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

At the Commonwealth Country Club, at three o'clock, on Monday, April 26, Barbara Bradford, (Mrs. J. W. Ferguson Kennedy), will give the fifth lecture on "Events of the Day." Miss May Ward, of the Beaconsfield, Brookline will be hostess.

At her last lecture Mrs. Kennedy spoke of Presidential Candidates, and Presidential Campaigns. By figures on the blackboard, the lecturer showed how under our present election system, the man who received the most popular votes might yet be the defeated candidate. Brief sketches of some of the important Presidential candidates were also given.

There will be a Progressive Auction Bridge for the men and women members of the Club next Tuesday at 8 P. M. The hostesses are Mrs. Sidney Sargent and Mrs. B. T. Wilkinson. On Thursday evening there will be a dinner dance.

SIXTY YEARS OLD

Hudson's Drug store observes this week the sixtieth anniversary of its business in this city, a truly remarkable record in these strenuous days. The store was first established in 1860 by Mr. Edward T. Billings and he was succeeded in 1876 by Mr. Arthur Hudson, who was the proprietor until last year, when he sold out the business to the present alert and progressive owner, Mr. Bernard M. Burke.

The prescription business of this store has been famous for many years and the present owner maintains the same high standard.

TIE VOTE

ton Federation of Women's Clubs carefully explained that the Federation had discussed the matter for 20 minutes without action and recently the executive committee of that body had voted 24 to 20 to favor the bill.

Mr. John F. Brant opposed the act saying that if we let go now we will never be able to get back again.

Mr. H. B. Reid said he ran away from home when 11 years of age on account of the restrictions on Sunday afternoons. He said that tennis had been played for some years on the Riverside Recreation on Sunday afternoons. The present law make the boys outlaws and no wonder they swear. He would do the same. He believed we could not teach Americanization unless we practice it. He suggested that the men go to the ball field and mix in with the boys.

Mr. E. E. Hills said that when he was a boy he could tinker with his velocipede on Sunday but he couldn't ride it and that there was a lot of injustice in the present situation. It was better he thought for the boys to be on the ball field and work out their energy in that way.

Mr. C. Peter Clark opened for the opposition representing the First Church of Newton Centre. He thought the ten commandments had worked very well so far. He suggested that there were parts of the city where there was not so much call for Sunday sports as others and wanted the Playground Commission to discriminate in case the act was accepted. He also suggested that if the experiment was tried the vote next fall would be far more intelligent.

Dr. E. S. Niles produced a copy of the Bible and read the Commandments and part of the Old Testament. He believed we would make a mistake if we tried to improve on God. Mr. Henry W. Jarvis, clerk of Elliot Church said at a recent church supper the vote was 90 to 8 against the act. Daylight saving was giving an extra hour each week day for sports.

Rev. Dr. C. R. Ross of the Newtonville Methodist Church was not against sport but was aware of the dangers, especially on Sunday. He believed it was injurious for boys to play on Sunday and while he knew all about Sunday golf playing, he realized it was difficult to draw a line between golf and ball and yet it was there and believed it could be drawn on the ground of propriety if not on moral grounds. He pointed out that only a few persons got physical exercise at a ball game, the spectators standing around with craps games and swearing going on on the edge of the crowd.

Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Church, Nonantum, wanted to know, why, if this bill was for the betterment of Nonantum people, they were not present. He pointed out that even with Saturday ball in Nonantum the residents there were subjected to considerable annoyance from the noise and cursing, and thought it was not right for the aldermen to further deprecate property around the ball fields. He had found no one who was kept out Sunday ball and wanted the matter put over until the fall elections. He suggested that if the bill was accepted that the people of Nonantum would have to endure the noise while the members of the board were at the shore or mountains. Mr. Rae wanted the matter put over until the fall election. Mr. Rae paid a glowing tribute to what America had done for him since he came here at the age of 11 and eulogized its traditions and laws. He declared it was our physical condition which counted in the war but the disposition to fight for the country. He believed that golf ought to be stopped on Sunday and said the most of the talk about Sunday sports came from men who played Sunday golf.

Mr. R. O. Walter spoke for the Sunday schools of the city and said that religious education and the foundations of moral character are not laid on week days but on Sunday. There are 600 devout men and women working for the public welfare in teaching 4000 children and you will make their task much more difficult if this act is accepted.

Rev. Dr. Edward P. Drew said the Lord's Day was one of our most precious possessions and declared that we should have one day in the week different from the rest, one day to give our youth some culture in morals and spirit.

Rev. N. A. Merritt, Jr. said he had attended a Sunday baseball game and believed it exceedingly unwise to authorize it in this city. He suggested that the smaller children would have but little chance to play with the larger boys monopolizing the playgrounds.

Mr. F. F. Davidson believed the board should go slow before making any change as almost the entire membership of our churches are against this act. We will make it much harder for our young people to be more devout and more Christ-like if Sunday sports are allowed. He closed with a fervent statement that if we had to turn our children over to the board of aldermen, "God help them."

Mr. R. L. Brigham said there was a joker in the bill, which would allow golf and other sports to be played all day Sunday. He suggested that no one should be allowed to attend a ball game on Sunday unless he had previously attended church.

Rev. Frederick Palladino questioned the action of the executive committee of the Newton Federation and did not believe it represented the views of the club women of the city. He objected to any discrimination being made between villages and wanted Newton treated as one community in this matter. Because such a measure is good for Boston he said, was no reason why it was good for Newton, for all parts of our city are near the great outdoors.

Mr. C. A. Chadwick said this bill was in the interests of the almighty dollar and that the gang that came out to watch the game would also shoot craps. He urged the board not to leave this matter to the grandfathers who ran away from home 50 years ago, but to the boys of today.

Letters were read in opposition from the North Church and the Auburndale Congregational Church.

Rev. Richard T. Loring said the case was not so bad as it was made out. Many boys were lost as the churches advanced and until the church provides something for them on Sunday, they should be allowed some outlet. He was not sure that there was any necessity for Sunday baseball but thought Thompsonville and Nonantum might need it.

Rev. A. W. Cook said this bill was not intended to deal with Sunday school boys but with the great multitude and called attention to the absolute failure of the church to reach the young man of today. During the war the Y. M. C. A. was forced to sell cigarettes and tobacco and conditions are greatly changed. He believed this was one chance for a Christian community to extend a helping hand to people outside the church.

Mr. Wm. E. Lowry thought it was not a matter of where we live as how we live and said that in Nonantum it would be harder for them to work among the boys and girls if this bill is passed. There are other things which can improve our citizenship than Sunday ball.

Rev. Mr. Lichliter said he had no desire to inaugurate an European Sunday and Mr. Jarvis quoted Senator Weston as saying that this bill was the opening wedge for all kind of Sunday sports.

At the suggestion of Aldermen Hollis, a vote was taken among those present and there were 56 votes in favor and 56 opposed.

In the absence of the president, Alderman Forknall, the vice-president was in the chair and all the board were present, except Aldermen Blake and Madden.

An interesting incident in the hearing on petition of the Newton Auto Welding Co. to keep and sell gasoline at Boylston and Elliot streets was the protest of Mary A. John C. and Margaret Belger expressed in an injunction from the court. Mr. J. A. Roney spoke in favor of the permit.

On petition of W. E. Halliday for a private garage on Broadway, opposition was made by R. L. Cooley and Mrs. Florence M. Cook.

Hearings were also held on petitions for poles on Sterling street, L. D. Towle for 27,000 gallons fuel oil and 550 gallons gasoline at 785 Centre street, of the Saxony Worst Co. to keep 500 gallons gasoline on Chapel street, of R. A. Vachon to keep 310 gallons gasoline, Warren street, of H. J. Nichols to keep 170 gallons gasoline, Buchanan road and on proposed improvement of South Meadow brook, at which no one appeared.

Mayor Childs sent in several communications including appointment of Leo Melsaac as a weigher, J. A. Monroe relative to relocation of poles on Dudley road, School Committee request for $750 to study the need of additional school accommodations, of the Street Commissioner to rearrange salaries of clerks, to establish salary of Forestry foreman at $1800, of the Newton Trust Co. to alter lines of Walnut street, Newtonville, appointing C. Raymond Cabot a member of the board of appeal, vice Pulsifer resigned, appointment of Hon. Chas. E. Hatfield, James S. Cannon and Robert M. Clark, as License commissioners, and recommending that licenses for Common Victuallers and Lodging house keepers be referred to them, recommending $4500 more for school repairs, and recommending appropriations for 1919 deficits.

The Board of Health favored a sewer in Avalon road, and petitions were received for a sewer in Nevada street, for sidewalks on Playstead road, and from the Gulf Refining Co. to put a tank under Washington street sidewalk.

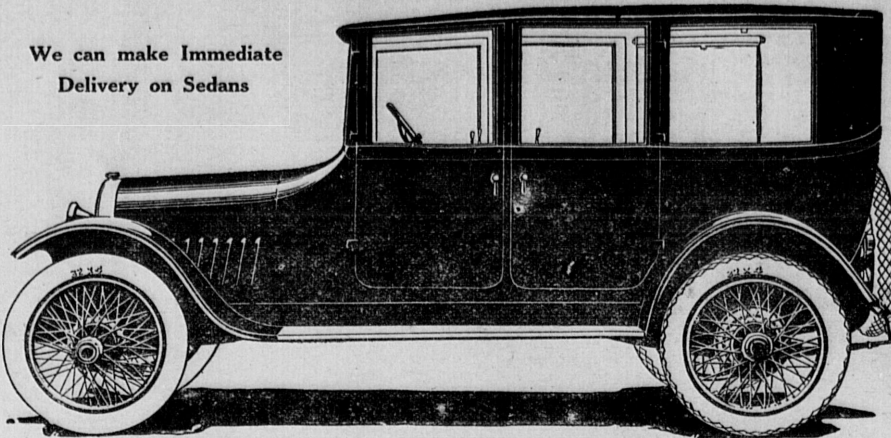

The usual grant of licenses for the year were granted, with but few new petitions.

The favorable report of the License Committee on junk licenses for Max Canter and Frank A. Burke was recommended for further consideration. Leave to withdraw was granted on licenses of Peter Durant as common Richard Harte was allowed to enter the Suffolk road sewer, at 1 per cent grade, a sewer ordered built in Albemarle road, and hearings assigned on sewers in Milton street and Channing road, and on the proposed laying out of Clafin place, Ashton avenue, Orient avenue, Kenwood avenue and Oakwood terrace.

Orders for $26,780 for an auxiliary pumping station off Ward street, for $7238 for a drain in Central avenue, and Prescott street and for sewers in Elgin street, Dorset road and Bonad road were referred.

There was quite a discussion on an order for appointment of a special committee on investigation of water supply in which Aldermen Clement, Whidden and Allen participated and which was finally defeated by a vote of 13 to 4.

The Finance committee reported on the annual budget, submitting an order for $1,561,048.55, which with previous orders aggregating some $550,000 makes a total budget of $2,411,979.76, with an additional amount of $171,503.50 for water purposes. The board took over an hour for its deliberative and finally approved every item as it came from the committee. Adjournment was reached after one o'clock.

Newton Technical High School

Wednesday morning, April 21, Mr. Wright, Deputy Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts, addressed the pupils upon "The advantages and privileges, as well as responsibilities, which belong to them."

The talk was most interesting. Mr. Wright quoted Dr. Briggs' remark that "the sole remedy for disorder, discontent, etc., in the land is education," and also told how the men returning from war have come back to continue their education, because they have seen that education pays and pays big and puts you ahead.

A short time ago it was mentioned in this column that an unfinished story had been written by Muriel Stewart of the Senior Class, conclusions to which were to be written by the pupils of the school.

Conclusions were handed in in great numbers. The stories were read by the "Dynamo" staff. Sidney Walton's conclusion was finally decided to be the prize winner. It was closely seconded by Clifford Rummell and Walter Carey. Francis Sheehan, Ada Jewell, and James Cunningham deserve honorable mention. The chief fault with the conclusions was that they lacked originality. Because of this fact it was rather difficult to decide which one was the best although none of them were as good as was expected.

On Friday, April 23, the annual "Gym Meet" will be held in the Gym after school. This is participated in by girls of all the High Schools, and bids fair to be as exciting as usual.

The Senior Class of the Technical High school announces their annual dramatic presentation to be given on Thursday afternoon and Friday and Saturday evenings, April 29, 30 and May 1, in the Assembly Hall.

The play chosen for this year is "Tommy's Wife," a farce in three acts, written by Marie J. Warren, and bids well to eclipse all past Senior offerings.

This year's performance will mark the tenth annual presentation by the Senior classes of N. T. H. S. since the custom was inaugurated in 1911.

The cast, consisting of many prominent members of the class, reads:—Edith Haigh, Marguerite Howley, Carmen Simeone, Christine O'Donnell, Lillian Neary, Margaret Reid, Manley Kiley, Joseph Hurley, James Coleman, and Raymond Heislain.

The business management consists of Mr. Kidger, faculty advisor; Alastair Fraser, chairman; Paul Ueville and Jacob Gilfix, assistant managers. The ushers for the Thursday afternoon performance will be Frances Dixon, chairman; Helen Doherty, Louise Harris, Mildred Mayall, and Alice Mooney.

The ushers for Friday and Saturday evenings are Harriet Bowman, head usher; Edith Barry, Dorothea Callowhill, Anastas Considine, Mary Deagle, Margaret L. McLean, Effie McKay, Adrienne Smith, Marie Sullivan, Beatrice Whiting, and Beatrice Wilson.

The Stage Committee for all performances is comprised of Mr. Kuntz, faculty advisor; Leon Fowler, chairman; Edward Dewire, Winfield Scott, Nora Barry, Elizabeth MacMinn, and Margaret Walsh.

DEATH OF MR. LOCKE

Charles A. Locke, whose death occurred at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital on Monday in his 68th year, was prominently identified with the mercantile and social interests of Boston, where his entire career was passed. The son of Charles Augustus Locke, he was born, brought up and educated here and entered mercantile life as leading partner in the firm of Locke & Knox, leather merchants, which subsequently became Locke, Tolman & Co. He served as a director of the Shawmut Bank and of the Commonwealth Trust Company, and took a deep interest in the welfare of the Perkins Institution for the Blind, the Children's Mission and other benevolences, his contributions to these being as frequent as they were substantial. It was largely through his agency that the new edifice was provided for the First Unitarian Church at Chestnut Hill where his attractive house was located. He was a member of the Union Club. Mr. Locke is survived by his widow, who was the daughter of Asa Henry Dyer of Commonwealth avenue.

LIBRARY NOTES

There is an interesting exhibit now at the Library on Old Uniforms of the U. S. Army.

CONTEST IN THE 13TH DISTRICT

As the day for presidential primaries draws near more interest is being manifested in the various contests for delegates throughout the State. In this Congressional District, the 13th, four Republicans are running in combination, two being grouped as delegates and two as alternates to the presidential convention.

General Sherburne of Brookline and Thomas W. White of Newton are grouped for the two berths as delegates, while William W. Ollendorff of Medway and Benjamin Loring Young of Weston are grouped for the two places as alternates. These four well known men are running unopposed, although they make no bones of the fact that they are favorable to Governor Calvin Coolidge for President. They have announced no second choice. Apparently they agree with Speaker Gillett who writes, "for a man to declare a second choice is considered rather a reflection on the hopefulness, if not the sincerity of his first choice." They have stated however, that they desire to represent the will of the people and to nominate a man who has the vision and the ability to originate and carry through a practical program of reconstruction, in order that the nation may return to a government for all the people by all the people.

The four candidates present a very formidable combination, for they are all men of notable records of public service.

General Sherburne has served his home town of Brookline for several terms in the General Court, from which he resigned to enter the World War in 1917. He went overseas as Colonel of the 101st Massachusetts Field Artillery and was made a Brigadier General while in France. For the past year he has served as Chairman of the State Commission on the Necessaries of Life.

Thomas W. White of Newton served his home town in the Board of Aldermen and was a representative to the general court from 1910 to 1914, serving as Chairman of Ways and Means in his last year in the House. He was appointed Supervisor of Administration of the Commonwealth in 1918, which office he now holds. He has always been an enthusiastic friend and supporter of Governor Coolidge.

William W. Ollendorff lives in West Medway and represents that district in the General Court, serving as Chairman of the Committee on Taxation in the present session. He has been a selectman of the town of Medway for the past seven years, being chairman four years of the seven. He is also president of the Medway Co-operative Bank and chairman of the Republican Town Committee. Mr. Ollendorff is treasurer of the Bellingham Woolen Company and is well known both as an able business man and a level headed legislator.

Benjamin Loring Young makes his home in Weston, where he has served for the past ten years as selectman and for the past four years in the Legislature. In last year's session he served as Chairman of Ways and Means and this year he is known as Republican Floor Leader, having been appointed as Chairman of Committee on Rules. He continues to serve as a member of House Ways and Means and his ability and judgment are widely recognized by those who have followed the legislation of the last few years.

All in all they are four very active men in public life, who have served the party and the State with distinction and will well represent the district at Chicago.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

The local Y. M. C. A. baseball team opened its season April 19th, on the Y. M. C. A. field in a practice game against the Boston Y. M. C. A. team, the latter winning by a 4 to 3 score.

It was a good game considering the fact that it was the first time this season that the players had played together.

Bill Hunt, who was slated to pitch for Newton, did not work on the mound owing to recent illness from which he was just recovering. Barnes worked the first six innings for Newton and would have come out on top but for a couple of early season wild throws. Durkin replaced Barnes and held the Boston team scoreless.

The prospects for an unusually fast team are very bright, as a big squad of good men are out for the team including most of last year's men together with a few new men all of whom are well seasoned players. Following are the candidates who have reported for practice:

McQuiston and Adams, catch; Hunt and James, pitchers; Bills and Adams, first base; Cushman, second base; Shaw, shortstop; Carling, third base; Sullivan, formerly of Rhode Island State, leftfield; Thomson and Barnes, centerfield; Varley and Adams, rightfield. These men with others who will be given a try-out later, are out to make a record showing for the team and bid fair to better the fine record made last year when the team won 21 out of 25 games.

The schedule is rapidly filling up and some of the best teams in New England will be hooked. Games will be played on Saturday afternoons and holidays. The team practices on the Y. M. C. A. field every Tuesday and Thursday evening. Saturday's game will be played at home if arrangements can be made to that effect.

CITY HALL

Bids for about 27,000 tons of crushed stone and screened sand bids, were opened last week by the Street Commissioner, as follows:

T. Stuart & Son Co., Newton, $60,750; George H. Noone, Jamaica Plain, $62,400; Richard White, West Newton, $65,700; Thomas J. McCue, Watertown, $81,000; New England Motor Trucking Co., Brookline, 3 districts—crushed stone only, $48,000; West Roxbury Trap Rock Co., West Roxbury, 1 district only—crushed stone, $16,500; New Haven Trap Rock Co., New Haven, Conn., 1 district only—crushed stone, $15,375; T. D. Sullivan & Son Co., Newton Highlands, screened sand only—1 district, $4,200.

The price on the lowest bidder is about 15 per cent. higher than last year.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Thomas Weston, long prominent as a lawyer, and well known through his various interests apart from his chosen profession, died Saturday morning at his home at 276 Franklin street, Newton, after a long period of failing health. He was born in Middleboro on June 14th, 1834, and was descended in the seventh generation from Edmund Weston, who came from England in the ship Elizabeth and Ann in 1634. The family occupied positions of prominence in the old Plymouth colony.

Mr. Weston studied at Peirce Academy in Middleboro, received his degree from Amherst College, and then studied at the Harvard Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1859, and began his professional career in Fall River, where he acquired an extensive practice, and also acted as counsel for the Old Colony Railroad. In 1865 he moved to Boston, where he had continued his law practice until recent years making his home in Newton.

He has been a resident of Newton since 1869 and represented the city in the State Legislature in 1882 and 1883.

He was a member of Massachusetts Bar Association, Massachusetts Club, New England Historical Genealogical Society, the Bostonian Society, Boston Congregational Club, of which he was at one time president, and the Monday Evening Club of Newton. He was a trustee of the Pilgrim Society, and until recently was a trustee of Hartford Theological Seminary. For many years he was a director of the Congregational Educational Society, and was a member of many religious and church organizations.

Mr. Weston was a member of the Eliot Church in Newton, and had always been an active worker in all church and religious matters, exerting a strong influence for good in the community and particularly among the young men. He was a lover of books, a collector and antiquarian student. He wrote the "History of Middleboro," a "Sketch of Peter Oliver," who was the last chief justice in the Colony, and a "Genealogy of the Descendants of Edmund Weston," besides many short articles for papers and magazines.

He is survived by his widow, who was Ellen S. Childs of Springfield; a daughter, Grace Weston, and a son, Hon. Thomas Weston, Jr., State Senator.

DEATH OF MISS CARROLL

In the death of Miss Kate Carroll of Prince street, West Newton, her many friends have met with an irreparable loss. Everyone who knew her will miss her tactful sympathy, her unending generosity, her love of fun and her interest in the good times enjoyed by others.

Thirty-six years ago, Miss Carroll opened a small private school at her home on Temple street where she lived with her parents, Charles Eliot and Rebecca White Carroll. Because of the high standard set for her pupils, the upright character expected of both teachers and scholars, and the excellent standard of its graduates, the fame of this school, which started in November of the year 1884 with but nine children, soon spread until the house at number 78 Temple street became too cramped, and the present building at 147 Prince street was erected. Here the enrollment has steadily increased until it now numbers over 40 pupils.

Miss Mary Smith Barbour of Perkins street, West Newton, associated for a period of 20 years with the teaching force of the school, will now become its acting principal under the direction of Miss Rosalie Carroll, a niece of Miss Kate Carroll. She will be assisted by the regular corps of teachers, with Miss Pearl E. Whitcomb in the primary department. Miss Kate Carroll was born in Baltimore on January 27, 1846. She moved to Newton with her family in 1863. After finishing the course at the Newton High School, she taught at Syracuse, New York, for several years, and later spent ten years in Chicago, returning to West Newton in 1880.

Her last illness was occasioned by a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered consciousness but died peacefully on Saturday, April 17, 1920.

She is survived by a brother, Arthur Carroll of West Medford, formerly of Putnam street, West Newton, and several nephews and nieces.

GARDEN NEWS

From Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture and Home Economics

Many vegetable seeds will be planted this week. One would do well to well plan the garden before planting any of the seeds. Tall growing vegetables should be placed on the north side of the plot so as to allow the maximum amount of sunlight to reach each row of vegetables. All vegetables should be planted in long rows instead of raised beds. Long rows save in labor and space.

In a small garden plot rows are oftentimes planted as closely as 2' and small vegetables as closely as 14". Best results can be obtained on small areas by alternating a row of one of the large growing crops such as beans, tomatoes or corn with rows of small growing crops like cabbage, bush beans or peas. Crops such as lettuce and radishes should be grown between hills of pole beans, among early cabbage, in a row where tomato plants are to be set. Onion sets and radishes may be set or planted in the row or parsnips or carrots. They will come on and get out of the way before the carrots and parsnips need all of the space.

It is well to plant the garden in such a way so that one crop will follow another. Winter cabbage can very easily follow early beans, spinach and Kohl Rabi after early beets or carrots; in order to get success, planting small amounts of each. Vegetables should be planted at intervals of two weeks or the planting of early and late maturing varieties should be done at the same time; this, in order to produce a continuous supply of vegetables. Early varieties of peas, radish, lettuce, spinach, carrots, beets and parsnips can be safely planted this week.

EDITORIAL

Newton Republicans should not hesitate next Tuesday to cast their ballots in favor of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, former Senator W. Murray Crane, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, and Mr. Edward P. Thurston as their delegates at large to the National Convention. Every one of these gentlemen is a worthy representative of the Republican party of Massachusetts and will have a big influence on the action of the convention. Senator Lodge as floor leader of the party in the senate, and Speaker Gillett are in active touch with senators and congressmen at Washington and Mr. Crane is always a power in national politics. Mr. Thurston, while comparatively new to national politics, has done yeoman work for the party in this state and fully deserves the honor of an election as a delegate.

For district delegates, Newton has two candidates, and it is rather interesting that the local pride will find many of the Republicans voting for both gentlemen. There should be no question whatever as to the election of Messrs. Ollendorf and Young as alternate delegates and they will be an honor to the district in any capacity.

THRIFT EXPOSITION

The Army itself presented a wonderfully attractive appearance divided as it was, into booths by an artistic arrangement of white grill and lattice work decorated with branches of green. Uniform gray card board signs lettered in red designated the booths. As one entered the door one's eye was struck by the vista of the stage seen through the broad aisle lined with booths. On a background of deep blue in huge letters of yellow stood out the word, "Thrifty," arched above a sheaf of flags of the Allies, which were displayed behind a shield of yellow. Below just in front was the still exhibit of Filene's, framed in by architectural pillars in white with a carpet of green extending over the floor of the stage and down the central steps to the main floor. Red streamers flew from poles above the booths on each side the aisle upon which were the names of the different Newtons, and added the needed touch of color. Within the booths each exhibitor was allowed to display whatever fancy or necessity required, but the outside was kept one harmonious whole of white and red and green boughs.

Turning to inspect the exhibits; at the left, under the slogan of "Savings and Investments," the three types of the banks of our city, commercial, cooperative and savings, united to urge thrift and safety in guarding the resources of the citizens. "Safety for savings" was the slogan by the savings banks. The present total assets held by all these banks amounts to $23,704,326, and the number of depositors 44,500. The commercial banks, so-called, include the Newton Trust Co. with its various branches and the First National of West Newton. There are cooperative banks at Auburndale, Newton Highlands, Newtonville, Nonantum and at West Newton. The savings banks are the Newton, the West Newton and the Newton Centre. Deposits in these now grow at interest monthly, the interest being compounded semi-annually.

Directly across from here was the exhibit of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., where every sort of labor saving device operated by electricity was shown, including, cooking, washing, ironing, heating, cleaning implements, electric refrigeration and a fireless cooker where the stone is replaced by a low-voltage electric current. "Household toil unthinkable in 1920," was their slogan.

The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Co. showed numerous types of cooking ranges, radiators and gas logs in new designs and all the up-to-date lighting fixtures, as well as hot water heaters of different types.

The Orr Hardware Co. had many kinds of economic household equipment, including food heaters, washing machines, oil stoves, aluminum ware and the new glass ware for baking.

The factories of Newton were represented by Saco-Lowell Shops, Newton Silk Mills, Shepherd Worsted Mills, Saxony Mills, Silver Lake Company and the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Co.

Samples of their products in the raw and in the manufactured state were on exhibition and the welfare work, which is considered a thrift measure, was explained by a representative.

Swift Company emphasized the less expensive cuts of meat as one way of reducing the cost of living. On Thursday afternoon a whole carcass of lamb was cut up and special attention was called to the cuts less familiar to the housewives, which are sold from 12 to 14 cents a pound and are equally as nourishing as those usually used. Lamb, liver, pork feet, pork hearts, pork tails, pork kidneys were on exhibition. On Saturday different grades of margarine were shown.

The Hathaway Baking Company had a booth for its Cream Bread and practical bread making as done by the Girls' Bread Making clubs of the Middlesex County Bureau of Agriculture was demonstrated. A simple, neat, one-piece kitchen dress designed by Mrs. F. A. O'Brien was shown by the Auburndale Woman's Club in connection with these exhibits, and patterns of it sold. This club also had lists of the things necessary for the kitchen, as well as a list of the things which must be done before one can begin housekeeping, prepared by Elizabeth McDonald, editor of the household department of the Modern Priscilla, for the "Bride's Issue" in June.

The city's own contribution was full of interest. There was that of the Board of Health, emphasizing the need for eradicating tuberculosis, with the exhibit of French postcards and posters; also a map of Newton indicating where cases exist at present. Then there was the Public Library with its collection of Thrift Literature and a selection of good recent books, samples of its photographs and of other material which it has for circulation. "Help Stretch your Dollar by using your Public Library."

All the exhibits of the organizations associated with the Newton Hospital were most interesting and well carried out. The model of the grounds and buildings attracted much attention. The Medical Social Service as administered by the Newton Hospital Social Service League was set forth by means of posters prepared in New York; this work expedites the recovery of the patient by relieving his mind, it helps the hospital by emptying the beds more rapidly through intelligent convalescent care and by co-operating with all agencies in the community, it works toward the conservation of health and the prevention of disease. The League is supported by membership fees and individual contributions, which are used to pay the salaries of the workers, to maintain an automobile for their use and for a small fund for relief work among the patients.

The Model Nursing Association had a model sick room fitted up inexpensively by utilizing all sorts of things as, for instance, packing boxes covered with white enamel cloth and lined for utility boxes of various kinds, a wire dish drainer covered with cheese cloth was converted into the baby's toilet basket while a common clothes basket enameled white made a bassinet. A model nursery was fitted up daintily by Filene's and furnished with all the clothing and other articles necessary for a child's wardrobe. In another booth there was a demonstration of the Mothercraft work now a part of the summer playground work, the outfit provided by the Newton Federation being used for the purpose. The Baby Clinics had exhibits showing the prenatal care, the instructions given in proper clothing, bathing and feeding of the children. There are four of these clinics under the direction of Dr. Irving J. Fisher, each week, at Newton Centre on Tuesdays at Mason school, at Stearns school, Nonantum, on Wednesdays at the West Newton Neighborhood House on Thursdays and at Twenty House at Newton Upper Falls on Fridays. In line with the Child Welfare exhibits was a large one of the Boston Milk Campaign; its huge electric device showing the production of the milk, its handling and distribution to the homes, and the men women and children going out to their occupations fascinated young and old alike.

The thirteen kindergartens of the city brought together examples of the work of the children, one particularly interesting one showed the use of thrift material as spoons, skewers, spoons, blue print paper, the used postage stamp for the picture of Washington, etc. At different times children were there illustrating the occupational work. A toy village built of blocks attracted much attention.

Another booth showed the Montessori material; another the work of the Barnard School at West Newton, which takes children who are misfits in the grades. Bead work, games and toys made by their scholars and a demonstration of chair caning comprised its exhibit.

This leads up directly to the remarkable exhibit of the schools housed in the Technical High, building. There were samples of the shop work of the boys; dresses, clothing, hats made by the girls; tests of dyeing different kinds of material to see how the colors hold and whether or not the dye is going to injure the fabric, and also a demonstration of rug making. There were family budgets, one for $25, for five days, another for $13.50. Pictures of the headress of the inhabitants of Timbuctoo and of the Hopi Indians closely resembling what our girls are adopting today bore the significant query, "Why copy there?"

A demonstration of the corrective work in physical education department was made graphic by photographs. The practical results are indicated by the following figures: In 1908-1909 twenty-seven per cent of the scholars were excused from exercise by doctors' certificates; last year there were but two per cent. The Freshman class entering in 1918 upon being examined for posture was divided into four groups. Twelve per cent were placed in the A group, 23 per cent in the B group, 32 per cent in the C and 33 per cent in the D. At the end of the year May 1919, upon another examination 33 per cent had worked up into the A, 28 per cent to the B, 25 per cent to the C and only 13 per cent remained in the D.

Also included in the physical education exhibit were shoes showing the proper kind to wear and those which are not. A chart comparing the effect of the Chinese foot-binding with that of wearing the modern high-heels and pointed toes, adding the query "Can we criticize China?"

Back Yard Thrift including poultry raising and home gardens was in charge of Mr. Raymond W. Swett of Agricultural department of the Vocational school and director of the school gardens. Boys of his school made a well-carried out model for the exhibit on Conservation illustrating the erosion caused by the cutting off of the forests and the effect upon the fertility of the soil.

The exhibit of the Conservation of Natural Resources is a whole story in itself. It was arranged by the two committees on Conservation of the Social Science and the Community clubs with the co-operation of the Newton Forestry department Mr. Charles Benyon, Forest Commissioner. There were examples of tree pruning, of tree repair. A large evergreen was stuffed birds. The State department showed lighted transparencies illustrative of proper and improper forestry. The National Entomological Bureau had miniature plantings of white and red pine to show how they are combating the blister rust, which was badly infested with moths, was shown; how the oaks, which are very productive of moths, have been replaced by pine.

Upon the platform in addition to Filene's still exhibit of clothes suitable for school and college girls, there were many thrift ideas in the way of clothing, and furnishings "things made from nothing" as the chairman put it, made-over dresses, meal sacks converted into neat morning dresses, hats made from things "in the house." Then there was a beautiful display of needlework, over which one could easily have spent several hours in examination, but the special feature which attracted large crowds both afternoon and evening were the living models wearing costumes selected by the committee in charge of this exhibit of correct and distinctive dress for school and college girls. The firms contributing to these exhibits were Jordan, Marsh Co., Filene's, Jays, Plotkin, and Wether. Twice each afternoon and evening these models appeared upon the stage to be surveyed by an admiring and interested crowd. Everyone was attracted by the simplicity, daintiness, and yet real beauty of the clothes shown and if a "word to the wise is sufficient," there should be a noticeable change for the better in the attire of the girls of Newton.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle, which has been doing philanthropic work here since 1888 and has given away $13,000 to Newton's worthy poor, had a part in the Child Welfare section, showing charts and photographs of British Co-operative work from the Social Ethics Museum of Harvard University. Another feature in this section was the Mouth Hygiene exhibit of which the Newton Circle had charge, where an exhibit of teeth showing the mouth decay attracted a great deal of attention. School luncheons were suggested and the need of a small amount of candy for every child called forth an ardent exclamation of joy on the part of a small boy, who wished the women in charge was his mother! Books the children should read.

The Camp Fire Girls showed their work, including clothing made by themselves, photographs, etc. The Boy Scouts had wireless instruments belonging to their Norumbega Wireless Club, which has a station in the old engine house at West Newton, where they are frequently in communication with the government station at Arlington, Va.; they had a tent and the camp fire, their first aid kits, samples of their knots and of their signal flags. The Girl Scouts, too, had their booth, giving demonstrations of first aid, of washing and dressing the baby, of garments made from scraps from mother's rag bag. There was an exhibit of food to be encouraged, and of food to be discouraged. Bird study, which is one of their features, was illustrated by the summer and winter feeding. Then there was the garden from start to finish, seeds just sown and vegetables canned. And there was the Y. M. C. A. booth setting forth geographically the value of that organization.

"Vacation Thrift" included an exhibit by Wm. Reed & Sons Co. of all kinds of camping and tramping outfit. Housing problems and "Own Your Own Home" booths, included an architectural exhibit of homes by Kilham and Hopkins. Working men's Houses by Herbert J. Kellaway and George Nelson Meserve. Then there were new types of windows, and a portable gas steam radiator for heating a garage. The fire-protection apparatus shown included the oldest fire alarm box and the second oldest and the modern types were also there.

Another booth, which attracted considerable attention, was that of the college women, uniting the three colleges, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Mount Holyoke, who are at present having active campaigns for endowment funds. Under the slogan, "A Thriftful Nation Educates all its People," was pointed out, how the colleges are directly serving every community by supplying the teachers, as well as trained women workers. The fact that 143,000 teachers resigned in the United States last year to go into other fields justifies these colleges in not putting off longer their campaigns for increased endowment.

Doubtless some exhibits have escaped the eye of the investigator, but none is omitted intentionally.

Teel's Orchestra furnished music for all three days both afternoon and evening.

It was a remarkable collection, one that called forth favorable comment from every one who attended. The great variety of interesting things with very little duplication made for great satisfaction as one studied the booths. It was a splendid thing to have done and the lasting effect will endure for a long time. The underlying purpose of the whole and the marvellous way it was not lost sight of makes the exposition of far greater value than those which we have become accustomed to attend on a larger scale in Boston.

Friday was "Thrift Chairmen's Day" when chairmen in the clubs throughout the State were the special guests and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity to see the exposition, to meet and hear Miss George A. Bacon, director of Thrift of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. At four in the afternoon there was a short conference at which Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, chairman of Thrift of the Federation, presided. In opening the conference, Mrs. Palmer stated that there are 200 Thrift chairmen in the clubs and that 156 clubs have reported doing some form of thrift work. In response to her questions, the representatives expressed themselves as of the opinion that the work is of value, that it should be continued another year and that frequent Thrift days were the most practical way of keeping the idea before the club women.

Miss Bacon in the short time at her disposal said, that she had been delighted with the way in which the Thrift work had been taken up in Massachusetts. All but three states of the country have taken up this work. The greatest avenue is, of course, through the child in the public school, but it will be of little avail, unless the home carries out the work which is started in the school. If the slogan of 2,000,000 Homes of Thrift can be realized, there will in the future be fewer dependents to be cared for with a consequent lowering of taxes. Miss Bacon expressed the hope that the work will be carried on long enough, so it may be of value to every man, woman and child of the country.

Miss Helen Louise Johnson, editor of the General Federation Magazine, who was also present, quoted a school girl's definition of thrift as "the management of one's affairs in such a manner as to constantly add to the value of one's possessions." Miss Johnson made a plea for the public as the economic basis of savings. She urged that people should adjust their expenditures for shelter, food, operating, and clothing, that there may be something left for fun, her interpretation of "higher life." It is our business to question what is a budget, why is a budget and how is a budget? Afterwards there was a brief reception when opportunity was given to meet Miss Bacon, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Pedrick of New York, and representatives from Rhode Island, New Hampshire, and Vermont.

The Brighthelmston Club has established a permanent Salvage Bureau. Members, who have articles of cash value for which they have no use, may through the bureau offer them for sale, giving the club a 10% commission. Outsiders pay a 20% commission. The club is using this income for the purchase of Treasury Certificates, while those who sell are urged to purchase Thrift Stamps with the proceeds. A representative of this Bureau was present and told groups of the plan and how it is working out in Brighton and Allston.

Lectures

In the Lecture Hall each afternoon and evening lectures and talks were arranged. Under the exhibit on Conservation of Natural Resources, on Thursday, Prof. Elizabeth Fisher of Wellesley College gave an illustrated talk on "Petroleum, Oil and Coal;" on Friday evening, Mr. Orrin C. Bourne, Chief Fish and Game Warden of Massachusetts, spoke on "The Propagation of Fish and Birds," illustrated with moving pictures, and on Saturday afternoon Miss Margaret Tucker spoke on "Birds" with lantern slide illustrations.

Through the courtesy of the Newton banks Miss Agnes Donham gave a talk each afternoon upon "Thrift through the Budget."

Friday afternoon under the committee in charge of the correct and distinctive dress exhibit, Mr. Fred H. Daniels spoke on "Art and Style in Dress."

Miss Talcott of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary and Miss Evelyn Schmidt, Mouth-Hygiene Instructor for Massachusetts, gave several talks upon "Mouth Hygiene." "Conservation of Eyesight" was the subject of a stereoscopic lecture by Dr. Walter D. Lancaster. Views of Mount Holyoke College and of the life there was shown by lantern slides on Saturday evening. Each evening three educational films were shown under the auspices of the Welfare Bureau, while on Saturday there were moving pictures especially for the children.

The Pageant

"Thrift and Spendthrift" the pageant written by Mrs. Charles Marble of Worcester expressly for setting forth the thrift idea, was presented in Players' Hall each evening to houses crowded to the limit of the hall's capacity, with many turned away on Saturday night. The beauty of the setting, of the costumes and of the dances together with that of the spoken word, carried a lesson which must have been grasped even by the youngest one who saw it.

Those who had the leading parts were: Miss Marguerite Ayres, "Thrift"; Augustus Wakefield, "Father-Time"; Mrs. Earle E. Bessey, "Mrs. Hardpress"; Miss Charlotte Arnold, her daughter, Edwin Codman, her son; Clinton B. Willey, "Spendthrift." The orchestra comprised of students of the West Newton Music School under the able leadership of Miss Elizabeth Fyfe provided the music in a very acceptable manner. Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell was general chairman; Mrs. Francis Newhall, general director; Miss Ruth Pierce was in charge of the dancing; Miss Mary Lawrence, costuming; Mrs. Warner Marsh, properties and stage. Some seventy-five Newton people took part. This was the first presentation the Pageant has had outside of its home city.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Some of the big matters to be considered by this Legislature are beginning to show their heads. The Senate will have the first chance at the 2.75 bill and the maternity bill, while the House will soon consider the yeoman F bonus bill.

One of the interesting events last week was the debate on the bill to provide for ascertaining the opinion of the people on the ratification of amendments to the United States constitution. The debate was one of the best I have yet heard, and Mr. Hull of Leominster, who led the opposition deserves great credit for the logical argument he put up against the bill. His characterization of the measure as "a pass the buck" bill, accurately described the situation. On a standing vote the bill was rejected by a tie vote, but on a roll call it was passed by a vote of 118 to 61.

Another hot fight took place recently on the bill to increase the salary of Attorney-General J. Weston Allen from $7000 to $8000. This bill was finally passed by a vote of 101 to 90. Mr. Early being away with his committee, was not recorded. Mr. Rice voted against the bill and the writer for it.

Representatives Early, Rice and Brimblecom dined the members of the Republican City Committee at the Boston City Club on Wednesday evening and Messrs. William F. Garcelon and Thomas W. White, candidates for district delegates were also present as guests.

The physical health bill, in which so many Newton residents are interested received its death blow in the Senate this week, the vote being 22 to 12 against passing the bill.

The Senate has passed the 2.75 bill, so called, and it will come to the House next week, where its passage by a large vote is confidently predicted.

J. C. Brimblecom.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

There is an old saying that man is the noblest work of Almighty God. Never was a brilliant man, or a noble man, the equal to a brilliant noble shrewd business woman. The woman grasps the importance sees farther into the dark future realizes more keenly the advisability of providing for advancing years. She has been not only gifted with shrewdness, but she has seen the fact demonstrated for ages. By unquestionable statistics that 85 per cent of male adults fail to establish even a permanent basis for an income. She knows also that 33 1-3 per cent of all widows are left without the necessities of life and 75 per cent. without the comforts, this woman will see to it that she is on longer left dependent upon fickle and cold charity in her advanced years. She will take advantage of the BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY, which will absolutely and positively protect her, it is the most pleasant experience of my existence to see the bright smart young women come to my office and take out their policies, and some of the Policies are no trivial amounts. These young women are surely to be the future protection of our country. Women think this proposition over carefully and enquire for particulars.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BUNT, Editor.

To New Englanders born and bred the idea of a Thrift Exposition seemed a fifth wheel to a coach. "What do we need of any such thing?" they said. "Why, we have been practicing it all our lives!" The skeptical ones who attended Newton's wonderful Thrift Exposition at the State Armory at West Newton on any of the three days—Thursday, Friday or Saturday of last week, found that "Thrift" had taken on a new and far reaching significance, so in the words of the adage while they had gone "to scoff, they remained to pray." It is no longer merely the simple saving of little things, the scrimping and saving selfishly of one or two individuals, but true thrift enters into the very warp and woof of the complex life of the whole body politic. The people came, not here a few and there a few, but one constant stream of humanity poured into the armory from the moment the doors were opened until late into the evening on Saturday; not from the Newtons alone, but from all around Boston; and not that only, but from cities and towns over the state; and not Massachusetts alone, but from New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and even from New York. Those from outside the state were for the most part club women. Thrift chairmen in their respective Federations, while the New York women were representatives of the General Federation Magazine.

And who were they? Well, there was a small boy seeking all the literature he could devour; the light-hearted girl anxious to see the latest fashions, but disappointed to find them "so plain"; the anxious mother overburdened in her attempt to make both ends meet; the fashionably dressed woman interested in all the expensive labor-saving electrical devices desirous of assistance in solving domestic difficulties, that her time may be released for worth while activities; thoughtful men surprised at the extent to which the idea had been carried out and glad to be enlightened in regard to many of the things going on within their own city. Was it all worth while, do you ask? Yes, decidedly yes. Aside from the information gained, the bringing together of so many people from all walks in life, the co-operation of so many agencies, in themselves added one more to the long list of worth-while things which the Newton Federation has been doing in its twenty-five years of existence.

State Federation

April 27, 2 P. M. Civics conference at Marblehead, High school assembly hall. Speakers: Miss Eleanor Manning, "Housing," Mrs. Allen G. Shepherd, "Juvenile Delinquency," Mrs. Charles Briggs, "Citizenship," and Mrs. Walter C. Metcalf, "Fire Prevention." Train leaves North Station for Devereaux at 12:40 P. M.

Newton Federation

May 4, 10:30 A. M. Annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at Central Congregational church, Newtonville. Annual reports and election of officers and other business will fill the morning session. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock, tickets for which must be secured before Friday, April 30. Positive no tickets will be sold on the day of the meeting. The afternoon will be given up to the observance of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Federation with brief talks from some of the former presidents. Mrs. B. E. Taylor, historian, will read from the History of the Federation. This meeting is always full of interest and it will not be less so than in other years.

Woolley of Mount Holyoke, who has been obliged to cancel her engagement on account of college duties taking her to the Middle West.

The Annual meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will be held in the Congregational Church, Tuesday, April 27, at 3:30 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and reports for the year will be given by the officers and chairmen of standing committees.

After the business session, an interesting series of Motion Pictures will be given. At 6:15 the Club will unite with the Men's League for their Annual Supper, after which Dr. Franklin W. White will give an address upon "Food Fads."

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Tuesday, April 20, the reading of King Richard II was completed.

On Monday evening the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club had a very largely attended meeting, when Edwin M. Whitney read "The Square Deal." It was announced that the "Old Maids' Convention" given the week previous had netted the club $184.

On Wednesday morning at the meeting of the Social Science Club Miss Mabel C. Bragg interested the members exceedingly in the health work now being undertaken by the schools. The regular program for the morning was the monthly talk upon current events by Mrs. William C. Crawford. Mrs. Crawford reviewed the development of aviation and its application to government uses and the further extension of it since the close of the war in different countries. She touched upon the situation in South Africa and its relation to the British Empire and contrasted it with the situation of Canada. She also discussed the development of Canada, its part in the war and the part it is likely to take in the coming years as a great agricultural nation. The Thrift movement in this country was spoken of and contrasted with present management of government finances. This last she feels is likely to become an issue in the coming presidential campaign.

The club showed its appreciation of Mrs. Crawford's talks by hearty applause. A full account of the annual meeting of the Newton Community Club will be printed next week.

The Newtonville Woman's Club held its annual meeting and luncheon at the Congregational Church parlors on Tuesday, April 20th.

Luncheon was served at one o'clock. The tables were artistically decorated in pink, with growing plants and roses. The repeat itself deserves more than mere mention and will long be remembered as a remarkable achievement on the part of the social committee, which certainly engaged some fairy's wand for the occasion. After the luncheon the Glee Club sang several selections which showed that this new organization is a worthy one and promising a splendid future. Miss Mabel C. Bragg then gave the talk on school-health which Mrs. Palmer had hoped to include in her recent program on city activities. Miss Bragg explained how health consciousness has become a game in the schools and every child considers it an honor to be normal and a disgrace to be under-weight.

She showed how proper hours, proper hygiene, proper diet are beginning to be "the fashion" at school and declared it as important for a child to receive 100% in health as in arithmetic, displaying very attractive postures to illustrate the enthusiasm of the children themselves.

The company then adjourned to the lecture-room where the annual meeting was held.

Mrs. J. C. Hagar, the president, called the meeting to order. The secretary's report showed a year of successful work in all departments, a full membership and eighteen names on the waiting list. The treasurer reported receipts of $2215.91 and expenditures of $2084.24 including the usual charities for Newton Hospital, Stearns School Center, Newton Welfare Bureau, Newton District Nursing Association, Stone Institute, Newton Home for Aged People, Gov. John A. Andrews Home and the Flower Mission, with a special donation to the work of Miss Louise Sherman, a member of the club, who is, at present, connected with the Expedition for Relief in the Near East, and a small gift to the War Children's Relief Fund.

The club owns four liberty bonds and has a substantial balance beside. The reports of the various committees were unusually interesting. The Art Committee, through its chairman, Mrs. P. A. Evans, suggested that the work of the committee should be enlarged to become a committee of Education, along the lines of Civics, Americanization and Literature, a suggestion which so appealed to the club that it went on record as in favor of this advancement.

The Finance Committee presented a very clear explanation of the making of a Club budget. Mrs. Boyden, the chairman, said that the club's expenses consisted of three parts, program, running expenses and charities, and gave a comparison of the budgets for the past three years which showed that running a club is increasingly expensive, in keeping with all other necessities of life.

The Housing Committee reported $857.01 in the treasury, but has no definite plans concerning the work which was abandoned at the beginning of the war.

The Program Committee and Music Committee have both set new standards, for the club and the members anticipate further surprises another season.

The Nominating Committee, Mrs. A. D. Salinger, presented the following ballot and these officers were unanimously elected: President, Mrs. J. C. Hagar; Vice Presidents, Mrs. J. C. Salinger, Mrs. Maynard Maxim, Miss Lucy A. Dickinson, Mrs. D. E. Baker, Mrs. G. F. Malcolm, Mrs. P. A. Carter, Mrs. A. D. Rice, Mrs. A. H. Decatur; Recording Secretary, Mrs. E. E. Wakefield, Jr.; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Bertha Miller; Treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Willey; Clerk, Mrs. H. S. Allen; Chairman of Finance, Mrs. A. E. Vose; Auditor, Mrs. M. H. Stafford; Directors, Mrs. H. D. Cabot, Mrs. J. A. Stafford, Miss Margaret McGill.

POP CONCERT AT UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Friday night, April 9 there was a pop concert at the Parish House of the Universalist Church, Newtonville. The decorations consisted of palms and ferns, and there were tables seating, four, six, and eight. The entertainment of the evening consisted of Knight's Orchestra, songs, recitations, and dances by the Misses Barr, readings, by Miss Molly Wescott, and a group of songs charmingly rendered by Miss Marie Sladen. The young ladies of the parish in white gowns and caps acted as waitresses. Ice cream, cake, and candy were also sold by the younger girls of the parish.

At ten the floor was cleared and dancing followed.

POLICE NOTES

In the Police court last week, Maurice Walker of Newton was discharged on two complaints brought against him by Samuel Lippman of Pearl court, one for attempt at larceny and the other for threat intending bodily harm. After hearing the case Judge Frost gave the complainant a severe lecture for bringing such a matter into court.

Paint will save your Farm Tools.

"UNCLE SAM" wants you to take better care of your farm tools—and in that way help make up for the shortage which exists.

"The annual rust and decay loss in this country due to a lack of paint is greater than the fire loss." Farm tools contribute their share to this loss.

If you own some idle implement—sell it to some one who has use for it. But paint it first (it will bring a better price).

Heath & Milligan Wagon and Implement Paint is suitable for the wood and metal parts of Plows, Manure Spreaders, Feed Cutters, Wagons, Reapers, Cultivators, Planters, etc., etc. A very useful paint to have about. A little goes a long way. It stops rust, decay and warping.

Like other Heath & Milligan Paint and Varnish Products (and there are over 50 for every purpose, about the farm and home) it can be identified by the large Dependable Trademark shown above—on the label of each package.

There is a free color card for each Dependable Paint Product.

You Can't Help Liking This Range

The GOLD MEDAL GLENWOOD is in reality a combination range consisting of two complete ranges using different fuels, with neither one interfering in any manner with the other.

Coal supplies the fuel for one, and gas for the other. So far as the use of these two fuels is concerned, it is exactly as though you had a coal range and a gas range. The difference is that they occupy the same floor space instead of being two separate ranges in two different parts of the kitchen.

You may use the coal and the gas at the same time, or either one without the other. You have gas in warm weather and coal in cold weather. But at any time you wish to do more baking or more cooking, you have the advantage of using both fuels and both ovens at the same time.

It responds to your cooking art so quickly and efficiently, you will find that cooking is one of the greatest pleasures in your home.

Call and See Them and you will understand at once why a Glenwood Range "Makes Cooking Easy"

The Truth About Tire Mileage

Know the mileage of your tires. Otherwise you choose tires by guess. Thousands of motorists, by adopting Miller Tires, have increased their average mileage 50 per cent to 75 per cent.
Try at least one Miller on that record, and see what it does for you.
Large tire users nowadays subject all good tires to million-mile comparisons. Millers are winning those contests. And they have become the most talked-about tires in America.
At the factory, Millers are constantly compared with their rivals, and they constantly prove their supremacy. The new Miller treads outwear all others by 25 per cent.
When super-tires are being built, why not find them out? One test will be a revelation. Come and make it.

Bigelow School

Humane Day was observed in Room 6, Grade 7. The following pupils took part under the management of Edith Boothby: Muriel Anderson, Horace Benyon, Helen Spurrier, Angelo Altieri, Eunice Norton, Marguerite Bernier, Dorothea Stockbridge, Gertrude O'Donnell, Doris Barton, Elizabeth Rees, Julian Hutcheson.

The fifth grade boys are making church window designs which are to be displayed on Memorial Day.

Lasell

The athletic association provided a thrilling game of basketball this week between Sargent and the home team. The victory very naturally went to Sargent. Lasell was proud of the good work done by her girls. Thursday evening a unit of four selected artists of the Leland Powers School through the courtesy of Mrs. Blanche Martin, head of the Elocution Department, gave an interesting evening of readings, greatly enjoyed by the pupils.

The speaker for Sunday evening will be Mr. Willard Reed, principal of the Browne & Nichols School of Cambridge.

A party of students are looking forward to the concert on Sunday evening, in Symphony Hall by the People's Choral Union, who will sing Verdi's "Requiem." This is especially interesting to Lasell, as the leader, George F. Dunham, is a member of Lasell faculty.

Stearns

The entertainment Friday was given by grades 5, 6, 7 and 8. An interesting feature was the illustrated lecture by the pupils of grade 7. This showed pictures of Paul Revere and William Dawes on their ride; also the battles of Lexington and Concord and historic buildings and monuments erected in honor of April 19, 1775.

The A. L. I. Stearns Club will give an entertainment, "The Magistrate," in the Stearns School Hall, to night at 7.30.

The Mothers' Club held a very successful whist party last Friday evening. About 45 couples were present. After games, etc., ice cream was served and dancing followed.

Mr. J. B. Dacey is out because of illness this week.

Bigelow School

The following pupils of Grade VII, Room 6 have had perfect attendance thus far, during the school year, 1919-1920: Edith Boothby, Ruth Pearson, and Julian Hutcheson.

The Courtship of Miss Standish is being dramatized by the following pupils of the same grade and room: Julian Hutcheson, Alva Stein, Walter Hennigan, Marguerite Bernier and Doris Mason.

The girls of Grade VIII have begun their Spring series of Captain Ball games.

Eighteen girls have signed up for the Home Nursing courses offered by the Red Cross to grammar school girls.

Some Health Posters made by Miss Child's class and a set of booklets on Health Habits, the work of Grade VII girls, were sent to New York for exhibition.

Three days each week the Bigelow pupils are given an opportunity to buy thrift stamps in the building. Mr. Chase has charge of this sale of stamps. Since September the total number of buyers are 322; the value of stamps bought $2,336.59.

To date Miss Seale's class leads the thrift contest with 33 buyers and a value of $349.61; Miss Coolidge's class has 31 buyers and a value of $241.34; and Miss Lowe's class has 34 (100 per cent.) buyers and stamps bought to the value of $330.75.

Challin School

The seventh grade has formed a reading club. The officers are as follows: Samuel Moore, president; Martha Willson, vice-president; Phillipa Fatey, secretary; Edwin Pitt, librarian; George Lewis, assistant librarian; executive board, Alice Allen, chairman; Ernest Adams, Marian Young. With the approach of pleasant weather the recesses are held out of doors. The milk is served at different tables on the playground.

Interest in the spelling contest still keeps up. Grades IV and III are the winners of honors during the past week.

Baseball practice began in earnest on Tuesday afternoon of this week, when the boys met at Cabot Park for their first "tryout."

Roger Wolcott School

Mr. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre this week gave the last in his series of illustrated travel lectures on California to pupils of the seventh and eighth grades. These lectures have been instructive and very interesting to the pupils.

The majority of the pupils in the school attended the Thrift Exposition, many taking an active part. The foundations of the new building are being laid and the pupils find the process of mixing the cement an interesting one.

Miss Emerson's seventh grade are exhibiting some excellent and most interesting Health Posters.

At present there are six girls' baseball teams and four boys' teams. Thursday the boys will play Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts and next week a team from the Peirce School.

Horace Mann School

This past week was test week. Report cards will follow these tests next week.

The fourth grade obtained a record last week in spelling, having 100 per cent two days in succession. They are the first grade in the school to achieve this.

On April 20th the eighth grade of this school again succeeded in getting 100 per cent in spelling.

Last Tuesday afternoon baseball practice was held at Cabot Park to select the best players for the baseball nine. This team will play the Stearns, Mason, Peirce and other schools.

A very interesting program was given Friday in the Assembly Hall by the different grades. It was in memory of the Battle of Lexington and Concord. After the lower grades had given their parts, a play, "The Sacrifice of Nathan Hale," was given.

Hyde School

Miss Green's 5th Grade led in attendance for March, 94.9 per cent. The pupils in Miss Smith's 3rd Grade purchased 30 Thrift Stamps. This was the largest number for the week of April 12th.

We are glad to report an increase in the number of pupils taking the mid-morning lunch of milk and crackers. The photographer made his annual visit this week.

The Otis Group Intelligence tests are being given in Grades 5, 7 and 8. Results are most interesting, both to pupils and teachers.

Did you see the flock of evening Grosbeaks, birds, which rarely visit the East? Some of our classes had the pleasure of observing them as they stopped at the school grounds on their migratory journey to the north. Pine Grosbeaks halted a few days, also.

The teachers of the Highlands with friends from neighboring schools met in the Hyde Kindergarten room Thursday afternoon and gave a miscellaneous shower to Miss Helen Kuntz, who is to be one of Newton's June brides.

The "Bird Friends" Junior Audubon Club in Miss Sampson's room held its second meeting April 16th, 1920. Humane Day. After the business, President Godson turned the meeting over to Marjorie Dow, the chairman of the entertainment committee. A very interesting program was given including a report of a bird walk one of the members had taken the day before under the direction of Professor Maynard.

LECTURES BY THE REV. ADOLPH ROEDER

Members of the Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville, and their friends enjoyed a real intellectual treat in the two lectures given last Sunday and Tuesday evenings by the Rev. Adolph Roeder, of Orange, N. J. Mr. Roeder is a man of national reputation as a lecturer, a scholar of the Word of God for the sake of the human race, and the author of several widely-circulated books. He is especially a keen student of the new science of "Symbol Psychology," or the relation between the mind and the material world, and it was with this that his lectures quite largely dealt.

The first lecture, given on Sunday evening, was on "The Architecture of Souls." The speaker dealt with "character building" as a process which is not merely in fancy but in fact the analogy of the building of a house, and in particular of a temple. He held, in fact, that the descriptions of the building of the Tabernacle and of the Temple in the Old Testament were written with this fact in mind, and that they are included in the Word of God for the sake of what they tell us about the structure of our own souls. This, he said, was what Jesus Christ meant by talking about "the Temple of His body." He also instanced as an illustration of the fact that we all unconsciously perceive the relation between the outer and the inner worlds, the universal habit of speaking of our mental activities in terms of physical ones—when we say, "I see," meaning, "I understand."

The second lecture, given on Tuesday evening, dealt with a subject which was never more at the front of public interest than it is today—"The Great Adventure," which, for Mr. Roeder, is what we call death. This, he claimed, so far from being the end of life is simply the transition of consciousness from the natural world into the spiritual world in which our souls, unconsciously, dwell even now.

The supreme evidence of a life after death, he said, lies in the development in this world of faculties and capacities which we have no immediate opportunity to realize. He spoke of the unborn child, which possesses heart, lungs, eyes, ears and so on which it does not immediately use or need. Yet the possession of these organs is the evidence of a future state in which they will all have the opportunity to function. So in our life in this world we develop a sense of justice, a spirit of brotherly love and a love for truth which we have only very restricted opportunities to exercise under present world conditions. They will find their chance when we come into the life for which we were created. "The body is the womb of the soul."

The lecturer closed with a powerful and moving statement of his own very definite belief in a life after death, as drawn from his reason and observation and from the remarkable teachings of Emanuel Swedenborg. He described with touching vividness his expected meeting with a beloved daughter, who in her life-time was an artist of rare promise and whose gifts, he feels assured, are not being wasted in her present sphere of activity.

Both lectures were largely attended, and aroused much interest and comment. It is hoped that Mr. Roeder's visit to Newtonville may be made an annual event.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Newton Y. M. C. A. bowling team won the first match with the Hunnewell Club team on the Newton alleys last Thursday evening. A return match will be played Monday, April 26th at the Hunnewell Club.

The tennis season was opened on April 19th. The courts are now in first class condition and members can enjoy tennis to their heart's content. Courts may be reserved for one hour periods as usual.

The annual meeting and dinner of the Association will be held on Monday evening May 3rd. Mr. L. Wilbur Messer, the general secretary of the Chicago Association, is to be the speaker on that occasion. Members and friends of the Association are urged to save that date.

MAKING A BEGINNING

Anyone attending the Thrift Exhibit held last week at the State Armory, could not but remark on the number of booths connected with children and their welfare. The importance of the training and care of children as directly affecting our national future, is being more broadly recognized. Legislation has been passed protecting the children of Massachusetts from working at too early an age and regulating their hours and condition of employment. Much is still to be accomplished constructively to provide vocational opportunities such as can be found in part time schools. Otherwise the higher age of required school attendance may prove a handicap to the children.

Newton, thru her Technical and Vocational High Schools as well as her extensive system of night schools, has done much to answer these problems but anyone vitally interested in the question, knows that these are only the first steps. Massachusetts as a state has been one of the leaders in the child welfare movement but in other parts of the country it has met with great opposition. Conditions in the south have been discovered to be particularly appalling especially in the canning industries of Louisiana where the padrones are still very powerful. In order to wipe out such conditions national action is necessary and in that event much will depend on the interest and faith of citizens in the states where the value of child welfare has already been proved.

The books on the following list are applicable not only to children in the mill and on the street but also cover the education and health of every child in the community. To each mother and father in Newton or anyone interested in children, these books should be helpful.

RECRUITING THE NEW NEWTON BATTERY

Active recruiting for the new Battery of light Artillery to be formed in Newton started last Tuesday night at the Armory and will continue until the full strength of the organization is enrolled. The designation of the unit will be Battery C, 101st Artillery and command of the outfit has been delegated to Captain Richard Roquemore of West Newton, who is a well known athlete of Newton High fame, and who served overseas with the 3rd Division as an Artillery officer. It is his ambition to have his organization complete by May 1st, and is relying on the ex-service men of the city as well as those of Watertown, Brighton, Needham and Wellesley to assist him in the work. Men who have been in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps may reenlist for one, two, or three years, but non-service men must sign up for three years. A private's pay amounts to approximately $1.00 per drill, with extra pay for camps, rendezvous drill and any special duty they may be called upon to perform. Captain Roquemore states that there will be no summer camp to attend this year, and for that reason expects to have many former soldiers return for one year, which will be a great assistance to him, as by the time their one-year enlistments expire the battery will be in good running order, and will be able to gather in recruits among the younger men of the city, who were too young for service during the World War. The Armory will be open every evening except Saturday and Sunday until the recruiting drive secures the required number of men, and anyone interested in the matter is urged to call at the Armory or they can reach Captain Roquemore by phone at his home in West Newton.

HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Thirtieth Concert of the Highland Glee Club was held at Bray Hall on Wednesday evening before a crowded house.

The program included "In Parcadie," "More and More," "They Kissed I Saw Them Do It," and others by the Club. The latter was encored enthusiastically.

Between the numbers by the Club Mr. Albert Stoessel, violinist, gave selections which for variety of subject and delicacy of execution have rarely been equalled at any concert. Mr. Stoessel's playing was encored again and again.

Among the most popular of his selections were his own "Lullaby" and "Humoresque," the "Rondò Capriccioso," by Saint Saens, and "The Hand Organ Man."

The program concluded by "Hail, Our Native Land," sung by the Club to the March from "Aida." This was one of the most successful and most popular of all the concerts this well-known club has held.

SPLENDID CONCERT

The Boston College Band and Glee Club gave an artistic concert Sunday afternoon in the School Hall of Our Lady in aid of the Diocesan Centre for Catholic Women. Both the Band and the Glee Club performed under the very able direction of J. Carey Martin. This was the first time that they have been heard here, and the reception given to them showed that they were very well received.

Mr. Walter Mayo played Dvorak's "Humoresque" and McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," in masterly fashion. His tones were smooth and rich, and his technique flawless. Miss Martha A. Clausen, soprano, sang the Berceuse from "Jocelyn," in superb fashion. Mr. Morgan T. Ryan proved himself very versatile in his readings.

A brilliant xylophone solo by the conductor, Mr. Martin, showed that he is a very capable musician.

The concert was in charge of Mrs. Carleton Stanley and Mrs. Butler.

Newton Classical High School

A fine entertainment is in store for those who are going to see the Senior Play at the Classical High on May 8th, or at least that is what is promised by all those who have seen anything of it so far. The cast of the play has been carefully selected and every member of it has now been training for several weeks. When the presentation is made, the managers have high hopes that the S. R. O. sign will be outside the door in plain view. Candidates for Class Baseball were called to the Gym on Wednesday, April 21, and at this time the Seniors and Juniors discussed the prospects of having teams. As it has most always been the custom to have such contests between classes, the outlook seems favorable to assemble those who are not in the 'varsity squad, in order to play one or two games.

The baseball team sailed smoothly through last week, taking the wind out of Needham's sail by a score of 20 to 0 and trouncing Everett on Saturday, April 17, with a 6-0 count. The Wednesday contest with Needham was largely a runaway as the score indicates, the only feature being that prac-

—Every Newton man had a chance to play. Everett was not as easy an opponent, but Newton realized it and tightened up in short order when the outlook was dubious after Lyon had passed the first two men. The remainder of the game was very flashy in spots but nothing very exciting occurred to bring Everett near the score of one run. Newton and Cambridge were at the head of the league after Saturday's fray, and these same two teams were booked to meet at Cambridge on April 19. Newton certainly was not there with "wide-awakes," for Cambridge stole a lead and ended the game with the score of 5-4 in her favor. Many think that the usual "jinx" which seems to have accompanied Newton every time she has visited Russell Field, was on the job Monday, but many others who witnessed the contest were of a different opinion. One sure fact, Newton wasn't up to form. She failed to come through twice when hits were most needed, and then the climax came when there was a poor exhibition of coaching at third. However, Newton had some credit coming to her all right, because Seavey got a 2-base hit and Hodder got 3 hits. Cowing pitched very near true to form while he was in the box for the Orange and Black, while Murphy, a new discovery in the pitching line, struck out 2 men after he had relieved Cowing in the last inning. Brookline and Malden are the next opponents, but it remains to be seen just how Newton shows up.

MR. IRWIN RESIGNS

As Boy Scout Commissioner for Norumbega District. Has Given Long and Faithful Service

At the last meeting of the Executive Committee of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, Commissioner James C. Irwin handed in his resignation as Commissioner. This was not entirely unexpected, as the pressure of business had grown so great this year, that Mr. Irwin had several times said he must resign. His resignation was accepted, with sincere regrets, after it was found out that Mr. Irwin could not be persuaded to remain as Commissioner. His loss will be felt by the entire district, and it is a real loss to the service community. His faithful service, and unselfish work is appreciated by all, from the Council members to the newest scout.

Mr. Irwin first became interested in Scouting, when his sons joined a troop of scouts in Rutland, Vt., in 1911. In 1913 Mr. Irwin was one of the organizers of the Newton Council, then the Eighth District of Greater Boston Council. In March, 1914, owing to the injury of the scoutmaster of troop 1 Newtonville, Mr. Irwin consented to help out, and his fine organizing ability was soon evident, for he appointed four assistant scoutmasters, and took in 15 scouts almost at once. He arranged for instructors in all lines of scout activity, held camping trips and hikes almost every Saturday and taught the boys to love the outdoors. Many of the older boys of troop 1, some of whom are in college, show the result of the leadership of Mr. Irwin in those early days.

Mr. Irwin was appointed Deputy Commissioner for North Newton in June 1915.

He was the organizer for the house to house canvass in aid of the Belgians, and took charge of the scouts for the various Red Cross and Liberty Loan drives. He thoroughly believes that the Scout training is the best training for boys for good citizenship, and believes in the use of the resources furnished by the boys' energy and ambition, for community service in addition to activities which interest them in outdoor life.

Mr. Irwin has been a member of the Greater Boston Council and Federation for five years. Despite his business connections and other activities, which are given below, he has found time to devote to the future citizens of Newton, and yet almost every man approached by the scout organization to take charge of a group of boys, says he is "too busy". ## POVERTY PARTY

Enjoyable Affair at Hunnewell Club on Tuesday Night

Masquerade Poverty Ball was held at the Hunnewell Club on Tuesday night. This was a very informal affair, members being asked to come in the oldest clothes they happened to have.

The Grand March began at nine o'clock, and was led by Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, wearing a domino and mask, and Mr. Ralph V. Angier who was dressed as a farmer with long whiskers, high boots and overalls.

The unmasking took place after the Paul Jones and many were the surprises.

There were a great many interesting costumes. The first prize was won by Mrs. Webster V. Jones who wore a costume made entirely from the supplements of the Sunday newspapers. Mr. Edward Hills of Brookline won the first men's prize because of the oddness of his clothes.

Mrs. Joseph W. Gerrity of Church street made an effective little girl in her gingham dress and sun bonnet, and Miss Doris Tracey wore a most interesting and unique costume made of strips of black silk stocking.

Mr. Frank P. Scofield made a hit as a red-headed coon, and Charles H. Barney, in a Prince Albert, escorted a very charming girl who proved to be a boy. Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson was effectively dressed in a gown made from an old calico bag, a rope around her waist, and a red table cloth for a shawl.

POLICE NOTICE

Stuart Phippin and B. Kinsella, who were arrested last Friday night for breaking and entering Players' Hall were sentenced to the Concord Reformatory yesterday morning. The St. John's Guild was presenting a play in the hall at the time and it is alleged that the two boys entered the cloakroom and stole several watches and other articles of value. Evidence in court showed that most of the property was recovered either on the persons or in the homes of the accused. Kinsella was on probation from the Dedham Court, having been arraigned there on a charge of committing break in Wellesley some time ago.

There were a great many old-fashioned gowns, and gowns which, because of skillfully applied paper patches, seemed about to fall to pieces.

The dances were directed by Mr. Edwin F. Sawyer, the final one being an old-fashioned Virginia Reel. Refreshments were of the simplest character, consisting of ice cream cones.

GARCELON DEFEATED FOR DELEGATE

Sherburne and White Win Contest at Presidential Primary. Less than 3000 Votes Cast

The presidential primary in this city brought out a total vote of about 3900 from a registration of over 8900, indicating that the people of Newton are not greatly concerned over the various candidates for president.

The big four group composed of Senator Lodge, Speaker Gillett, former Senator Crane and Mr. E. H. Thurston, lead the independent candidates in this city by a substantial margin. Senator Lodge was high man with a total of 2241 votes, and Mr. Thurston was low with 1147, the next highest to Mr. Thurston and the leader of the independents was former Lieut. Governor Frothingham, who had 860. Former Gov. McCall was third from the last with 733 and Mr. Wood of Cambridge was low man with 219, Tom Lawson running next to last, and next in order to his friend Mr. McCall.

For district delegates, the group ticket of Mr. White of Newton and Gen. Sherburne of Brookline won in the Congressional district, altho Mr. Garcelon of Newton lead the field in Newton. Mr. Garcelon had 1520 here to 1346 for Mr. White and 1221 for Gen. Sherburne. Fales, the only avowed Wood delegate on the ticket had 763.

For alternates, the group ticket of Messrs. Young of Weston and O'Leary of Medway were way ahead of Mr. Crossman, the independent. Mr. Young received the second highest vote in the entire city.

The primary passed off without the slightest trouble, the bulk of the vote being cast as usual in the morning hours before the men went to Boston. The returns were received early at City Hall, as the ballot was not hard to count, the entire vote being in before nine o'clock.

The Democrats took even less interest in the primary than the Republicans, only 141 votes being cast in the whole city.

For delegates at large, Walsh had 106, Long 83, Pelletier, 101 and Doherty 96, O'Connell, the independent having but 43.

For district delegates, Coakley had 83, Hall 70 and Duane 37. For district alternates, Daley had 96, O'Donnell, 94.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 4. Troop 4, thru the efforts of Assistant Scoutmaster Lichten-thaler, has secured the use of a cabin on the banks of the Charles, and every Saturday the boys are going there and building, furniture, bunks, and putting the place in order. There is the chance that another cabin nearby may be obtained, thus offering a chance for more boys to go at a time. Great times are being had at this camping spot, and the troop is growing in strength as a result.

Troop 13. This troop has recently added some new members, and is now engaged in getting equipment together for the camping season. A trip next Saturday to the scout land in Dover is being planned.

Troop 5 is getting down to work, having a Court of Honor last night at their headquarters. Several camping trips are planned by Scoutmaster Mansur. Owing to a reorganization of the troop there are a few vacancies for some real, red-blooded boys to join this troop. Any interested should apply Friday night, at the Playground house, Newton Center, to Scoutmaster Mansur.

Troop 8 is holding an overnight hike under the leadership of Commissioner Irwin and Assistant Scoutmaster Copping to the Scout land in Dover. At their last meeting, Executive Talbot visited the troop and talked to the boys about camping life.

The scout office has received samples of a very fine camp hatchet which sells for $2.00 and also a pup tent costing $2.30 for both halves. Mr. Talbot has made a pack harness, which can be made by the scouts at a cost of about 25 cents which he would be glad to show to any interested.

NEW SOUTH SIDE SCHOOL

More than two hundred Newton residents attended a meeting held under the supervision of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands for the purpose of taking some action that would alleviate the present congested conditions in the elementary and high schools in the Newtons.

Arguments as to how to solve the high school situation occupied the greater part of the meeting. Most of those present voted in favor of the motion for a new high school to be erected on the South Side. The matter will be placed before the Board of Aldermen for action.

While the elementary school situation was not discussed to any great extent, Ulysses G. Wheeler, superintendent of the Newton schools, stated that in view of the fact that the number of pupils will increase instead of lessen, three new elementary schools are an absolute necessity.

The question of portable schools to relieve the situation in the elementary grades was raised. Superintendent Wheeler stated that no less than ten portable structures were needed at once, if the pupils of the graded schools were to receive full benefits.

Three projects were presented by E. S. Browne, president of the Improvement Association, as suggestions which would right the present congestion. They follow:

1.—Enlarging the present high school.

2.—Establishing a new high school on the South Side.

3.—The organization of a junior high school.

While the proposed erection of the new South Side high school received the majority of votes, the junior high school, in the minds of some, would be as likely a solution to the situation.

The establishment of a junior high school would embrace the seventh and eighth grade pupils and those of the first year of high school. The courses suggested would be modern languages, pre-vocational and commercial courses.

Dr. Ballou, assistant superintendent of the Boston schools, spoke of the advantages and disadvantages of junior and senior high schools. He spoke most favorably of the junior high school system, saying that it has a tendency to keep the pupils at school for a longer period.

Relative to enlarging the present High School arguments were advanced showing that in order to provide the necessary addition and the much needed gymnasium the cost would be approximately $500,000 each. The opinion of those present was that the new South Side building would be preferable as it would not cost much more than this figure.

Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, who presented the motion which will be placed before the Board of Aldermen, spoke at length on the Junior High School project.

W. B. Wood reported to the meeting that the Newton Upper Falls residents were unanimous for enlarging the present high school building. He said that by so doing centralization would still be maintained.

During the discussion figures were produced wherein it showed that 600 additional pupils are enrolled in the Newton High School this year, which is 300 more than in any previous year.

Other speakers included Mrs. Walker, Edmund C. Johnson, Hiram Miller and Albert Mellan. President Browne presided.

BREWER-KNAPP

Owing to the serious illness of Rev. Arthur May Knapp of Boston the marriage of his daughter, Miss Ayame Marion Knapp, to Allen F. Brewer of West Orange, N. J. took place quietly Saturday afternoon at the bedside of Mr. Knapp, who is a patient in a hospital in Arlington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Julian C. Jaynes of West Newton, and afterward an informal reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Freeman, 833 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, for relatives and the more intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. Following a brief honeymoon the young couple will reside probably in the South, where Mr. Brewer expects to be sent by The Texas Company with which he is associated. The bride is a graduate of the Misses Allen's School at West Newton. She was born in Japan.

A CORRECTION

In the account of the public hearing before the Board of Aldermen as given in last week's Graphic it was unfortunately made to appear as if the criticism of Rev. R. L. Rae of the North Church applied to Victory Field. Such, however, was not the intention. Mr. Rae spoke of the appreciation of the people in that part of the city for Victory Field, and the good games, and order there last summer. His criticism was entirely concerning the only place where Sunday ball could be played in Newton, if the Board should give its consent, that is, on the Allison playground, better known in that part of the City as the "Pit." The law does not allow Sunday games on Victory Field, so that field was not under consideration.

Mr. Rae has only the highest praise for the improvements made by the Saxony people along California and Chapel streets.

VICTORY AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The members of the Central Congregational Church at Newtonville are rejoicing over the remarkable victory of last Sunday morning. In addition to the $7000 assigned as their share of the Congregational World Movement, the church accepted the quota for the Pilgrim Memorial Fund and decided, also, to pay in the cash the equity on the new Manse just purchased at 40 Foster street.

A committee of twenty-one with Rev. D. Brewer Eddy as chairman made a preliminary canvass securing several large gifts and at the close of Mr. Lichliter's sermon, Mr. Eddy made an appeal to the congregation for a total of $20,000. Within fifteen minutes pledges were received which amounted to $16,000 and by the middle of the week the entire amount was secured through the solicitation of absent members and interested friends. This is the largest sum payable within the calendar year ever raised at one time by the church and is all the more remarkable because the regular budget of the church had been almost doubled to cover the aggressive program adopted by the church at its annual meeting.

The Manse, which was formerly the Rand house, owned by Mrs. Nickerson is being repaired, decorated and partially furnished at the expense of the church and when ready for occupancy about May 10th it will be one of the most attractive parsonage homes in New England.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club held the annual meeting at the Newton Club house with a business meeting at 10.30, reception at 12.30 and luncheon at one o'clock.

The President, Mrs. Bernard Early, was assisted in receiving by two past presidents, Mrs. G. W. St. Amant and Mrs. Robert Gorton and by Mrs. G. G. Phipps, an honorary member. The guests of honor were Mrs. Irving O. Palmer and Mrs. Hector Holmes of Waban, a grand-daughter of Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, one of the founders of the club.

During the luncheon pleasing selections were rendered by the Forte Trio and vocal selections by Miss Houston, a pupil of the West Newton Music School, whose singing was a delightful surprise to all.

The usual reports of chairmen of committees proved very interesting. The election of officers added the names of three new directors to the list of last year, namely, Mrs. G. M. Holmes, Mrs. C. F. Jones and Mrs. F. A. Cole. The meeting closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

One year of successful work of the Newton Community Club was reviewed at the annual meeting held on Thursday, April 22nd at the Hunnewell Clubhouse. Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, the president, carried on the meeting in an admirable manner introducing music here and there in way to keep everyone interested, so there was not a dull moment. The reports showed that even though it was the first year much has already been accomplished and a good foundation has been laid upon which to build in the succeeding years. Mrs. George Angier made an appeal for the Pomroy Home, that the members be interested in it, to help in any way they could. The Club chorus sang an original song words and music by Mrs. Edward Wheeler, who accompanied on the piano. Another original song was "God Bless Massachusetts," written by Miss May Beaman Seales to the tune, "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Mrs. Edward B. Botsford gave two whistling solos, "The Mocking Bird" and the Mexican Dance, "My Bonnie" was sung by the club and the chorus gave two selections at the close. During the year the club gave $25 to the American Committee for Devastated France and $5 to the Sailors' Haven for the May festival and at this meeting appropriated $200 more to the following objects: Newton Welfare Bureau, $25; Pomroy Home $25; West Newton Music School $25; Newton Hospital $25; Y. M. C. A. $25; Stone Institute $20; Stearns School Centre $20; Newton District Nursing Association $20; Hospital Social Service League $15. The total contributions were about ten percent of the gross income of the club. The year has closed with ample to meet all expenses with a substantial balance for a rainy day. The club now numbers about 580.

After the business meeting there was an informal social hour with tea served by the social committee, Mrs. Loren D. Towle, chairman. All present felt eminently satisfied with the results of this first year and look forward to further success the coming season. These officers were elected for 1920-1921: President, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith; Vice Presidents, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, Miss Edith Jamieson, Mrs. Sterling Elliott; recording secretary, Mrs. Aldrich Taylor; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen F. Hull; treasurer, Miss Emma E. Walker; auditor, Miss Rose Loring; directors for three years, Mrs. Charles B. Beason, Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs.

On April 26th the Monday Club of Newton Highlands held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe. The club has been somewhat re-organized, feeling that the larger Woman's Club is now doing the work of the community and it will hereafter continue as a study club with merely sufficient officers to carry on its work. For this reason it has withdrawn from the Newton Federation.

It has been decided to study Norway next season. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. George W. Barker; vice-president, Mrs. C. H. Keeler; secretary, Mrs. F. S. Fairchild; treasurer, Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett; auditor, Mrs. Henry E. Williams. The club voted $5 to the Children's Fund of the Serbian Relief.

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands held a very successful annual meeting in the chapel of the Congregational Church on Tuesday afternoon. There were the usual annual reports of officers and committees. In connection with the election of officers a straw vote for President of the United States was taken with the result that Hoover received 42 and Wood 59, with scattering votes divided among five or six candidates. At the close of the business session there was an hour of moving pictures, Enoch Arden and a comedy being put on the screen. The women united with the Men's League of the church in the annual supper, Dr. Franklin W. White, the speaker of the evening, and Mrs. White being guests of honor. Dr. White's talk upon "Food Fads" was most interesting. He discussed the nutritive value per pound of various kinds of food, pointed out the amount of nutriment per 25 cents worth of food, and compared each to the food value of a slice of bread and butter, and a glass of milk.

The club has given to the following philanthropic objects: May Alden Ward Memorial, $10; Newton Hospital Social Service, special case, $20; Newton Hospital, $60; West Newton Music School, $25; carfare for Newton Highlands children to the Art Museum for story-telling, $20; Barnard School, $25; Social Service League, $50; Twombly House dispensary, $25; Newton Upper Falls Well Baby Clinic, $25; milk and crackers for Hyde school, $25; prize for covers for Year Book to children of seventh and eighth grades, $7.25; membership in Boston Museum of Fine Arts, $10. The club has also purchased Liberty Bonds to the value of $250.

The election resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Grosvenor D.W. Marcy; vice-presidents, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe; recording secretary, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charlton D. Miller; treasurer, Mrs. Fred G. Sanford; auditor, Mrs. Albert H. Elder; directors for two years, Mrs. Harlan J. Maynard, Mrs. Marion B. Morse; for one year, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchison.

Nothing daunted by a torrent of rain the members of the Social Science Club were transported in comfort to the Commonwealth Country Club on Wednesday morning for the annual business meeting and luncheon. As usual the reports of the committees showed much valuable work accomplished in a quiet way—the working for better motion pictures, a careful watch for the needs and conditions in our local school buildings, supervision of the school gardens, gifts of books on conservation, trees, etc., to the agricultural department library at the Vocational School, the following up of legislative measures endorsed by the club and a very large appropriation of money for philanthropic objects. These gifts include: Near East $65, Anti-Tuberculosis Seals, $25, War Children's Christmas $13.25, Child Labor Committee, $10, doctors' and nurses' room at Bigelow School $30, Sailors' Haven, $55, New-Thrift Exposition $35, Stearns School Centre $250, Newton Hospital $100, Welfare Bureau $50, West Newton Music School $25, Newton Hospital Social Service League $15, Hampton Scholarship $70 and special individuals $373, a total of $1,096.25.

But the Social Science Club can also play. After the luncheon Mrs. Sterling Elliott acted as toastmistress. Mrs. Wolcott Calkins delivered what she called her "Swan Song" in her response to the toast "Our Charter Members," paying tribute to the foundation laid by Mrs. J. Herbert Sawyer, Mrs. Henry W. Wellington, Mrs. Francis B. Hornbrooke, Mrs. Lincoln R. Stone, who with herself and her daughter, Miss Mary W. Calkins, comprised the six original members. Mrs. Fred H. Tucker in her own amusing fashion with the aid of the Oulja Board set forth "The Future" in what she styled "Great-Grandmother's Doggerel." The club was then invited to an adjoining room to learn of the past of the members themselves under the delightful direction of Mrs. Alfred W. Fuller, who by the aid of the radiophone threw upon the screen pictures of the members in embryo state or more properly speaking their tender years ranging from sixteen months to twenty years or more. Much merriment resulted, as may be imagined, when the "conservation" member appeared in sleeves of enormous proportions, when an infant in the arms of her mother appeared, both now members of the club. Space forbids further details. These officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Harry Lutz; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. George E. Merrill, Mrs. F. B. Stanley, Mrs. C. H. Patton, Mrs. Franklin Smith, Mrs. Herbert Walley, Mrs. William H. Mitchell; Recording Secretary, Miss Miriam Drury; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Wm. F. Hollings; Treasurer, Mrs. John M. Woodbridge; Auditor, Miss Georgia H. Emery; Chairman Board of Directors, Mrs. Irving U. Townsend; Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell, Mrs. Harry A. Nealley, Mrs. Warren K. Lewis.

encourage the birds; feeding them, housing them, that is putting up houses in which they may nest and giving them a chance to bathe and drink in the summer. The only practical bird-bath, he said, is one having sloping sides that birds may walk into... for they do not like to dive immediately into deep water. Bird houses should have a small hole about 1 1/2 inches in diameter and away from the prevailing winds.

After a box luncheon the session was resumed at the Town Hall with community singing. Mr. Albert Jenks of the Middlesex Farm Bureau gave a most interesting demonstration of the pruning of small fruit. The grape he said needs much pruning, three-fourths of all of last year's canes should be cut away. The more you prune the grapes the larger they will be. The average person hesitates to prune them enough. August and early September are the best times to prune the berry bushes almost immediately after they have borne their fruit. Old canes should be cut away clear to the ground. The past winter has been very hard for the fruit trees. The field mice have girdled innumerable trees, probably there has been a half million dollar damage by them alone. The speaker showed the different ways in which grafting is done today and particularly interesting was his demonstration of the bridge grafting being performed on the girdled trees with the hope of saving them.

The remarkable feature of the program was the talk upon "Old New England Gardens" by Mr. Loring Underwood. The slides used for illustrations were photographed in color and it is hard to imagine anything more beautiful than some of them. Those pictures alone were worth all the effort of the trip to Winchester. Views of the Sargent gardens in Brookline, in Arnold Arboretum, in the Harvard Botanical gardens, and many others were shown.

Any one who reads what Mr. Irwin has found time to do in scout work, and the many things he does besides his business can hardly say he is as busy as Commissioner Irwin.

Mr. Irwin is Valuation Engineer of the Boston and Albany R. R. and has been with the New York Central Lines for 28 years in the operating and engineering departments. Before coming to Boston, eight years ago, he was Chief Engineer of the Rutland R. R.

He is a graduate in Civil Engineering of the University of Pennsylvania and, during the past few years has been President of the New England Alumni Society of this college. He was very active in preparation work for two years before we entered the war, and was a member of the First Corps Cadets' Business and Professional Men's Military Training School, and was President of the Rifle Club of that organization. He was active in the military mobilization of the railroads and was chairman of the New England Railroad Club Committee on that work. Since the beginning of the war he has been President of the Home Association of the 102nd Machine Gun Battalion, formerly the Massachusetts Cavalry.

He is also a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Railway Engineers Association, the New England Railroad Club, the New York Railroad Club, and is a vestryman of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

He has four sons, all of whom were first-class scouts, and three of whom served in the army during the war. One of them, Robert M. Irwin, who served in the 26th division, is now assistant Scoutmaster of troop 1 Newton, after nine years' service in scouting.

GARCON—NORLE

One of the most popular brides of the season was Miss Eleanor Gertrude Horan of this city, who was married to William Garcon of Medford, April 11th, in the rectory of the Church of Our Lady, by the Rev. L. W. Slattery. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rose H. Horan, and the best man was J. Frank Murphy, of Newton.

At the former residence of the bride, 24 Green street, there was a reception attended by relatives and friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Garcon left for a trip to New York and Atlantic City. They will be at home after May 1.

The Newton Group of Libraries including besides Newton, Watertown, Weston, Wayland, Framingham, South Natick, Natick, Needham, Wellesley, Waltham and Sherborn, met at the Newton Public Library, Tuesday at 10 A.M. About forty representatives were present. The Newton Branch, acting as hostess, furnished the luncheon, the committee being Miss Alice F. Emery, Miss Helen Luitweiler, and Mrs. Lillian D. Shore.

The program included an address by Mr. John G. Moulton of Haverhill, who spoke on the "Peace Time Program". He also showed pictures illustrative of the Library work during the war. All of the books supplied to the K. of C. the Y.M.C.A. etc. were distributed through the American Library Association.

The work done during the war was of such high character and met such a need, that it has been decided to continue the work during peace time. The program includes distribution of books to ex-service men, coast guard stations, Merchant Marine, light houses and light ships, Public Health Service Hospitals, Penal and Charitable Institutions. It also includes Library extension to rural sections, books, especially written for our New Americans, special books for the Blind—these books have now been standardized in type so that one library may borrow from another wherever there is a need and the continuing of the Public Library in Paris. This Library has done much towards presenting American ideals to the French people. Miss Jane Brown of Cleveland, also spoke of the work in the Navy at New-nort News.

BUSINESS WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY

That the shrewd, far-sighted, clever woman, is taking her rightful position in the business and social world is a matter of every day fact. She is no longer to be kept in the background by the backward wave of the hand of her lord and master whom wise suggestions annoys quite some, because he thinks that the trifling matter of cost each year which will absolutely and positively protect and care for the woman in her advanced years will be so much less pin money for him to spend each day. But the woman has the confidence now to declare herself. She is well aware that 85 per cent of all male adults fail to establish even a permanent basis for an income. She is aware that 33 1/3 per cent of all widows are left without the necessities of life, and 75 per cent. without the comforts. The woman of today will see to it that she is no longer left to the mercy of cold and fickle charity in her advanced years. She will take advantage of the WOMAN'S SPECIAL POLICY, which it has taken years of expert study to perfect, for the special protection of women. There can be possibly no such condition as disappointment, its perpetual working is that of an endless chain.

ENQUIRE FOR PARTICULARS

The two upper courts of the Neighborhood Club are now ready for tennis, and two will be available in the near future. The privileges of the courts are for the Waban Neighborhood Club, their families and guests. There will be Senior and Junior tennis members.

ALLIES RELIEF ASSOCIATION
The Newton South Allies Relief Association held a tea in Trinity parish rooms, Newton Centre, on Wednesday and presented the parish with a tablet in recognition of the use of the rooms for the last three years. Mrs. Guilford M. Stuart, the president, presented the tablet to Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, who replied fittingly.

A citation was also read from the ambulance in France which the society supported during the war. A History of the Society has recently been published, which will be of much interest. Among the contributions which the society has given is money for the maintaining of a Quiet Room at the Hospital at Rheims. During the last year of its existence the society raised $1000 a month. It contributed $2000 towards the All-Newton bed at Rheims.

Dr. Sullivan suggested that the society meet once a year in order to keep together as a unit.

The floral decorations were very beautiful, consisting of pinks and roses. The officers of the society poured. About 200 were present.

READ YOUR FORTUNE

in your Savings Bank book. Get out that little book and look it over. What does it show? Is there a long list of regular deposits, did you start right and keep it up or has resolution wavered? That little book is the surest fortune teller, it forecasts your future, it indicates a life of work and worry—or—it indicates comfort and satisfied ambition later on. Look that book over often. Bring it here often, even if the sum you bring with it is small.

Upper Falls

—Mr. and Mrs. John Yates will soon remove to Norfolk.

—Mrs. E. Gauthier is seriously ill at the Newton Hospital.

—Private Edward Campbell is home from the Regular United States Army, on a furlough.

—Miss Ethel Proctor is recovering from injuries sustained during a recent auto accident.

—The Rev. Dr. MacLure of the Grace Church of Newton, conducted the services at the Stone Institute. He gave a very interesting sermon, and his boys' choir which accompanied him, sang several selections.

—A whist party and dance was held at the Forester's Hall last Wednesday evening, under the personal superintendence of Mrs. Melia, and Mrs. Doyle, for the benefit of the building fund for the Catholic Woman's League.

—Miss Nora Coughlin of this village and Mr. Richard Conroy of Hyde Park were united in marriage at the Catholic Church last Wednesday. Miss Barbara Coughlin was bridesmaid and breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the family. After the honeymoon, which will be at Niagara Falls, the bride and groom will reside in South Boston.

—Miss Adeline Tomasina Valentine of this village and Mr. Raymond G. Capobianco were united in marriage at the Pompei Church by the Rev. Fr. De Mille on Wednesday. The bride was most attractive in a white satin dress, with a rich wreath of orange blossoms. Miss Florence De Fazio of Needham was bridesmaid and Miss Sara O'Hara was maid of honor. A reception was held at her home on Thurston road to a wide circle of friends and relatives. The bride and groom will spend an extended honeymoon in Niagara Falls and Washington and the many friends all join in wishing them every possible joy in the future.

BENEFIT FOR MOUNT HOLYOKE ENDOWMENT

Last Friday evening the Waban Neighborhood Clubhouse was filled with enthusiastic friends for the performance of the 47 Workshop Play, "Three Pills in a Bottle," which was given by alumnae of Mount Holyoke College for the benefit of the Three Million Dollar Fund. The Alumnae Glee Club sang and the play went off with snap. The playlet by Anatole France, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," completed the program. Those who had parts in the latter were Mrs. and Miss Campbell of Boston; Mrs. Eleanor Leete and Miss Hilda Jones of Newtonville. Sports hats, a specialty with the Waban alumnae, were on sale, also the Mary Lyon dolls and a smaller kind, as well as candy. A substantial sum was netted for the fund.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

TWENTY-ONE GRA... ..inf.
HED OF COL... ..ooos etetp

One exhibit at the Thrift Exposit-tion was inadvertently omitted from the account last week, that of the Commission for the Blind, which was under the supervision of the Social Science Club. In the new arrangement and consolidation of commissions, this commission is now the Division of the Blind Department of Education and has charge of the adult blind throughout the State with workshops at Cambridge. At the Exposition there were samples of their goods on sale and most interesting of all, a blind woman working at a sewing machine and a blind man operating a typewriter and talking machine, by which he was receiving dictation. The possibilities of the handicapped people are remarkable and the attitude which seeing people should have toward them, we are told, is not that of compassion and pity, but of plain commonsense, treating them as if they were possessed by all their senses, making allowance, of course for their affliction. An anecdote, which was told by a blind man, illustrates, perhaps, the attitude which they themselves prefer to have taken toward them. A young blind man entered a crowded street car in Boston one day where passengers were standing all through the aisle. Some kindintentioned woman upon discovering he could get no seat exclaimed, "Oh, give the poor blind man a seat." The man replied, "Excuse me, madam, I'm not blind in my feet." Needless to say he did not accept the proffered seat.

State Federation

Delegates who have not already secured their reservations for the annual meeting of the State Federation at Springfield will do well to do so immediately, for already word has been received that the Hotel Kimball, which will be the headquarters for the executive board, has been entirely taken. There are, however, comfortable quarters to be had in other hotels, so none need forego the pleasure of the meeting on that account. The sessions will be held in the First church, Court Square, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 18, 19 and 20. Further details concerning the program will be given next week.
Wednesday is the big day and if one is going for but one day that will be the one to select, as the election will take place then.

Newton Federation

The Twenty-fifth anniversary of the Federation will be observed next Tuesday, May 4th. The morning session will open at 10.30 and will be given up to the customary reports of officers and committees and the combined report of the work of the clubs comprising the Federation will again be given by Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden.
Those who heard her last year will recall the spicy way in which it was given and what an interesting feature it proved. Luncheon will be served under the direction of the social committee at one o'clock.
In the afternoon there will be community singing under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding. Mrs. B. E.

Taylor will read from the History of the Federation and each administration will contribute some high light of the period to the program. Every president of a club needs to know the background of the club movement as represented by the Newton Federation in order to get proper perspective upon her own work and this review of Twenty-five years furnished an opportunity she cannot afford to lose.
Let us be there in large numbers.

CHANNING ALLIANCE

Tuesday morning found the women of Channing Alliance on hand in large number for the annual meeting and luncheon. The customary good work has been done by the committees the past year, though the severe winter has had its effect here as it has everywhere. After the usual annual reports Miss Frances M. Dad-mun spoke for the Sunday school.
A dainty luncheon was served by a committee of ladies and was enjoyed by all who partook. Not a small amount of spring cheer was brought by the lovely flowers upon the tables, pink sweet peas predominating. After luncheon Mrs. J. K. Whiting of Brookline, the director of The Alliance of Unitarian Women in direct charge of the Channing Branch, brought congratulations and suggestions for work another year, after which Mrs. Edward E. Allen gave a comprehensive account of the founding and work of the Perkins Institution for the Blind. Her account of Dr. Howe's work in training Laura Bridgman was particularly thrilling.
The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Harry Lutz; vice-presidents, Miss Martha Lathe, Miss Helen L. Wells, Mrs.
Robert Howard; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Porter Russell; corresponding secretary, Miss Catherine R.
Howard; treasurer, Mrs. Harry N.
Milliken; auditor, Miss Clara G.
Soule; director for two years, Mrs.
Arthur O'Connor; for three years,
Mrs. Edward T. Mellus.

at 99 Church street, Newton, Miss Gladys Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Moore, was married to Mr. Robert Johnson Deighton of Boston. Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., Pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, performed the ceremony, to which only relatives and a few intimate friends were invited guests. The house was tastefully decorated, with a color scheme of yellow and white, jonquils being in profusion. The ushers were the bride's three brothers, Dr. Howard Moore, and Messrs. Harold and Walter Moore. Among the many beautiful gifts which were received was a tea set of gold band china that belonged to the bride's grandmother.
After May 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Deigh-ton will be at home to their friends at 110 Lawrence street, Medford.

Paint will save your Farm Tools.

"UNCLE SAM" wants you to take better care of your farm tools—and in that way help make up for the shortage which exists.

"The annual rust and decay loss in this country due to a lack of paint is greater than the fire loss." Farm tools contribute their share to this loss.

If you own some idle implement—sell it to some one who has use for it. But paint it first (it will bring a better price).

Heath & Milligan Wagon and Implement Paint is suitable for the wood and metal parts of Plows, Manure Spreaders, Feed Cutters, Wagons, Reapers, Cultivators, Planters, etc., etc. A very useful paint to have about. A little goes a long way. It stops rust, decay and warping.

Like other Heath & Milligan Paint and Varnish Products (and there are over 50 for every purpose, about the farm and home) it can be identified by the large Dependable Trademark shown above—on the label of each package.

There is a free color card for each Dependable Paint Product.

GARDEN NEWS

Last Saturday was Arbor Day officially, but there is no reason why home gardeners should not continue the spirit of the day for several weeks. Many are the home grounds which can be very materially improved by the planting of shade trees, fruit trees and shrubbery.

A home gardener came into the office last week and stated that he got $300 more for a place which he had just sold because he had invested three years ago about $15 in a Rugosa rose hedge. Real estate men all are agreed that a place improved with a few dollars' worth of shrubbery brings enough more to pay a large interest on the investment.

Aside from its being good business to improve one's surroundings, shrubbery, flowers and trees cannot help but make us better citizens. There is something about nature which is truly religious and elevating. One's contact with nature always tends to improve ideals and make for happiness. Nice families, when selecting a location in which to reside, prefer locations where the neighbors keep their lawns tidy and in first-class condition, where there are lots of shrubbery and flowers. If one does not know just what to plant, it is well to discuss the matter with a local nurseryman from whom the shrubs are to be purchased. Excellent advice can in this way be obtained without additional expense. One should be careful to keep the lawn open and free from shrubbery and trees unless the lawn is very large, in which case an occasional tree is permissible. Ordinarily the shrubbery is used for borders and for banking against buildings.

More of the back-yard gardens should contain a succession of berries. The old-fashioned garden not only included vegetables, but all of the different kinds of berries, flowers, and small fruits. Berries are relished by nearly every family, and in recent years have become a very expensive possibility to have a small bed of strawberries, a few raspberry plants blackberries, currants, gooseberries, and ever-bearing raspberries and strawberries, and by so doing have berries fresh from the back-yard garden from July until frost comes in the fall.

The back-yard garden should also include asparagus and rhubarb. Strange to say about three out of every four home gardens do not include these two vegetables which everyone is so fond of early in the spring. Full directions will appear next week for the actual planting of asparagus, rhubarb, strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, currants, and gooseberries. Home gardeners should get their spades in and have their plants on hand.

The majority of the home gardeners are in the process now of spading, or having plowed, their gardens. Small portions in many gardens have already been spaded, in which have been planted some of the seeds which will stand the cool wet soil. Among the vegetables which may be safely planted at present are: fine beans, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, kale, lettuce, onions, onion sets, parsley, parsnips, early peas, radishes spinach and early turnips.

Most seeds are being planted somewhat thickly in order that the plants may be thinned out later to the desired distances. This is especially important when one is in doubt as to the germinating qualities of the seeds. There is nothing to be gained by sowing seeds before planting, and in fact the practice should be discouraged. New Zealand spinach is the only exception to this rule. This should be soaked in warm water over night. Seed potatoes should be soaked for 30 minutes in a solution of one ounce of powdered corrosive sublimate in 12 gallons of water. This is to kill many of the potato diseases found on the skin of the potato. Larger seeds should be planted 1 inch deep; smaller seeds not over one-half inch at this time of year. Fine pulverized soil should be placed over the seed and the soil firmed with the back of the hoe or by walking or rolling.

THE PASSING OF MRS. E. H. PINGREE

Mrs. Pingree passed into the great silence Saturday morning, April 24th, after suffering for nearly nine months. She leaves a husband, four children and five grand-children. The children are Mrs. William P. Fowler of Brighton; Mr. Herbert W. Pingree of Newton; Mrs. Melvin Patterson of Newton; and Mr. Arthur Pingree of Quincy. She also leaves three sisters and two brothers in Maine. Born at West Baldwin, Maine, fifty-five years ago, she was the daughter of Elias Merritt and Sarah Jane Noble. She came to Massachusetts thirty-five years ago and was the wife of Edward H. Pingree of Avon place, Newton. She was a faithful mother, a Christian woman and patient through her long sickness. She had a buoyant life and had a cheering word and a sunny smile for all her many acquaintances and friends. As the weary years go by her family will wonder how they are going to live without her but "she will not come this way again."

She was unusually intelligent and refined and the world was better for her having been with us so many years.

The funeral was on Tuesday at 2:30 P. M. The Rev. H. Grant Person of Eliot Church read from the 23rd psalm which was a favorite of hers. The quartet, Mr. Edward Bacon, Mrs. Arthur Tobey, Mrs. Porter and Mr. Beckwith rendered "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Meet Me There," "Lead, Kindly Light."

The pallbearers were Mr. Frank Tripp, Mr. Charles Barber, Mr. James Fessenden and Mr. W. P. Fessenden. There was a profusion of flowers, many friends and relatives, and among the rest, her brothers and sisters from Maine.

The interment was in the family lot in beautiful Newton Cemetery. Peacefully she sleeps and while many would roll back the years and have her with us once again it is probably better as it is.

Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eighth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty.

KEEP SCHOOLS OPEN

The need of the hour calls all who cherish American ideals to help create in the rising generation of voters a still greater vision of True Citizenship. Since coming out of the army hospital I feel that to help save the world from autocracy means to provide more education for all, or, at the very least, to make some available to all. I hope by the fall of next year to take up teaching again full time, but can't sit idly by in these critical hours without suggesting how the emergency may, in a degree, be met. The salary question is up to the public; it's up to American educators to see to it that every bit of available teaching power is put into use so that the thousands of children now without teachers may be taught. The public will be more apt to cooperate when it sees all children and adults receiving education.

In the emergency I suggest keeping schools open during the summer. (The following reasons are culled from Captain F. M. Hammett's article which appeared in the School Board Journal for May, 1919, entitled, "The All Year School in Mason City.")

The school year is divided into four quarters, of twelve weeks each—A, B and C classes, with promotion each quarter—twelve grades.

His reasons for favoring this agreement:

1. Not good business to allow a million-dollar investment to be idle, or unproductive, for three months.
2. No employment for most children in summer or at home.
3. The system would put the poor ahead faster.
4. Wages of high school graduates higher than grammar school graduates; therefore, better economic conditions for the masses.
5. By running the school the year around the students working their way through can choose the three months in which they can find the most lucrative employment.
6. Choice of seasons is more economical and democratic.
7. The forgetting during the three months is prevented.

In addition I suggest that inasmuch as there are thousands of untrained people teaching (in many cases even without high school training) college and even some high school undergraduates be allowed to take a hand at Americanizing, i. e., educating, our youth during the summer at least. College students would thus vitalize their college work, and more would enter the profession, at least for this period of great need. Many regular teachers wish to attend summer courses and would welcome this interchange. These are fruits of my own practical experience, given gladly that education may be made available to more potential citizens, because I believe democratic education is the savior of republics and of the whole world. For results,

HENRY BAXTER PARKER.

"A ROSE DREAM"

"A Rose Dream" is the name of a charming Fairy Operetta given last week Thursday night at the Central Church, Newtonville by "The Seven Little Sisters", one of the Mission Bands of the church, assisted by twenty others. The audience was a large and appreciative one.

When the curtain went up a beautiful forest scene was presented in which flowers and birds were conspicuous. Then came the elves, the roses, and the fairies who awaken "Little Rose", a mortal maid who has strayed into Fairyland.

The costumes were very effective, the roses in pink tissue paper gowns resembling petals, the elves in wood brown, and the fairies in dainty white with fairy wings, those of the Fairy Queen being especially beautiful.

The music throughout was tuneful and catchy, and there were several solos, one by Little Rose. Another by the Queen and another by Hop-O-My-Thumb. The latter was the impersonation of mischief and resembled Puck in "Mid-Summer-Night's Dream".

The giant "Forgot" and the Twins, "Can and Can't" introduced an element of comedy.

"Little Rose" did some very pretty dancing. In fact, it is difficult to pick out any one feature, so well were all the parts taken. Great credit is due the coach, Miss Marion Hardy, for her careful work.

Candy was sold during the acts, which together with the money for the tickets, will make it possible to send a substantial sum to Miss Sewall's School in Far-Off China.

Those who took part were as follows: Little Rose, Martha Willson, Hop-O-My-Thumb, Philippa Latey, Queen of the Fairies, Marion Young, Giant "Forgot", Olive Crawe, Twins, "Can" and "Can't", Ruth Baker and Ruth Giles, Door Rairy, Oliver Crawe, The Rosebud, Thelma Combs, Roses, Francesco Baker, Betty Richardson, Thelma Combs, Florence Hills, Ruth Giles, Ruth Baker, Frances Eddy, and Sally Wright; Fairies: Lucy Bloom, Dorothy Allen, Mary Wakefield, Gladys Brown, Ruth Loud, Patty Wright, Marjorie Trowbridge, The Elves were Myrtle Atwood, Edith Loud, Emily Dunleavy, Elva Bachmann, and Beatrice Camp.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

The following report of the Librarian of the Newton Free Library contains so much interesting matter that we print it in full:—

In writing this, the annual report of the Newton Free Library, I feel wholly lacking in material. Away as I was in library war service for nine months of the year I naturally cannot competently review the library's activities during that time. Yet, from the year's statistics, I can glean the fact that 1919 has been a banner year. The circulation figures reached the highest point, being 33,005 volumes above the year before. One wonders what figures mean. Library folk feel that libraries having an average circulation of four books per capita per year are fulfilling their mission. Here in Newton, according to the American Library Association standard of count in circulation, the average loan per capita is over 7.6 volumes. Yet on looking around we feel that there is more to be accomplished, and much more than we can hope to do in any one year. We see the possibilities which might be attained had we adequate holdings which were attractive, and adequate progress in library work. Yet in no village, except Newton corner, is the library structure such as would attract patronage. Newton possesses many well planned and equipped school buildings which are a pleasure to look upon. New ones are added from time to time. Yet in the library department the branch libraries are the same unattractive, inadequate rooms at school quarters which have been used from the beginning. There is perhaps reason for this. The library is a young institution that the school. Its place in the life of the community is not so keenly realized. Its development has been quiet so that it has hardly made a ripple on the life of the city. Yet it's progress has been steady, and it stands today ready to emerge as a necessary part of the city's life. Gradually its former agencies in stores have become branch libraries and reading rooms. The last agency is now a memory, having been superseded at Newton Lower Falls last June by the house-to-house delivery. The main library and four of its branch libraries distribute reading material on the north side of the city; while four other branches, together with the automobile house-to-house delivery service, care for the territory on the south side. Many might say that the city's residents were securing adequate library service, yet there are a number of small sections not now reached. Tho the library's circulation of books in Newton is nearly double the figure set as a good mark yet for us engaged in the work there seems no good reason why this should not be redoubled. This is our goal but in order to attain it we must have better and larger quarters. The anticipated use of the old Congregational church at West Newton and the inclusion of a library room in the new grammar school building in Waban are two steps in the right direction. Other sections also need better quarters. A suggestion is that utilitarian buildings are the best monuments to serve as memorials to loved ones killed or lost in the late war. A library building is the ideal medium for this purpose. It is to be hoped that the Board of Trustees will use its influence, either as a body or individually, toward the realization of some such permanent memorial. Realizing this we should request from the city government such appropriations as may be necessary to construct an adequate branch library at least every five years. I hesitate to think of the good which might be accomplished in Nonantum, both among the Americans and in Americanization work, if the library had the proper tools.

Also to reach our goal, we must pay such salaries as will enable us to attract and retain the best among library workers. The character of our work demands that we secure assistants who have been well trained in other libraries, or those who are just graduating from recognized library schools. To do this our grade of salaries should and must compare favorably with that of other libraries in this vicinity. In order to influence graduates of our own high schools to attend library schools, and thence come to this library, our salaries should be on par with those of the teachers of this city. Until they are we cannot expect to compete successfully with the schools, and much less with business.

During the war many young men used the library to obtain book bearings on the particular phase of war work in which they were engaged, and now these same young men rely upon us to furnish them material relating to their business or profession. The war introduced the library, either the home one or the one in camp, to many men who formerly did not realize the assistance which could be obtained there. Librarians have long acclaimed the library as the university of the people, the college for those who must enter a business life at an early age, but it was left for the war to bring this forcibly to the attention of the world, until now the library stands on a pinnacle heretofore unthought of. Shall we rest on our laurels or shall we strive toward the new goal already in sight? Surely the library in Newton will build up its collections and expand its work in order to fill that important niche in the life of today which the termination of the war has left to us. We take up the work of the new year with a lighter heart, but with a heavier realization of our duty to the community and the world at large.

SEA FEVER

"I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by;
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song
And a white sail's shaking,
And a gray mist on the sea's face
And a gray dawn breaking."

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagull's crying."
—John Massesfield.

"DAYLIGHT SAVING," PRODUCTION REDUCED

Mr. Editor, kindly permit me to bring to the front one view of the Daylight Saving question which, though not new, has not been emphasized as it merits. It is this, that while setting the clocks ahead an hour has been advocated by some as likely to increase production from gardens, evidence continues to come in that it will largely reduce production on the farms, that because of the difficulty of securing help on the farms, aggravated by the hour earlier that they quit work under the daylight saving system, they are sowing and planting much smaller areas and limiting their crops to what can be produced with but little if any outside help. One farmer gave the writer this illustration. Having been away during the middle of the day he returned a little after 3 P. M. actual time, 4 P. M. "Daylight Saving" time, to find that his men had all quit work, leaving a large field of hay spread out. It was in prime condition to be stored in the barn, but all he could do was to rake and heap what he could till sun-down. The next two days it rained, and much of the hay was spoiled. He then decided to sell his fifty odd cows and his horses, except what were needed for family use, plant only a garden, and sell the grass "on the ground," and take it easy. Of course the men found plenty of work elsewhere, but there was the loss of production on one large farm, except only the natural growth.

This is but one illustration among thousands that might be given, to show that the loss of production on the farms outweighs immensely the smaller gain in garden production as a result of the so-called "Daylight Saving" system. Thanks, Mr. Editor, for this space.

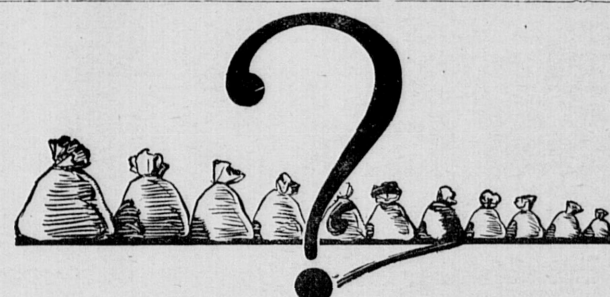

Spectator.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake
Horace Mann Notes

Health cards have again been sent home to the children's parents for the second time. Most all of the children in Grade VIII have gained a few pounds and a number have gained in height.

Report cards were distributed to the children Wednesday, April 28th for the sixth time this year. As it is drawing near the end of the year the children are all striving hard and are trying to bring their marks up so they may be promoted in June.

A very interesting play was given Monday afternoon by the third row in the eighth grade. It was entitled, "Nat's Reputation." The author was William Blakeney, a member of the eighth grade.

Grade VII had 100 per cent. in Spelling on April 22nd. This is the second time since the record was kept.

Mr. Caton and Miss Sanders came to the Sixth grade Monday and taught the pupils how to plant a garden, and to build a hot bed and a cold frame.

The Sixth grade are caning chairs (at the Stearns school) as a part of the Sloyd lesson.

Allen School

Mr. W. H. Hutton has been substituting for Mr. John W. Condon at the Allen School for the last few weeks, as Mr. Condon has been at home ill.

The Allen School is making plans to take down a part of the grove near the school, and so increase the size of the Athletic Field, making it about three times larger than at present.

The school enjoyed a visit last week from Mr. H. L. Colby of Chicago, who was a teacher in the school when Mr. Nathaniel Allen was in charge of the school. He entertained the boys with many pleasing reminiscences of the school in the old days.

The Allen School won over the Roxbury Latin School last week 5-1 and over St. Mark's 4-2.

Bigelow School

Miss Tewksbury's class leads this week in the value of Thrift Stamps bought, the value amounting to $29.75.

The playground is being used daily at recess for baseball by the Bigelow boys.

The Social Science Club has presented to the Bigelow School a couch and a blanket for use in the Doctor's room.

Lasell

A large and enthusiastic group of students visited the historical points of interest in Boston and Cambridge on Monday under the leadership of Mr. Charles F. Towne, Associate Principal.

On Wednesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Winslow gave a reception to the members of the school and friends. The entertainment consisted of songs by Miss Gertrude Tingley, and violin solos by Miss Warren, accompanied by her mother, Mr. W. H. Warren. Miss Tingley and Mrs. Warren are former Lasell girls, which made the program of unusual local interest.

Thursday afternoon the regular lecture period was filled by a member of the Consumers' League.

The young women are taking the strength tests in view to serving on one of the crews in the war canoes.

The Senior-Sophomore party will take the form of a picnic on the river, Saturday afternoon.

Lasell is very happy to have secured the Rev. William C. Gordon as the speaker at the Commencement Vespers on June 8th.

Challin School

Mr. Eaton, who is coach of the baseball team, expects to pick the team on Thursday, April 29th. It is possible that the team will play a practice game at that time.

Since Easter vacation the Eighth Grade has begun the study of algebra under the supervision of Mr. Carr.

The Fourth Grade visited the Hood Dairy Farm at Sudbury on Tuesday afternoon, April 27th. They were shown the methods of dairying and each child was treated to a cup of milk and some ice cream.

The sixth and seventh grades have a "Memorial Day Pageant" for the 30th of May.

The new work in science is the method of planting a garden. We expect to actually work as soon as we learn how.

Stearns School

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Mothers' Club on Monday night to enjoy the splendid program planned by the Social Committee. About 20 of the children of the club members took part and gave much pleasure with their dancing, singing and piano playing.

The Girls' Club completed a course in military and cooking last Tuesday evening. After the meeting, Miss Ruth Forknall was presented with a silver tea set by the club.

Another debate is planned for Friday morning by the eighth grade class. The much discussed subject in Newton—"Sunday Baseball" will be debated. The chairman of the meeting will be Edmund Quigley. The leader of the affirmative side, Thomas Quigley, assisted by Joseph Bryson, Jeannette Elachon, Dorothy Connolly, Paul Veno, Negative, Martha Dunleavy, leader; Henry Farrell, Emma Boisclair, Barbara Ryan, Melville Westgate. The judges, Miss Foley, Mr. Winslow and Mr. Holman.

The Boys' Club play, "The Magistrate" given Friday evening in the school hall was a splendid success. Dancing was enjoyed for a brief time after the performance.

The school baseball team lineup has been decided upon, and will play tomorrow.

Burr School

The eighth grade of the Burr School is planning a series of Geography trips to different industrial plants. Today they will visit one of the plants in Waltham.

Grade VII under the direction of Miss Seavey served a breakfast last week to several of the teachers. The manner in which it was served was very complimentary to the cooking class.

Mason School

On Tuesday morning, Mr. Herron, Educational Director, of the Savings Divisions of the Treasury Department gave most interesting and helpful talks to the pupils of the school on the subject "Thrift."

Health Clinic work began this week at the Mason School.

The Mason ball team won its first game with one of the Boy Scout nine rather easily. Both teams showed lack of practice.

The room captain ball and baseball season is in full swing, and the athletes are all happy.

All mothers are urged to request to come and hear her. There will be special music.

GYMNASTIC MEET

The annual gymnastic meet by the girls of the Newton High Schools took place last Friday in the gymnasium.

The program included floor work by all of the classes. This took the form of military marching, the girls in their midday blouses carrying themselves like true soldiers.

This was followed by hand travelling, window ladder, and rope ladder work, somersault, rope climbing box vault, and horizontal ladder work. In addition there were the buck vault, parallel bars, swing jump, and saddle.

With different groups of girls performing in different parts of the room at once, the interested spectator had necessarily to divide his attention.

Arch Goal Ball, and the Relay Races created great enthusiasm, especially as the Freshmen far outstripped the other classes losing, however, because of fouls.

The Freshmen gave a very interesting dance called the "Troika." This was an old folk dance, in which three girls represented horses driven by a fourth girl.

Among the interpretive dances were "The Butterfly" a very dainty dance illustrative of the catching of the butterfly and its final escape; the "Marguerites," in which the girls represented the picking of the flowers of that name; and "Little Bo-Peep." These were all given by the Sophomores.

"The Pipe of Pan," a most artistic production, Greek in attitude and posture, and "Dixie," a Southern dance typifying a Southern Belle, were the contributions of the Juniors and Seniors.

At the close of the exercises, the Misses Priscilla and Phyllis Bache, twins, presented Mrs. Peter J. D. Kuntz with a beautiful bouquet of red and white carnations.

MARSH-PARKS

Miss Edith Taber Parkis and Mr. Kirtland Marsh of Cross street, West Newton, was married at the home of the bride's parents, in Whitinsville, Mass., on Saturday, April 24th, at 6 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will make their home in New Kensington, Pa.

GYMNASTIC MEET

Mr. E. C. Adams of the Classical High School then read the announcements of the winning classes. There were no individual honors given.

In the final reckoning the Seniors won 58 points, the Sophomores, 28, the Freshmen, 24, and the Juniors 20. The judges were Miss Baxter of the Winsor School, Mrs. Richardson of Auburndale, Miss Alice Burdette of the Brookline Public Schools, and Miss Leslie Sawtelle of the Boston School of Physical Education.

Mr. Adams also gave a very eloquent plea for a new gymnasium. When it is realized that the present building is used by three High Schools for both class work and athletics, and that only half of the pupils can take gymnastics at all for lack of room, the need for additional gymnasiums is obvious.

The wheels of the go cart in which she was riding slipped off the curb on Tremont street and the young George F. Ryan had not seized the child promptly, she would have been thrown under the wheels of a passing automobile. The go-cart was wrecked. Officer Ryan has been commended for his good work.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Association will be represented by a strong track team this season. As soon as the weather moderates the men will get out on the cinder track and get into action. Plans are under way for a suburban Y. M. C. A. meet here Memorial Day A. M.

The last meeting of the Fellowship Club was addressed by Dr. Philip Sheppard. The club has had a most successful season under the leadership of Fred G. Howe, Chairman of the program committee.

The Annual Meeting and dinner of the Association will be held on Monday evening, May 3rd. Our guest and principal speaker will be Mr. L. W. Messer, General Secretary of the Chicago Association. Mr. Messer has a wonderful vision of the possibilities of Association work in his home city and throughout the world. He is a New Englander by birth and for a time was General Secretary of the Cambridge Association. Anyone interested in the Association is welcome to come.

The return match between the Hunnewell Club and the Newton Y. M. C. A. bowling teams was rolled on the Hunnewell alleys Monday evening. The Y. M. C. A. won the match three points to one for Hunnewell.

ITALIANS PARADE

For this program a sum of $2,000.00 is needed for a period of three years, after which it is hoped that the government may take over the work. The sum of $150,000 has been assigned to Massachusetts to raise before July 1st. For the City of Newton the quota will be $6,000.

It is for every man, woman, and child, to whom the Public Library has meant much to help in this good cause, that those who have come to our shores from other countries may have an opportunity, through good books especially adapted to their needs, of gaining an insight into American History, Government, and Ideals, and that this country may become truly democratic, for good government means the intelligent consent of the governed, with special privileges to none, and equal educational and political opportunities for all.

Charles James Fox.

Charles James Fox was one of the progressive of English politics, as well as one of the most brilliant orators and statesmen in the history of England. Like most thinking people of his day, he favored freedom of the American colonies and was constantly in opposition to the German king, George III, who was then sitting on the English throne.

Go Easy, Boys!

Rumor has reached us of unrest and impatience among our trade school pupils, who are eager to be sharing the high wages now being paid to labor. They are in a hurry, one might say, to exchange the heyday of youth for the pay day of adolescence.—Boston Transcript.

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Newton High Debating team contested against Somerville at Newton, and Brookline at Brookline last Friday night. The negative team which stayed at home did some fairly good work, and succeeded in beating the Somerville trio by a decision of 2-1. Wagner and Noyes of the Newton negative team were especially fine and were the main factors in giving the best presentation and argument. Somerville's affirmative team was represented by S. O. Maxwell, H. Shea, and Irving Edelstein, the last man giving the rebuttal. Mr. Palmer of the Newton Technical High acted as chairman and announced the subject which was, "Resolved that the Philippines should have immediate independence. One feature about the debate was that it was free, but even this did not bring a good crowd, as the management figured, and thus the hall was not more than one-third full. A dance followed the debate, which brought many more people, than the debate did.

The baseball team shut out Maiden on Saturday, April 24th in the style, giving Stanley Lyon another count in the victory column. Many fans seem to think that this pitcher being a recruit to most people, will eventually break his winning streak and lose his fine form because he has not had the experience. However, it must be remembered that Lyon has worked every summer for a number of seasons under Coach Dickinson at a summer camp and is therefore a well prepared player. He certainly is due to bring many more victories to Newton this year, and he undoubtedly will do so unless injuries or sickness stop him. Among the hard hitters of Saturday's game were, Lyon, Seavey, and Bjorkman, each of them hammering out enough hits to put Newton's two runs across the plate.

Brookline won the next victim on Tuesday, April 27th, when they were defeated 10-6. This game was certainly a poor one and an unlucky one, if any game ever was. Hodger, the leftfielder for Newton broke his leg and undoubtedly will be unable to play again this year. Kelley the Brookline pitcher, hurt his pitching hand severely and thus will be cut of the box for at least two weeks. No one seemed able to hit, the runs coming practically all through errors. Finally Newton came to the front, and with Lyon in the box for three innings the score of 10-6 was given in Newton's favor.

Thursday, April 29th, the Senior Class voted for the different class statistics, which is coming early this year, owing to the fact that the results are to be tabulated in the year book. There is a great deal of competition and the results will probably be very close.

The annual girls' Gym Meet was held last Friday afternoon in the Gym. All of the classes competed and gave an exceptionally good exhibition of gym work. The Seniors won the meet, because they gave the greater victory of the athletic. But even the other classes had some well drilled contestants, although they were not victors.

The tie for second place in the Suburban League was dissolved between Somerville and Newton High on Clafin Field, Newtonville, yesterday afternoon, when the former won 6 to 4 before a very large attendance.

It was a pitchers' battle with Stanley Lyon of Newton and Roland Barker of Somerville in the leading roles. Somerville gave Barker better support and hit Lyon freely. Newton would have had a better chance to win, but it gave Lyon poor support in the pinches. Incidentally it was the first reverse of the Spring for Lyon.
